

French to Powhatan, by Ashton Morris

French → Powhatan (Spanish, French, Portuguese, Galician, Old Norse, Icelandic, Dutch, German, English, Japanese, Korean, Chinese)

Core Vocabulary

1. Etre = Ser; Zijn; Sein; ある Aru, いる Iru
2. Medo (Portuguese)
 - a. 恐怖 kyōfu = fear / dread
3. Air = Ar; kuki 空気
4. Aura = Ar
5. Aujourd'hui = raioawk; dia; dagr (Icelandic); dag (Dutch); kyo 今日
6. Nuit = noche; noite
7. Arrogant = 高慢な kōman na; arrogante
 - a. 高慢 (kōman) – noun/adjective stem meaning arrogance, haughtiness, pride
 - b. 高 (kō) = high, tall
 - c. 慢 (man) = conceit, pride
 - d. な (na) – adjectival particle used to turn certain nouns into na-adjectives, making them modify a noun.
8. Armee = 軍勢 gunzei (army / host)
9. Ville = kyo 京
10. Capitale = kyoto 京都
11. Bleu = accoondews; ao 青
12. Present = Masu; genzai 現在
13. Super = subarashi 素晴らしい
14. Autre = Uta/Otta (utta/otta-san); otro; otoru オートル
15. Avec = con, met (Dutch); to と, 一緒に (issho ni)
16. Donc = entonces; dus (Dutch); てから (te kara)
17. Bizarre = bizarre; kimyona 奇妙な, 変 (hen) generally means "strange," "odd," "peculiar," or "weird"
18. Dificile = esepannuhwh; erfitt (Icelandic); muzukashi 難しい
19. Facil = facile (Italian); kantan 簡単
20. Impossible; fukano 不可能
21. Possible; kano 可能
22. Juste = justo; tada ただ (tada no ~)
23. Libre = thai [gwenummeraan]; muryo 無料
24. Quand = gwen; itsu いつ
25. Grave = south; kibishi いつ
26. Sick = south; byoki 病気

27. Jeune; wakai 若い
28. Poor = poh; mazushi 貧しい
29. Propre = propio; jibun no 自分の
30. Rouge = Pohcoons; ata 赤
31. Sale = moieh; sucio; kitanai 汚い
32. Dirt = keshacaiu; dato ダート
33. Calm = tranquilo; Heion (平穩), Heisei (平静), Shizuka (静か)
34. Triste = maskihaan; kanashi 悲しい
35. Vide = vacío; tómt (Icelandic); leeg (Dutch); 空 (kara); 空っぽ (karappo); 空虚 (kuukyo)
36. Gone = maentchatemayoac; kieta 消えた
37. Here = miske; gwa (maangairagwatowh); koko ここ, kochi (from Japanese)
38. Bonne = wingan; bon; 良い (yoi), 最高 (saikou), "sugoi" (すごい), ii
39. Mauvais = Mal; Riapoke; warui 悪い
40. Manger = mecher; comer; taberu 食べる, tabemasu 食べます, tabemasen 食べません, tabete 食べて, tabeteiro, o tabeteiro
41. Toute = Cheisk / Tutta / Todo; subete 全て; Minna (みんな)
42. Gros = Wiraohawh; shibo 脂肪
43. Two = Nge; 二 ji
44. Faux = Feka; fake; nisemono 偽物
45. Pipe = Apo-khan
46. Cat = tchoongwai; neko 猫
47. Heureaux = Happy; Feliz; Eigyo jikan 営業時間
48. Serieux = serious; Shinkokuna 深刻な
49. Viejo = foo; furui 古い
50. Courir = correr; hashiru 走る, hashirimasen, hashirimasu, hashitte, hashitteiro 走っている*, o hashitteiro; Aruku = to run
51. Vrai = Verdad; shinjutsu 真実
52. Nim; hai; ouis; si; ja
53. Ancien = antiguo; kodai 古代
54. Beau = vænn / friður / fagur; utsukushi 美しい
55. Blanc = opaiuwa; shiro 白; bai se (Chinese)
56. Certain; aru ある
57. Hot = chingissum, aneshawocannassup; atsui 熱い
58. Cher
59. Light = iakesan; Raito ライト
60. Content; kofun 興奮
61. Dernier = Ultimo; saigo 最後
62. Désolé = Sinto (Galician); Sumimasen (すみません), Gomen nasai (ごめんなさい), Moushiwake arimasen (申し訳ありません)

- 63. Différent; chigau 違う
- 64. Droit = Derecho
- 65. Entier = Cheisk / Tutta / Todo; subete 全て; Minna (みんな)
- 66. Fort = towh; sterkur (Icelandic); sterk (dutch) forte (Italian); fuerte; tsuyoi 強い
- 67. Froid = nonssamats; frio; samui 寒い
- 68. Gentil = Netab; shinsetsu 親切
- 69. Haut = alta; takai 高い
- 70. Human = Ara; ningen 人間
- 71. Important; juyo 重要
- 72. Long = Cunnauiwh
- 73. Meilleur = Wingutscaho; saiko 最高
- 74. Dead = Tsepaih; Dáinn (Icelandic); dood (Dutch); shinda 死んだ
- 75. Dairy = nyuseehin (Japanese) 乳製品; zuivel (Dutch)
- 76. Black = mahcatawaiuwa; kuro 黒
- 77. Pareil; onaji 同じ
- 78. Little = tanx; pequeno; sukoshi 少し, chiisai;
- 79. Plein = Fullt (Icelandic); llena de; manpai 満杯
- 80. Prêt = list@;
- 81. Prochain = proxim@; tsugi 次
- 82. Chaîne; kusari 鎖
- 83. Quoi = Cua; nani 何
- 84. Vert = cushaw; Grænn (Icelandic); 緑
- 85. Vivant = [en] vivo; live;
- 86. Aider = ayudar; help; tasukeru 助ける, tasukete! 助けて! (help me!), Karen ga tasukete, onii-chan (brother, help Karen!) or tasukete Karen-kun!
- 87. Chef = wiroance;
- 88. Enfant = nechañ; kodomo 子供, 子 (\\(ko\\)): This character translates directly to "child." 供 (\\(domo\\)): Historically, this part meant "companion" or "attendant," but in modern Japanese, it is mostly used as a suffix that functions grammatically to pluralize the base word.
- 89. Akachan 赤ちゃん = baby
- 90. Garde = protoger; vörður (Icelandic); guard
- 91. Gauche = izquierdo
- 92. Geste = Bending (Icelandic); gesture
- 93. Gosse = nechañ 子供
- 94. Livre = bók; muryo 無料, hon 本
- 95. Merci = gracias; kenah
- 96. Mort = tsepaih; shinda 死んだ
- 97. Ombre = sombra; skuggi; kage 影; shade: hikage, tree shade: kokage

98. Part; parte; kyoyu 共有, "bun" (ぶん, ぶ, or 文), a part, segment, or share, as in dividing something into portions, "hachi bun" (八分), meaning "eight parts" (referring to 80% or eight out of ten).
99. Poche = pocket
100. Professeur = Sensei, kyoshi 教師; maestro
101. Fois = vez; keer, tímar;
102. Woman = Crenepo
103. Paix = paz; taino (from Arawakan); friður; heiwa 平和
104. Voix = voice; voz; koe 声
105. Affaire; jiken 事件
106. Année = cohonks; ventur; toshi, nen 年
107. Arme = Mese, Meascoh
108. Armée = hæf (Icelandic); leger (Dutch); gun 軍
109. Attention = attention; chui 注意
110. Balle = Ball
111. boîte = box; caja; hako 箱
112. Bouche = mettone; munnr; kuchi 口
113. Carte = carta; chizu 地図
114. Cause = causa; gen'in 原因
115. Chambre = rúm (Icelandic); shinshitsu 寢室
116. Chance
117. Chansons = Canto; cancion; uta 歌
118. Son = sonido; geluid (Dutch); oto 音, "bun" can also be an onomatopoeic word, representing sounds like buzzing or humming (ぶんぶん, bunbun)
119. Chose; cosa; mono もの, こと koto = thing, fact (nominalizer)
120. Classe
121. Confiance = co; confianza; traust (Icelandic); shinrai 信賴
122. Couleur = color; kleur (Dutch); iro 色
123. Cour = corte; saibansho 裁判所
124. Cuisine; daidokoro 台所
125. Colère = enojado; "okoru" (怒る)
126. Dame = crenepo
127. Dent = mepit; il dente; ha 歯
128. Ecole = escuela; school; gakko 学校
129. Eglise = iglesia;
130. Envie = Envidiar; netami 妬み
131. Epauale = hombro (Spanish); Öxl (Icelandic); kata
132. Époque = Era; jidai 時代
133. équipe = equipo; øk (Icelandic); team
134. Erreur = error

135. Espèce = weiskis; espacio; tane 種
136. Étranger = Otaku
137. Etudier = estudiar; 勉強する \(benkyou suru\)
138. Face = uscaentur; cara; kao 顔
139. Façon = leið (Icelandic); manier (Dutch); manera; jutsu 術
140. Faim = noiatewk; hungr (Icelandic); hambre; ue 飢え
141. Famille = Kind (Icelandic); Ohana; familia; kazoku 家族;
142. Faute = Mistök (Icelandic); fout (Dutch); machigai 間違い
143. Fenêtre = raam (Dutch); ventana; window
144. Fête = feest (Dutch); fiesta
145. Fleur = blóm (Icelandic); hana 花
146. Flour = rouhcat, rowsewh; 小麦粉
147. Force = force; chikara 力
148. Forme = forma; lögun (Icelandic); katachi 形
149. Fumer = fumar; kekepemgwa; sutte (Vulgar Powhatan); "suu" (吸う), sutte (すって), 吸います (suimasu), 吸いません (suimasen), sutteiro, @ sutteir@
 - a. Even the Japanese version of this word is considered vulgar in Powhatan.
150. Guerre = oorlog (Dutch); stríð (Icelandic); senso 戦争
151. Gueule = mettone; boca; kuchi 口
152. Habitude = habit; kuse 癖
153. Heure = hour; jikan 時間
154. Histoire = saga; rekishi 歴史; hanashi
155. Myth = mito; 伝説 densetsu;
156. Legend = shinwa 神話
157. Fable = Gūwa 寓話
158. Idée = idea
159. Image; shasheen 写真
160. Impression; insho 印象
161. Île; shima 島
162. Jambe = meskott; ashi 脚
163. Joie = joy; felicidad; yorokobi 喜び
164. Journée = raieawk; cuttepacus; dagr
165. Taal, Dansk tunga; gengo 言語
166. Yesterday = osaioh 昨日
167. Lettre = rún; tegami 手紙
168. Lèvre = nussahaih; labio; vara (Icelandic); kuchibiru 唇
169. Ligne = pemanataon; lína (Icelandic); 線 sen; xiàn; linea
170. Lumière = keshawtewh; ljóss (Icelandic), brenna (Icelandic; to light, to set on fire); hikari 光

171. Main = mao(s); hönd (Icelandic); handsal (Icelandic; handshake); te 手
(Chinese)
172. Maintenant = Ahora; ima 今
173. Mais; demo でも
174. Maison = Casa; ie 家
175. Maman, Mère = Kicke, Nek; móður
176. Manière = netacoon; manera; manier (Dutch); mana マナー; fangshi 方式
177. Marche = ganga (Icelandic); caminar; wandeling (Dutch); aruku 歩く
178. Merde; tawagoto たわごと
179. Minute; foon 分
180. Musique = musica; ongaku 音楽, uta
181. Mood; kibun 気分, 態 (Tai)
182. Dance; danza; 舞 (mai)
183. Nuit = Evening, Night; Yoru (夜)
184. Dawn = Elding; yoake 夜明け
185. Odeur = numeramin; nioi 匂い
186. Oreille = metawke; mimi 耳
187. Name = Nome; Namae 名前
188. Parole = discurso; kotoba 言葉
189. Partie, ichibu 一部
190. Mot, kotoba 言葉
191. Peau = Matchkore; hada 肌
192. Eyes = muskins; augu (Icelandic); me 目
193. Peine = keij; itami 痛み
194. Pensée = pensamiento; kangae 考え
195. Person = nimatewh; persoon (Dutch); hito 人
196. Cane = nisake 砂糖黍
197. Peu = piel; 肌 Hada
198. Peur = ótta; osore 恐れ
199. Photo, shashin 写真
200. Piece = paangun; parte; 部分 (bubun)
201. Chest = pacus; mune 胸
202. Pierre = Rokk; 岩
203. Police = policia; keisatsu 警察
204. Porte = door; hurð (Icelandic); deur (Dutch) kessohikear (to shut the door);
rassicokear, tenuecatower (to open the door); 扉
205. Présence = presence; menzen 面前
206. Prison = necakesuttun; keimusho 刑務所
207. Putain = Unaputain
208. Que; Nani; doshta

209. Ou (French); waam (Powhatan) doko (どこ); donde
210. Pourquoi = Paak; waarom (Dutch); nande (なんで); doshte (どうして); por que?
211. Parce que = Paak; omdat (Dutch); kara (から), dakara (だから; that's why; used after nouns and -na adjectives); porque, por eso; ので (node), nanode (なの で, naze
212. Como; dou
213. Cua, Qua
214. Cuanta, Quanta; ikura (いくら)
215. Qual; dono, Dochira ga
216. Qualquier(a); dono
217. Avec = con, met; to と
218. Cuando, Quando; itsu (いつ)
219. Sin; sore nashi (それなし)
220. Combien = いくつ ikutsu [no]
221. Ki, qi from the French "qui"; dare ga (誰が); quem
222. Kwi (from Italian, here)
223. Kel (from French; kel homin bizarre)
224. Cu, Qu; kyu (キュ)
225. Pidgin Ka
226. Japanese "ka" or cua, qua to form a question
227. Da, De(s); No (Japanese) の
228. Ni (Chinese, Spanish, and Japanese usage)
 - a. The Japanese particle "ni" (に) has multiple uses, but it primarily indicates direction, location, and time. It can be translated as "to," "at," "in," or "on" depending on the context.
 - b. In Chinese 'ni' means 'you'
 - c. In Spanish 'ni' means 'neither' or 'not even'
 - i. 'Nem' is also valid traditional Powhatan.
229. Para, pah; no tame ni (のために)
230. Aand, und, e, y
231. Che, Ni, Tu
232. Una, ein, eins
233. Met = with
234. The, L@, li(@), le(s), el, la
235. Quoy, yowkk
236. Sa, Ça
237. Ce, Ces
238. Ese, Esa, Eso
239. Lo, Het (Dutch)
240. Pas; nai (ない)

- 241. Ne, non, mat; ie いいえ
- 242. N@ (Portuguese); no
- 243. Aun; mada (まだ) = "yet" or "still"
- 244. Aunque
- 245. Raison = reason; riyu 理由
- 246. Réponse = response; kotae 答え
- 247. Robe = robe; dress; ドレス
- 248. Route = Vegur; 道 michi
- 249. Salle = cuarto; herbergi (Icelandic); heya 部屋 (Japanese)
- 250. Scene = matchqueo 場面
- 251. Seconde; niban 2番
- 252. Sécurité; anzen 安全
- 253. Week = week, vika; shu 週
- 254. Situation = jokyo 状況
- 255. soeur = Cursine
- 256. Soirée = Evening; aunshecapa
- 257. Sorte = sort
- 258. Suite = Á eftir; following
- 259. Table = Tafla
- 260. Terre = jörð; terra, 国 kuni = country / land
- 261. Tête = medabuccah, mintabukhan
- 262. Hair = merersc; awrewhmerersk, (curled hair)
- 263. Vérité = nim; la verdade; si; hai; ouis
- 264. Ville = kaasun
- 265. Car = paak; omdat
- 266. Voiture = mixto (from Tabasco, MX); car
- 267. Avis = Opinion
- 268. Bois = drekka (Icelandic); drankje (Dutch)
- 269. Bras = Mese, Meascoh, muckatahone
- 270. Choix = val
- 271. Corps = body
- 272. Cours = course
- 273. Gars = Krakkar
- 274. Mois = mehtoan; mes
- 275. Country = land;
- 276. Skraelingjar (Indigenous person)
- 277. Prix = precio
- 278. Propos = about; sobre; over (Dutch)
- 279. Sens = sens
- 280. Temps = Time; tijd (Dutch)

281. Travers = a treves; through; door (Dutch); 通して toshite
 - a. の中に no naka ni = in / through
 - b. の中で no naka de = within / in
282. Vieux = gamall (Icelandic); vecchio (Italian); oud (Dutch); old;
283. Accord = Agreement
284. Agent
285. Amour = Ama; suki (好き)
286. Appel = chamah, otassapnar
287. Arbre = eik (oak and slang for "tree" in Old Norse); tré (Icelandic);
288. Argent = money; dinero; peningar (Icelandic); okane (Japanese)
289. Avenir = future; futuro
290. Avion = plane
291. Bateau = boot (Dutch)
292. Bébé = nechan
293. Bonheur
294. Bonjour = chamah
295. Bord = egg (also ægg),
296. Boulot = trabajo; job
297. Fin
298. Bruit = ruido
299. Bureau
300. Cafe
301. Camp
302. Capitaine = Skipstjóri (Icelandic)
303. Chat = Köttur (Icelandic); nekko
304. Chemin = camino; lu (Chinese)
305. Cheval = Issuba, issoba (Choctaw)
306. Cheveu = Hár (Icelandic); Haar (Dutch)
307. Changement = cambio
308. Climat = clima
309. Take = tomar
310. Chien = attemous; hundur (Icelandic); hond (Dutch)
311. Ciel = arrokoth; cielo; yume
312. Client
313. Cœur = hjarta (Icelandic); hart (Dutch)
314. Coin = skaut (Icelandic); esquina
315. Colonel = Wiroance
316. Compte = cuenta;
317. Copain = novi@
318. Côté = lado

- 319. Coup = grupo
- 320. Courant = fluent
- 321. Debut = comienzo
- 322. Demain = raioawk, riapoke; mañana
- 323. Demi; mitad; half, meedle (Dutch); Man'naka 真ん中
- 324. Dieu = ahone; göt (plural, Icelandic).
- 325. Doctor = doctor
- 326. Doigt = dedo; fingr (Icelandic), meteingeies;
- 327. Dollar
- 328. Doute = duda
- 329. Dure = duro; katai
- 330. Effet = efecto; Áhrif (Icelandic)
- 331. Endroit = weiskis
- 332. Ennemi = macherew; Óvinur (Icelandic); vijand (Dutch); 敵 teki = enemy
- 333. Escalier = escalera; trap (Dutch)
- 334. Esprit = okee; geest (Dutch)
- 335. Etat = State
- 336. Exemple = example; ejemplo
- 337. Fait = noungat, utsseneind;
- 338. Film
- 339. Flic = policia
- 340. Fond = grund
- 341. Frère = Kemotte
- 342. Front
- 343. Garçon = nechan
- 344. General
- 345. Genre = style
- 346. Gout = gusto
- 347. Goûter = saborear; 味わう (ajiwau)
- 348. Sabores = 風味 Fūmi
- 349. Government = gobierno
- 350. Grand = Quath; Okii
 - a. 広き (hiroki)
 - i. From 広い (hirooi) = broad, wide.
- 351. Grave
- 352. Groupe = hóp (Icelandic)
- 353. Haut = cutterewh; alta;
- 354. Homme = nimatewh, homin
- 355. Honneur = honor; heiður (Icelandic); eer (Dutch)
- 356. Hotel, Albergo (Italian)

357. Instante
358. Intérêt
359. Intérieur = dentro; innri (Icelandic); binnen (Dutch)
360. Jardin = oronocah
361. Jour = raioawk; dagr (Icelandic); dag (Dutch)
362. Journal = Periodico
363. Lait = leche; mutson; mjólk (Icelandic); melk (Dutch); 牛乳 (gyūnyū), which specifically refers to cow's milk, and ミルク (miruku), a loanword from English that refers to any kind of milk, including cow's milk, baby formula, and powdered milk. 母乳 (honyū) means "mother's milk" or breast milk in a non-slang, non-babyish way, while お乳 (ochichi) can refer to breast milk in a childish or potentially vulgar way.
364. Lieu = weiskis
365. Long = Largo
366. Fou = Loko
367. Maitre = Sensei
368. Mari = Wiowah
369. Épouse = marido; giftast (Icelandic);
370. Matin = morning
371. marriage = casamiento; hjónaband (Icelandic)
372. médecin = wisoccan
373. Mettre = peinder; poner;
374. Milieu = medium
375. Million
376. Moment = memento; Augnablik (Icelandic)
377. Monde = mundo; pamahsaiuwa
378. mouvement = movimiento; hreyfing (Icelandic); ugoki 動き
379. Moyen = la mayoria
380. Number, numero
381. Noir = mahcatawaiuw; negro; hei se (Chinese)
382. Nouveau = newh; Nýtt (Icelandic); nieuw (Dutch)
383. Oeil = muskins, muskiendguk; auga
384. oiseau = tshehip
385. Oncle = tio; föðurbróðir (Icelandic);
386. Océan = mar; Umi 海; la mare
387. Order
388. Father = não; föður (Icelandic); varter (German); 父 (chichi) chichigüey (父上 or 父奴 for güey as a Mexican pung: chichigüey); chichi is Dominican for 'baby'.
389. Papier = papel
390. Parents = foreldrar (Icelandic); ouders (Dutch)

- 391. Parfait = perfecto
- 392. Pas
- 393. Par = Por
- 394. Passage = pasar; Yfirferð (Icelandic; y-vi-ferth)
- 395. Passé = pasado; verleden (Dutch)
- 396. Pere = föður (Icelandic); vater (German)
- 397. Petit = tanx
- 398. Peuple = ara
- 399. Pieds = mesetts
- 400. Plaisir = placer
- 401. Plan
- 402. Point = punto
- 403. Pouvoir = poder
- 404. Premier = primero
- 405. Present = presente
- 406. President = weroance
- 407. Prince
- 408. Problem = problemo
- 409. Quartier = cuarto
- 410. Regard = mirar
- 411. Retard, En retard = tarde; laat (Dutch)
- 412. Tard = tarde; straks (Dutch); atode
- 413. Retour = atrás
- 414. Rêve = draumur (Icelandic); soñar; 夢 Yume
- 415. Revoir = adios; bless (Icelandic)
- 416. Rue = 路 lù (from Chinese); rua
- 417. Regles = reglas; rule
- 418. Salut = chama
- 419. sang = sangre; blóð; 血 (chi)
- 420. Secret = secreto; leyndarmál
- 421. Service = servicio
- 422. Soldat = soldaat (Dutch), berserkr (Old Norse)
- 423. Soir = Evening; aunshecapa
- 424. Soleil = Kechose
- 425. Seul = naantucah-necut (only one); solo;
- 426. Siècle = siglo
- 427. Signe = marca
- 428. Silence = Þögn (Icelandic); stilte (Dutch); silencio; 静寂 seijaku = silence / stillness
- 429. Souvenir

- 430. Sujet = subject
- 431. Telephone
- 432. Tout = Tutta, Cheisk
- 433. Train = yo va
- 434. Travail = job, work
- 435. Traduction = hon'yaku
- 436. Trou = hole
- 437. Truc = chose
- 438. Type = tipo
- 439. Vent = kikitamots; vindur (Icelandic)
- 440. Visage = uscaenter; andlit (Icelandic)
- 441. Village = Kaasun
- 442. Fils = sonur
- 443. Gens = Ara
- 444. Threat = Bec
- 445. Abandonner = abandonar
- 446. Accepter = aceptar
- 447. Accompanyer = acompañar
- 448. Acheter = comprar; buy; 買う kau
- 449. Adorer = Ama
- 450. Agir = fingir
- 451. Aider = fullting (Icelandic); ayudar
- 452. Aimer = ama
- 453. Ajouter = Agregar
- 454. Aller = Ireh; ir; iku;
- 455. Amener = Paaksetower; traer
- 456. Amuser = Divertirse
- 457. Announcer = anunciar
- 458. Apercevoir = darse cuenta
- 459. Apparaître = aparecer
- 460. Appeler = Chamar
- 461. Apporter = traer
- 462. Approcher = acercarse
- 463. Apprendre = aprender
- 464. Arranger = arreglar
- 465. Arrêter = muttaqwohoons; detener
- 466. Arriver = llegar
- 467. Sentarse = Nawpin, Nehapper; Nehapper kupper, to sit further; sitja (Icelandic); zitten (Dutch)
- 468. Attaquer = atacar

- 469. Atteindre = alcanzar
- 470. Attendre = esperar
- 471. Avancer = avanzar
- 472. Avoir = tem
- 473. Baisser = besar; kisu (Japanese: キス; 鱧); Vulgar Powhatan: tsepaantamen;
- 474. Battre = derrotar; hit (Dutch)
- 475. Boire = tomar; drekka (Icelandic); nomu 飲む, 飲みます (nomimasu), 飲みません (nomimasen), 飲んで (nonde), nondeiro
- 476. Bouger = moverse
- 477. Bruler = kuttchawe; quemar
- 478. Cacher = cushe
- 479. Calmer = calmar; rólegur (Icelandic)
- 480. Casser = ketarowksumah, paskeaw; romper;
- 481. Celebrer = celebrar; iwau;
- 482. Cesser = muttaqwohoons; cesso (Italian); cesar;
- 483. Changer = cambiar
- 484. Chanter = cante-cante
- 485. Charger = cargar
- 486. Chercher = buscar
- 487. Choisir = elegir
- 488. Commencer = comenzar
- 489. Comprend = comprender
- 490. Compter = contar
- 491. Conduire = conducir
- 492. Connaitre = conocer
- 493. Continuer = continuar
- 494. Coucher = nepaun 日本, にっぽん
- 495. Couper = wapewh; skera (Icelandic); snee (Dutch); cortar;
- 496. Continent = continente
- 497. Cutte; Kawaii
- 498. Découvrir = descubrir
- 499. Dégager = thai[gwennumeran]; liberar
- 500. Demander = preguntar
- 501. Descendre = bajar
- 502. Desoler = sentir
- 503. Detester = odiar
- 504. Détruire = destrozar
- 505. Devenir = hacerse; naru なる
- 506. Devoir = deber

507. Dire = kemaantun, kecutton, memmowchicktagwassan; segja (Icelandic); inspraak (Dutch)
508. Disparaitre = desaperecer
509. Donner = paatch; dar
510. Dormir = Nepaun
511. Echapper = poshenaan; flýja (Icelandic); escapar
512. Écouter = escuchar; kikoeru
513. Écrire = sakahocan; escribir; skrifa (Icelandic); schrijven (Dutch); kaku (Japanese)
514. Erase = Kesu
515. Rub = Kosuru
516. Éloigner = separar
517. Embrasser = besar
518. Emmener = llevar; motarasu
519. Empêcher = muttaqwohoons; prevenir
520. Emporter = importar
521. Enlever = eliminar
522. Entendre = entender
523. Enter = entrar; 入る hairu
524. Envoyer = mandar
525. Esperer = esperar
526. Eviter = evitar
527. Excuser = excusar
528. Exister = existir
529. Expliquer = explicar
530. Faire = hacer; eru, wo, o, suru, shimasu, shimasen, shite, shinai, shimasho, suru desho...
531. Falloir = faltar
532. Fermer = cerrar
533. Feu = bocuttaow; fuego; hi 火
534. Ouvrir = abrir
535. Filer = girar; snúningur (Icelandic)
536. Finir = terminar
537. Frapper = golpear
538. Gagner = ganar
539. Garder = quedar
540. Glisser = deslizar
541. Habiter = vivir
542. Ignorer = ignorar
543. Imaginer = imaginar

- 544. Importer = importar
- 545. Inquieter = preocuparse
- 546. Installer = instalar
- 547. Interesser = importar
- 548. Inviter = invitar
- 549. Jeter = tirar; kasta (Icelandic)
- 550. Jouer = jugar; 遊ぶ asobu; toneelstuk (Dutch)
- 551. Jurer = juzgar
- 552. Lacher = dejar
- 553. Laisser = dejar
- 554. Lancer = tirar
- 555. Lever = elevar
- 556. Lire = leer; yomu 読む
- 557. Limpiar
- 558. Lune = vsmptoms; luna; tsuki 月
- 559. Maintenir = mantener
- 560. Manger = comer; mecher
- 561. Manquer = extrañar
- 562. Marcher = caminar
- 563. Marier = casarse
- 564. Mener = realizar
- 565. Mentir
- 566. Mettre = meter
- 567. Montre = mirar
- 568. Montrer = mostrar
- 569. Mourir = morir; 死ぬ shinu
- 570. Naitre = nacer
- 571. Niveau = nivel
- 572. Obliger = olvidar
- 573. Occuper = ocupar
- 574. Offrir = ofrecer
- 575. Oser = atreverse
- 576. Oublier = olvidar
- 577. Ouvrir = abrir
- 578. Paraitre = aparecer
- 579. Parler = hablar; falar; memmowchicktagwassan; hanasu 話す, hanashimasu 話します, hanashimasen 話しません, hanashite 話して, hanashiteiro 話している, o hanashiteiro
- 580. Partir = dejar
- 581. Passer = pasar

- 582. Payer = pagar
- 583. Penser = pensar
- 584. Perdre = perder
- 585. Permettre = permitir
- 586. Plaire = complacer
- 587. Pleurer = llorar
- 588. Porter = llevar
- 589. Poser = establecer
- 590. Pousser = empujar
- 591. pouvoir = poder; dekiru (Japanese)
- 592. Preferer = preferir
- 593. Prendre = llevar
- 594. Preparer = preparar; sonaeru
- 595. Presenter = presentar
- 596. Prevenir
- 597. Prier = rezar
- 598. Promettre = prometer
- 599. Proposer = proponer
- 600. Protéger
- 601. Quitter = dejar
- 602. Raconter = decir
- 603. Ramener = rellevar
- 604. Rappeler = recordar
- 605. Recevoir = recibir
- 606. Reconnaître = reconocer
- 607. Reflechir = reflexionar
- 608. Refuser = rechazar
- 609. Regarder = mirar
- 610. Rejoindre = unirse
- 611. Remarquer = comentar
- 612. Remettre = reponer
- 613. Remonter = resubir
- 614. Rencontrer = encontrarse
- 615. Render
- 616. Rentrer = regresar
- 617. Repeter = repetir
- 618. Repondre = responder
- 619. Reposer = descansar
- 620. Reprendre = reenviar
- 621. Ressembler = parecer

- 622. Rester = permanecer
- 623. Retenir = retener
- 624. Retirer = retirar
- 625. Retourner = devolver
- 626. Retrouver = encontrar
- 627. Reussir = slagen (Dutch); tem éxito; win; 成功 seiko
- 628. Reveiller = despertar
- 629. Revenir = volver; kaeru (帰る)
- 630. Rever = soñar
- 631. Revoir = adios; bless (Icelandic); vaarwel (Dutch)
- 632. Rire = reir; kesshekissum; 笑 xiao.
- 633. Risquer = reisgar
- 634. Rouler = rodar
- 635. Sauter = saltar
- 636. Sauver = ahorrar
- 637. Savoir = saber; shiru 知, shirimasu, shitte, shirimasen, shiranai,
- 638. Sembler = parecer
- 639. Sentir = kanjiru
- 640. Separer = separar
- 641. Serrer = apretar
- 642. Servir = atender
- 643. Sortir = salir
- 644. Souffrir = sufrir
- 645. Sourire = sonreir
- 646. Souvenir
- 647. Suffire = sufrir
- 648. Suivre = seguir
- 649. Taire = callarse la boca
- 650. Tendre
- 651. Tenir = tem; 持つ motsu
- 652. Tenter = tentar
- 653. Terminer = terminar
- 654. Tirer = tirar
- 655. Tomber = tumbar
- 656. Toucher = tocar
- 657. Tourner = doblar
- 658. Traiter = tratar; 試す (tamesu), 試します (tameshimasu), 試しません (tameshimasen), 試して (tameshite), 試している (tameshiteiro) – am trying / have tried, ➡ Polite: 試しています (tameshite imasu) ➡ Negative: 試していない

(tameshite inai) – haven't tried ➡ Polite Negative: 試していません (tameshite imasen)

- 659. Travailler = trabajar
- 660. Traverser = cruzar
- 661. Tromper = enganar
- 662. Trouver = tragar
- 663. Tuer = matar
- 664. Utiliser = utilizar
- 665. Valoir = valer
- 666. Vendre = vender
- 667. Venir = venir
- 668. Vivre = vivir
- 669. Voir = ver; sjá (Icelandic); zien (Dutch); 見る miru
- 670. Voler = volar; fljúga (Icelandic); vlieg (Dutch)
- 671. Vouloir = quier
- 672. Fleur = flor
- 673. Dawn = Elding
- 674. Plus = mas
- 675. Ai, La (French), Asoko; Soko; そこに soko ni = there
- 676. Estar = Ta, Ga
- 677. Up, Down, Left, Right, Center, Above, Below, Inside (from English); Arriba, Abajo, Izquierda, Derecha, Centro, Dentro (from Spanish)
- 678. Vie = vida
- 679. Assez = asi; こう (kō)
- 680. Ya (Lla) (from Spanish)
- 681. Aun (from Spanish)
- 682. Jamais
- 683. Si (Spanish)
- 684. Presque = Casi
- 685. Non / no / ne / não (now)
- 686. Moins = Menos (Spanish)
- 687. Loco
- 688. Coco
- 689. Vrai = la verdade (Italian); satt (Icelandic)
- 690. Omayah (Pamunkey)
- 691. Roy = rey; kongur, kongurinn (the King) (Icelandic);
- 692. Pour = Para
- 693. Par = Por
- 694. Janguero (Puerto Rico)
- 695. Willkommen

- 696. Ici = Ca
- 697. Entre = 間 Ma, 間 (aida)
- 698. Merci = Gracias
- 699. City = kyo
- 700. Social
- 701. Security
- 702. Lord (British usage)
- 703. Terra
- 704. Pulpo [cocido] (Italian)
- 705. Ensemble = acos
- 706. La féminin
- 707. Function
- 708. Avant = Antes
- 709. Apres = Despues
- 710. Avisar
- 711. Normale (Italian)
- 712. Valhalla; mounshaqwatur
- 713. Contract
- 714. Entreprise = negocio
- 715. Aucun = Nadie, ningun@, ninguem
- 716. Jamais = nunca
- 717. Rien = nada; iend
- 718. Near / Ik (Dutch) / Io (Italian) / Yo (Spanish) / Watashi, Ore / Jeg (Danish) / In Japanese, ware 我 means "I," or "me." Mostly used when speaking on behalf of a company or group
- 719. Saint = heilig (Dutch)
- 720. Saint
- 721. Précédent
- 722. Très
- 723. Encore = otra vez;
- 724. Aussi = Tambien; Mo (も);
a. Watashi/Ore/Near mo
- 725. Por Favor / For Favor 4恩 / お願いします Onegaishimasu
- 726. Depuis = Desde
- 727. Baka
- 728. Are wa = That is (object is far from both the speaker and the listener)
- 729. mother (お母さん - okaasan)
- 730. grandmother (おばあさん - obaasan)
- 731. grandfather (おじいさん - ojiisan)
- 732. Soeur = (姉 - ane, 妹 - cursine)

733. Frère = (兄 - ani, 弟 - kemotte)
734. Fromage = queso; kaas (Dutch); 奶酪 nailao (Chinese);
735. Fils = son; Musuko むすこ
736. Fille = Amosens; hija. 娘
737. Moshi Moshi (when answering the phone)
738. Nakama (仲間), Yuujin (友人)
739. Urusai (煩い; noisy, shut up)
740. Iru (いる) => imasu (います), imasen (居ません); be! (imperative)
741. Kinishinaide (気にしないで, don't worry, nevermind)
 - a. 気に (ki ni): means "mind" or "worry".
 - b. しないで (shinai de): is the negative form of the verb "to do" (する, suru).
742. Mate (待て)
743. Ice = Oreih
744. Tu / Usted / A Tuah Graza (Galician) / Kear / Vos / Voce / Ti (Galician) / Ni (Galician) / Kimi (君) / "teme" (てめえ) is a highly informal and rude way to say "you," often used by young males / Omae
745. Ese, Yoowah; he
746. Esa, She
747. Ils; Ell@s; Ze (Dutch); karera 彼; they
748. Tutta-san, Cheisk-san; Vosotros; Ustedes; Voces
749. Nous, We, Us, Wij
750. Our, Nos, O nos, A nosa
751. Haber
752. Ça y est
753. Sans = Sin; Sem; nashi なし, naki (na no naki/nashi juji de)
754. Sumimasen; Seppuku itashimasu
755. Correct
756. Permission = permiso; 許可 kyoka
757. Chaque = Cada
 - a. Chaque fois; cada vez; itsumo
758. Pelon
759. Gostar
760. Carne
761. Beef, Pork, Bacon
762. Poulet = Pollo; Cawahcheims
763. Tomber amoureux = enamorar, apaixonar
764. Pardonner = Perdonar
765. Bibliothēkē
766. Laundry
767. Emocionad@, Emoncionar

768. Évident = obvio
769. Cocol(li) (Nahautl) = quarrel
770. Sucré = dulce; dolce (Italian)
771. Yoaxvwh
772. Hafu
773. Accent = Acento
774. Geste = gesto; bending (Icelandic); gebaar (Dutch)
775. Ami(s) = Amig@
776. Ange = Angel; Engill (Icelandic); Angelo (Italian); Engel (Dutch)
777. Maquillage = Maquillaje
778. Commun = Comun
779. Besoin; hitsuyo (ひつよう), たい (tai, たべたい (tabetai)); una necesidad, desear
780. Cadeau = regalo; geschenk (Dutch); okurimono 贈り物; liwu 禮物
781. Okashi = Snack; 小吃 xiaoshi;
782. Tati = Levantate
783. Yamete = Stop
784. Thé = Thee (Dutch)
785. Onda 女
786. Coup d'Etat
787. Dignité = Dignity
788. Santé = Salud; Health
789. Gratuit = Gratis; Vrij (Dutch); netab
790. Même
791. Incluso, même
792. Regles = Regel
793. Vache = Vaca, Cow, Koe (Dutch)
794. Korean: 젓가락; Japanese: 箸; Chinese: 筷子; Powhatan: Pokas
795. Quiocosin
796. Cacique, Shaman
797. Quelqu'un = Alguien; 誰か dareka
798. Quelque chose = Algo
799. Gelato; helado; ijsje (Dutch)
800. Chasser = cazar
801. Puet-etre = poder ser, tal vez; wanchan ワンチャン
802. Pluie = lluvia; ame
803. Toujours = siempre; sempre; itsumo いつも
804. Wa (は) (North Dakotan usage)
805. Ga (が) (from Powhatan: maangairagwatowh)
806. Wo (を) (from Powhatan: muttaqwohoons)

- 807. No (の) (from Powhatan: maonomommaon)
- 808. विवल् (vival) = "to turn away" or "to turn aside".
- 809. Buzz = Taima
- 810. Matcha no taima ni
- 811. Sur = sobre de; kanshite; vis-a-vis
- 812. Vis-a-vis = ara a ara | in relation to
- 813. Cough = seki
- 814. Sneeze = kushami
- 815. Dizzy = memai
- 816. Faint = kizetsu
- 817. Hangover = futzukayoi
- 818. Trop = demasiado; too
- 819. Claire = claro; kuria クリア
- 820. Pressure = Druk; Reiatsu
- 821. Apoyar = sasaeru; sasaemasu; sasaemasen; sasainai; sasaite; sasaiteiro;
- 822. Pain = apones; pan; 包 bāo
- 823. Cross = 十字架 juji
- 824. Clé = Llave; key
- 825. Candy = ame; dolce; dulce
- 826. Loin = lejos; toi
- 827. Près = cerca; chikai
- 828. Haut = alto; takai
- 829. Faible = bajo; hikui
- 830. Gros = omoi
- 831. Légère = ligero; karui
- 832. Belle = bella; kireidane, kireidesu, warukunena
- 833. Cool; 赞 zàn (Chinese), sugoi (Japanese)
- 834. Sunset = yuhi
- 835. Nekko = Root
- 836. Taki = waterfall
- 837. Kami = god; paper; hair
- 838. Kamu = to bite
- 839. Mear = to piss, pee
- 840. Muy
- 841. Hasta = until
- 842. Hacia = toward
- 843. Sympa
- 844. Realite = 現実 Genjitsu
- 845. Reel = real; 本物 (honmono)
- 846. Lier = ligar

847. Parfois = a veces; tokidoki 時々
848. Tush = butt
849. Perv[ert] = ero
850. Sage = senin
851. 任務 nimmu = duty, mission, task
852. 殺人 satsujin = murder
853. 配達 (haitatsu) = delivery
854. 配 (hai) = distribute, deliver
855. 達 (tatsu) = reach, arrive
856. Hiver = cohonks; 冬 fuyu
857. Arc-en-ciel = acroiris; niji 虹; arc-en-cielo; qwanacut
858. Pendant = durante; for
859. 登場 tōjō entry (on stage); appearance (on screen); entrance; introduction (into a market)
860. Owari = end
861. Saison = season; kisetu
862. Force = fuerza; chikara
863. Unite = danketsu; unidad
864. Earth = daichi
865. Evolution = 進化 shinka
866. Alchimie = alchemy; alquimia; 錬金術 renkinjutsu, renkinjutsushi (錬金術師) is the word for an alchemist
867. Chimie = quimica; chemistry
868. Frère; hermano; "brothers" can refer to a group of siblings (兄弟, kyōdai)
- a. Oniichan (お兄ちゃん): A more familiar and often endearing term for an older brother, typically used by younger people or sisters.
 - b. Aniki (兄貴): A less formal term for an older brother, often used by younger brothers to refer to a senior or leader, according to Fandom.
 - c. Oniisama (お兄様): A very formal way to address an older brother.
 - d. Oniisan (お兄さん): A semi-polite term for someone else's older brother, used when speaking to people outside the family.
 - e. Ani is used when talking of one's own brother to others.
869. Seure = sister
- a. 姉 (ane): Used to refer to one's own older sister or an older sister in someone else's family when speaking about them to a third party.
 - b. お姉さん (oneesan): A more polite and generally used term for an older sister, often used for direct address or when talking about someone else's older sister.
 - c. Younger Sister:

- d. 妹 (imouto): The standard term for a younger sister. When speaking directly to a younger sister, you would typically use her name.
 - e. Other Related Terms:
 - f. 姉妹 (shimai): This is the noun for "sisters" as a general group of female siblings.
 - g. kyoudai (兄弟): While kyoudai literally translates to "brothers," it is also used as a general term for "siblings" or "brothers and sisters" in a broad sense.
870. Monstre = monstuo; bakemono
 871. Croire = creer; shinjiru 信じる
 872. 旗 hata = flag, はためいている hatameite iru = is waving / fluttering
 873. 縞 shima = stripes
 874. 輝く kagayaku = to shine, to glitter, to sparkle
 875. 星 hoshi = star
 876. 激戦 gekisen = fierce battle
 - a. 激 (geki) = intense, fierce
 - b. 戦 (sen) = battle, fight
 877. 深き Fukaki = hondo; deep
 878. 深い fukai = profundo; deep
 879. 霧 kiri = mist
 - a. Kirigakure, meaning "Hidden Mist," is the hidden village of the Land of Water in the Naruto series
 - b. "kure" can mean "to give (to me)" or "to do (for me)" in a casual, imperative form, or refer to the city of Kure or the meaning of "dusk" or "year-end" depending on the context and written form. The verb form, from "kureru" (くれる), is used when the speaker is the receiver of a favor or gift and can be found attached to the verb's te-form (e.g., mite kure - "give me the benefit of your seeing").
 - i. Common Meanings of "Kure"
 - ii. Verb (from くれる - kureru):
 - iii. "To give" or "to do for me": This is a casual and often forceful way to ask for something, indicating the speaker will benefit from the action.
 - iv. Grammar: It's often used after the te-form of another verb.
 - v. Example: Yamate kure (Stop it for me/Give me a stop).
 - vi. Example: Mite kure (Please look at it/Give me the benefit of your seeing it).
 - vii. Noun (暮れ - kure):
 - viii. "Dusk" or "Nightfall": This refers to the end of the day.
 - ix. "Year-end": This signifies the close of the year.

- x. Proper Noun:
- xi. City of Kure: This is a port city in Japan.
- xii. Key Distinctions
- xiii. Politeness: The verb form "kure" is casual and can be seen as bossy or even an order. For more respectful requests, the form "kudasai" is used.

880. Petit-déjeuner = desayuno; chōshoku; breakfast;

881. Faire fondre = derretir

882. Bouillir = hervir

883. Hyper

884. Coup d'Etat

885. Ça y est

886. Qu'est-ce que c'est?

887. Es que c'est....

888. Grasse = oily

889. Katakana

890. Yumi = bow

891. Arro = arrow

892. Dagger

893. 砂 suna sand, grit

a. 砂浜 sunahama sandy beach

b. 砂漠 sabaku desert

c. 砂時計 sunadokei hourglass

d. 砂利 jari gravel

894. Yeux = ojos

895. Couple = pareja; aite; par

896. Ça fait mal = se duele

897. Aurais = would have

898. Plutot = instead

899. Douleur = dor; keij

900. Faire cuire = assa, hornear, bake, 焼<yaku

901. Traditional Powhatan Vocabulary

902. Aamowk = angle

903. Aayxkehake = spade

904. Abescur = vein

905. Accecow = a spark of fire

906. Accomodemsk = turtle

907. Accongaiwh = to bend

908. Numbers

909. Nekut / One

- 910. Ninge
- 911. Nus
- 912. Yeough
- 913. Porance
- 914. Camatinge
- 915. (there is no word for 'seven' in Powhatan)
- 916. Nuscawes / Huit
- 917. Kykeytawe / Nein
- 918. Koske
- 919. Ningepoke
- 920. Nuswohcassannack (three hundred)

921. Other words not censored from the Powhatan Dictionary

- a. Aamowk = Eagle
- b. Ascoh (nojo in Portuguese)
- c. Aqwa

922. Words & Phrases from Powhatan, Virginia

- a. "Great day in the morning" / "Go Red Day"
- b. Creasey Salad: a watercress-like leafy green vegetable that grows in Powhatan, Virginia.
- c. Like talkin' bout
 - i. They don't have a lot of customers at that store, not like talkin' bout.
- d. Nary (pronounced nare)
 - i. Nary one of them could swim.
- e. Make why
 - i. That make why I can't get a job.
 - ii. From 'she maik pooke'
- f. Mo = gay/bisexual man from Powhatan (Mohemenchoes – mo y men shows!)
- g. Chinch(es) = bed bugs
- h. Salve (pronounced sab)
- i. Mima = grandmother
- j. 'Se cai' = she/he/it fell (from Spanish 'se cae')
 - i. In Powhatan, we take the easiest route in all things. So when it comes to grabbing conjugations in between hunting and gathering, we grab the first conjugation we hear and run with it at times.
 - ii. This 'lazy conjugation' is also found in some Japanese songs that poke fun at Powhatan.
- k. Mannish = when boys talk back or mansplain at a young age
- l. Wench (wretch) = bitch
- m. Platt = a/to hair braid

- n. Mind = to babysit
- o. Bastard
- p. Boo = boyfriend, girlfriend, love-interest, someone you love to hang with
- q. Honey = lesbian, gay woman
- r. Bito = little bit
- s. Zoomie = singular of zoomies; hurry
- t. Hula = hawaiian
- u. Lele = hawaiian woman
- v. Curry = South Asian Indian
- w. Karma = South Asian Indian
- x. Plata = Colombian woman
- y. Parce = Colombian man
- z. TL (pronounced 'TL' or 'CK') = Mexican
- aa. Bori = Puerto Rican
- bb. Boricua = Puerto Rican
- cc. Taino/a
- dd. Cuzco = Peruvian man
- ee. Cleopatra = Peruvian woman
- ff. Joao = Portuguese man
- gg. Nata = Portuguese woman
- hh. Brigadeir@ = Brazilian man
- ii. (Sao) Paol@ = Brazilian man
- jj. Brilha = gay Brazilian
- kk. Platano = Dominican (explicit!)
- ll. Mangu = Dominican man (explicit!)

923. Pamunkey Words

- a. Tonshee = son
- b. Nucksee= daughter
- c. Petucka= cat
- d. Kayyo= thankfulness
- e. O-ma-yah= O my Lord
- f. Kenaanee= friendship
- g. Baskonee= thank you
- h. Eeskut= go out dog
- i. Nikkut= one
- j. Orijak= two
- k. Kiketock= three
- l. Mitture= four
- m. Nahnkitty= five
- n. Vomtally= six

- o. Talliko= seven
- p. Tingdum= eight
- q. Yantay= ten
- r. Kakatorawines yowo= What call you this.
- s. Nemarough= a man.
- t. Crenepo= a woman.
- u. Marowanchesso= a boy.
- v. Yehawkans= Houses.
- w. Matchcores= Skins or garments.
- x. Mockasins= Shooes.
- y. Tussan= Beds.
- z. Pokatawer= Fire.
- aa. Attawp= A bow.
- bb. Attonce= Arrowes.
- cc. Monacookes= Swords. (剣 ken, 刀 (katana) can specifically refer to a sword, 刃 (ha/yaiba))
- dd. Aumoughhowgh= A target.
- ee. Pawcussacks= Gunnes.
- ff. Tomahacks= Axes.
- gg. Tockahacks= Pickaxes.
- hh. Pamesacks= Kniues.
- ii. Accowprets= Sheares.
- jj. Pawpecones= Pipes.
- kk. Mattassin= Copper.
- ll. Vssawassin= Iron, Brasse, Silver any white mettall.
- mm. Musses= Woods.
- nn. Attaskuss= Leaues weeds or grasse.
- oo. Chepsin= Land.
- pp. Shacquohocan= A stone.
- qq. Wepenter= A cookold.
- rr. Suckahanna= Water.
- ss. Noughmass= Fish.
- tt. Copotone= Sturgeon.
- uu. Weyhshaughes= Flesh.
- vv. Sawwehone= Blond.
- ww. Netoppew= Friends.
- xx. Harrapough= Enemies.
- yy. Maskapow= the worst of the enemies.
- zz. Mawchick chammay= The best of friends.

aaa. Casacunnakack peya quagh acquintan bttasantasough= In how many daies will there come hither any more English Ships.
 bbb. Necut= 1.
 ccc. Ningh= 2.
 ddd. Nuss= 3.
 eee. Yowgh= 4.
 fff. Paranske= 5
 ggg. Comotinch= 6.
 hhh. Toppawoss= 7.
 iii. Nusswash= 8.
 jjj. Kekatawgh= 9.
 kkk. Kaskeke= 10. They count no more but by tennes as followeth.
 III. Case= how many.
 mmm. Ninghsapooeksku= 20.
 nnn. Nussapooeksku= 30.
 ooo. Yowghapooeksku= 40.
 ppp. Parankestassapooeksku= 50.
 qq. Comatinctassapooeksku= 60.
 rrr. Nusswashtassapooeksku= 70.
 sss. Kekataughtassapooeksku= 90.
 ttt. Necuttoughtysinough= 100.
 uuu. Necuttwevnquaough= 1000.
 vvv. Rawcosowghs= Dayes.
 www. Keskowghes= Sunnes.
 xxx. Toppquough= Nights.
 yyy. Nepawweshowghs= Moones.
 zzz. Pawpaxsoughes, Yeares. aaaa. Pummahumps= Starres.
 bbbb. Osies=, Heavens
 cccc. Okees= Gods.
 dddd. Quiyoughcosoughs= Pettie Gods and their affinities. eeee. Righcomoughes= Deaths.
 ffff. Kekughes= Lines.
 gggg. Mowchick woyawgh tawgh noeragh kaqueremecher= I am very hungry? what shall I eate!
 hhhh. Tawnor nehiegh Powhatan= Where dwels Powhatan.
 iii. Mache nehiegh yourowgh Oropaks.= Now he dwels a great way hence at Oropaks.
 jjjj. Vittapitchewayne anpechitchs n e-kawper Werowacomoco= You lie he stayed ever at Werowacomoco.

kkkk. Kator nehiegh mat tag h neer vttapitcheicayne= Truly he is there I do not lie.

llll. Spaugktyner keragh werowance mawmarinough kekate wawgh peyaguaugh.= Run you then to the King Mawmarynough and bid him come hither mmmm. Vtteke, e peya weyack wighwhip= Get you gone and come againe quickly.

nnnn. Kekaten Pokahontas Patiaquagh niugh tanks manotyens neer mowchick rawrenock audowgh= Bid Pokahontas bring hither two little Baskets and I will giue her white Beads= to make her a Chaiue.

924. Pampticough Words

- a. One= Weernbot.
- b. Two= Neshinnauh.
- c. Three= Nish-wonner.
- d. Four= Yau-Ooner.
- e. Five= Umperren.
- f. Six= Who-yeoc.
- g. Seven= Top-po-osh.
- h. Eight= Nau-haush-shoo.
- i. Nine= Pach-ic-conk.
- j. Ten= Cosh.
- k. Rum= Weesaccon.
- l. Blankets= Mattosh.
- m. White= Wop-poshaumosh.
- n. Red= Mish-cosk.
- o. Black or Blue= idem Mow-cotto-wosh.
- p. Gunpowder= Oungue.
- q. Shot= Ar-rounser.
- r. Knife= Rig-cosq.
- s. Ax= Tomma-hick.
- t. Tobacco= Hoohepan.
- u. Hat= Mottau-quahan.
- v. Fire= Tinda.
- w. Water= Umpe.
- x. Goat= Taus-won.
- y. Awl or Needle= Moc-cose.
- z. A Hoe= Rosh-shocquon.
- aa. Salt= Chuwon.
- bb. Paint= Mis-kis-'su.
- cc. Ronoak= Ronoak.

- dd. Peak= Gau hooptop.
- ee. Gun= Gun tock seike.
- ff. Gun-lock= Hinds.
- gg. Flints= Rappatoc.
- hh. A Flap= Maachone.
- ii. A Pine Tree= Onnossa.
- jj. Englishman= Tosh-shonte.
- kk. Indians= Nuppin.

925. Powhatan Concepts

a. Standard Powhatan

- i. Que tu-san memmowchicktagwassan lio Powhatan como quoy.

b. Commomais

- i. We speak Spanish and French and you LOVE IT.

c. Macherew

- i. How and when to use Japanese grammar with Powhatan.
 - 1. Io wa macherew wo utta-san pas entender.
 - a. Io wa macherew wo aand utta-san ne comprendre.
 - 2. Grammar wa changemente wo matath mayance.
 - a. Sse grammar changer und matath mayance.
 - 3. Powhatan Idioms wa preferan.
 - a. Avetl idioms Powhatan werde zijn preferan.
 - 4. Niar wa Cuttere Windg.
 - a. Io bin Cuttere Windg.
 - b. Io so Cuttere Windg.
 - c. Ca Cuttere Windg, yowkk.
 - d. Io sein Cuttere Windg.

d. Matchqueo

- i. How to speak Castellano.
 - 1. Claro ke debes hablar y entender castellano para el base de Powhatan. Obviamente preferemos ke hagamos de 'commomais' o 'matchqueo' o 'macherew', pero es ke hablar Castellano es entender nuestro continente. Si vas a hablar castellano pues hablas Mexicano obviamente.

e. Seseo

- i. Tu sais ke ce chose s'est memmowchicktagwassan aand c'est ne pah sa la dakara se te imposer des regels asi.

926. Proto-Algonquian

- a. Min (Proto-Algonquian) = Berries

927. Ojibwe Words and Phrases

- a. Boozoo = hello

- b. Maadaa'an = it drifts on the waves
- c. Miigwech = thank you
- d. Nawadizo = they catch on fire
- e. Niisaakiwe = s/he goes downhill
- f. Manoomin = wild rice
- g. Wiidosem = walk with someone
- h. Minis = island
- i. Gego = don't
- j. Napodin = dumpling
- k. Mangoonagad = It is a big boat
- l. Ziibi = river
- m. Giitaabikizh = to free someone
- n. Gikino'amaadiwigamig = School
- o. Mandaamin = Corn
- p. Mandaaminaak = Cornstalk
- q. Ningacimoonowin = a sail

928. Anashinabemowin/Anishenabek Words

- a. Zgime = Mosquito
- b. Aambe bigizdaa = let's go swimming
- c. Dagoniganan = seasonings
- d. N'jibaakwe = I am cooking
- e. Aniibiishan = leaves
- f. Niimikage = s/he dances for a purpose
- g. Mooz = moose
- h. Nimandemgadam = sorry

929. Nishnaabemwin Words

- a. Shigan = Bass

930. Cree

- a. The Cree word for "eggs" is wâwa. The word for "to lay eggs" is pinâwêw.
Specific types of eggs have different words, such as wâhkwan for "fish egg".

931. Arawakan (Taino – Jamaica, Cuba, Puerto Rico, Aiti)

- a. Barbecue
- b. Hammock
- c. Hurricane
- d. Iguana
- e. Maize
- f. Papaya
- g. Savanna
- h. Guava

932. Spanish Words & Phrases

- a. Guey (Mexico) = dude, bro

- b. Disque (Dominican) = supposedly
- c. Ya = already, enough
- d. Lo mas importante = the most important
- e. Que te manda (Puerto Rico/Colombia)
- f. A flor de piel = thin skin
- g. Onde (Colombia) = donde; where
- h. Nene/a (Puerto Rican) = boy/girl
- i. Marica (Colombia) = dude, bro; faggot
- j. Quiubo (Colombia) = what's up
- k. Que Hubo (Colombia) = what's up; what happened
- l. Pues (Colombia) = like
- m. Osea (Colombia) = in other words; I mean...
- n. Disque osea, pues...
- o. Puñeta (Puerto Rico) = shit!; damn!; masturbate/hand job
- p. Coño = damn!; shit!; pussy
- q. Vale (Spaniard usage)
 - i. Valer -> lo Valo, Yoowh Valeu, Ya [es]ta Valen, lo Valei, Yoowh Valei
 - 1. [Het] ta valen a cinco porciento plus.
- r. Tio (Spain) = dude
- s. Foforo (Puerto Rico) = encendedor; lighter;
- t. Quenepa (Puerto Rico) = mamoncillo (Colombia)
- u. Bizcocho (Puerto Rico) = cake
- v. Pastel (Puerto Rico) = tamales
- w. Galleta (Dominican) – while this literally means cookie, in the Dominican slang it stands for giving someone a slap/smack in the face or butt.
- x. Cualto (Dominican) = money
- y. Parce (Colombia) = amigo
- z. Plata (Colombia) = money (slang), silver; 銀 (gin)
- aa. Vacano (Colombia) = cool, very good
- bb. Hijueputa = hijo de puta = son of a bitch
- cc. Efectivo (Puerto Rico) = money
- dd. Ete tu! (Puerto Rico) = hey you!
- ee. Chevere (Puerto Rico) = cool
- ff. Jodete (Puerto Rico) = go fuck yourself
- gg. Cabron (Puerto Rico) = mother fucker; cool
- hh. Chichar (Puerto Rico) = to fuck
- ii. Tal cual = exactly; just like that
- jj. No me jodes = don't bother me; fuck off!
- kk. Déjame en paz = leave me alone
- ll. Maldita sea = goddamn mm. Ya me va creciendo = I'm already growing on me / my ___ is already growing nn. -e gender neutral adjectives

- i. Elle/elles
- ii. Amigues
- iii. Tode(s)
- iv. Latine(s)
- v. Alte

oo. Picar = itch; sting

pp. Al igual que = just like

qq. Toto (Puerto Rico) = pussy

rr. Bicho (Puerto Rico) = dick, cock, penis

933. Portuguese Words & Phrases

- a. Valeu (Brazilian) = ok
- b. A gente (Brazilian) = us, we
- c. Cara (Brazilian) = tio (Spaniard)
- d. Parceiro = Parce
- e. Axe (Brazilian/Yoruba)
- f. Precisar = necessitar; to need
- g. Ali = alli
- h. Ficar = quedar; stay
- i. A gente fica mordido, não fica? = We get bitten, don't we?
- j. Licença = excuse

934. Italian Words & Phrases

- a. Fico = Fig
- b. Normale
- c. Facisti
- d. Segno = sign
- e. Bell@
- f. Avere
 - i. Io ho / Tu hai / Lei, Lui ha / Loro Hanno / Voi Avete / Noi Abbiamo
 - ii. Avei, Avah
- g. Vita
- h. Cuttere
- i. Vermicelli
- j. Spaghettoni
- k. Ai = Hacia / au / para o / ao
- l. quanta: (feminine singular): How much
 - i. quanto: (masculine singular): How much
 - ii. quanti: (masculine plural): How many
 - iii. quante: (feminine plural): How many
- m. Quando = where

- n. Come = how
- o. Che = what
- p. Dove = where
- q. Di = da
- r. Questo = this
- s. Quello = that
- t. Quelli/quelle = those
- u. Questi/Queste = these
- v. Chi = quien
- w. Loro = them
- x. essi/esse = they
- y. Lui = he
- z. Lei = she
- aa. Noi = we
- bb. Voi = ustedes
- cc. Ma = but (as in ma è un'altra cosa)
- dd. Oggi = today
- ee. No
- ff. Non = not
- gg. C'è (che-ik-sew) = hay
- hh. Essere = ser
 - i. Presente io sono tu sei lei/lui è noi siamo voi siete loro sono
 - ii. Imperfetto io ero tu eri lei/lui era noi eravamo voi eravate loro erano
 - iii. Passato remoto io fui tu fosti lei/lui fu noi fummo voi foste loro Furono
 - iv. Futuro semplice io sarò tu sarai lei/lui sarà noi saremo voi sarete loro saranno
- ii. Voi = tu
- jj. Dovere = tem que
- kk. Fare = hacer
- ll. Buono = bueno
- mm. O = or
- nn. Probabile = posiblemente
- oo. Camminare = caminar; sto (estoy); sono (tu) sta (el/ella); stanno (ellos); stiamo (nosotros) camminando
- pp. Mangiare = comer; estoy comiendo = sto mangiando
- qq. Della = desde
- rr. Alla = al
- ss. In = en
- tt. Giorno = dia
- uu. Volere = querer = Presente (Indicativo) io voglio tu vuoi lei/lui vuole noi vogliamo voi volete loro vogliono; Imperfetto io volevo tu volevi lei/lui voleva noi volevamo voi volevate loro volevano Futuro Semplice io vorrò tu vorrai lei/lui vorrà noi vorremo voi vorrete loro vorranno
- vv. Capelli = hair

- ww. Chiedere = to ask for
- xx. Disturbare = to bother
- yy. mi@ = mi(a)
- zz. Economico = cheap; 'facisti dell'economico'
- aaa. Costoso
- bbb. Nazista
- ccc. Aperitivo
- ddd. Cervo = deer
- eee. Tacchino = turkey
- fff. Orso = bear
- ggg. Uccello = bird
- hhh. Studio = estudiar, aprender
- iii. Mai = nunca
- jjj. Ho / ha / hai visto, mangiato
- kkk. The most common way to say "leave me alone" in Italian is "Lasciami stare!" or "Lasciami in pace!".
- lll. Senza = without
- mmm. Dal cuore = from the heart
- nnn. Amic@

935. Galician Words

- a. C@(s)

936. Japanese Words & Phrases & Particles

- a. The word "date" in Japanese has a few meanings: it can refer to a specific calendar day (日付 - hizuke, or using 年/月/日), a romantic outing/meeting (デート - dēto, from English), or a sense of stylishness/sophistication (伊達 - date). The calendar date format is Year-Month-Day (e.g., 2025年12月31日).
- b. それ (sore): Refers to "that" when the object is near the listener.
- c. その (sono): Used before a noun to mean "that" (e.g., "sono hon" - that book).
- d. あれ (are): Refers to "that" when the object is far from both the speaker and the listener.
- e. Demo = But
- f. Domo = Thank you
- g. Tenki = Weather
- h. Nemui = Sleepy
- i. Bala = Bullet
- j. Honto[ni] = really??
- k. 物の哀れ The Japanese phrase '物の哀れ' (mono no aware) refers to the bittersweet feeling of the impermanence and transience of things.
- l. Tabete ii.
 - i. Can I eat?

- m. Tabete mo ii yo (食べてもいいよ)
 - i. You can eat it.
- n. Dashite mo ii yo
 - i. It's ok to let it out
- o. もう (mō): Means "already" or "now". In this context, it emphasizes that something has reached a certain point.
- p. いい (ii): Means "good" or "okay".
- q. よ (yo): A sentence-ending particle that adds emphasis or a feeling of reassurance.
- r. Positive "It's enough": If someone is offering you a drink and pours just the right amount, you can say "Mō ii yo" (もういいよ) to indicate the drink has reached the perfect level.
- s. Negative "That's enough": If a friend is whining and you've had enough of it, you can say "Mō ii yo" (もういいよ) to tell them to stop.
- t. Resignation "I'm done" or "Forget it": If a situation is causing you frustration, "Mō ii yo" (もういいよ) can mean you've given up or are finished with it.
- u. 威 (い, i) = authority, power, prestige
 - i. 虎の威を借る (とらのいをかゝる, tora no i wo kar[ir]u kitsune)
- v. Oishii
- w. そして (soshite)
- x. 皇 すめ sume
- y. Fujin (婦人)
- z. Josei (女性)
- aa. Ojousan/Ojousama (お嬢さん / お嬢様)
- bb. Okusan (奥さん): Means "wife" or "Mrs."
- cc. Okaasan (お母さん): Means "mother"
- dd. Oboeru (覚える) = remember
- ee. Hintoni
- ff. kono (この) = this
- gg. [Onegai]shimasu (お願いします or おねがいします) = please
- hh. "ge" (げ) when used as a suffix, particularly after the stem of an adjective, indicates that something appears to be a certain way, or that it gives off the feeling of a particular state or emotion. It's often translated as "looks like," "seems," or "appears to be".
- ii. そう (sou): "Ge" and "sou" (そう), which also means "looks like," are similar, but "ge" has more restrictions on which adjectives it can be used with. "Sou" is generally more widely applicable than "ge".

jj. "Kimigayo" (君が代) means "His Imperial Majesty's Reign" or "your reign," referring to the Emperor of Japan. The word kimi can mean "you" or "your,"

kk. "Tsumori" (つもり)

- i. Tsumori desu (つもりです): This is the polite form and is used to express a general intention.
- ii. Tsumori datta (つもりだった): This form indicates a past intention that did not come to fruition.
- iii. Nai tsumori (ないつもり): This form expresses the intention of not doing something.
- iv. Tsumori de (つもりで): This form indicates an intention to do something.
- v. Tsumori wa nai (つもりはない): This phrase means "I have no intention of..." and can be a more forceful way of expressing lack of intention
- vi. Nyūseihin o kau tsumoridesu

ll. In Japanese, "if you want to" can be translated in several ways depending on the context. For a general "if you want to" (like "if you want to eat"), you can use "もし～たいなら" (moshi ~tai nara), or "もし～なら" (moshi ~nara) with a verb in the -masu form. If you want to express wanting something, you can use "欲しい (hoshii)" for nouns or "～たい (tai)" for actions.

- i. もし～たいなら (moshi ~tai nara):
This is a common way to say "if you want to" followed by a verb in the "tai" form (expressing desire). For example, "もし食べたいなら" (moshi tabetai nara) means "if you want to eat".
- ii. もし～なら (moshi ~nara):
This is a more general "if you want to" using the "nara" conditional, often used with verbs in the -masu form. For example, "もし行きたいなら" (moshi ikitainara) means "if you want to go".
- iii. Tami can be written in several ways using kanji (Chinese characters). One common way is with the kanji 民, which means "people," "citizens," or "subjects". It can also be written using two kanji, such as 多 (ta, meaning "many" or "much") and 美 (mi, meaning "beauty")
- iv. "Yoku" (よく) is a versatile Japanese adverb with multiple meanings, including "well," "often," "skillfully," "fully," or "quite"
- v. "doro" (泥, どろ) primarily means "mud"
- vi. "sai" (さい) has multiple meanings, primarily related to age and occasion

- vii. "saiyo" (採用) can be translated to mean employment, hire, or appoint
- viii. Satori (Japanese: 悟り) is a Japanese Buddhist term for "awakening", "comprehension; understanding"
- ix. Sai doro 最泥 = the dirtiest
- mm. 欲しい (hoshii) (hoshii):
Used to express desire for a noun. For example, "お金が欲しい (okane ga hoshii)" means "I want money".
- nn. ～たい (tai) (tai):
Used to express desire to perform an action. For example, "食べたい (tabetai)" means "want to eat".
- oo. 良ければ (yokereba):
A more polite and versatile way to say "if you want" or "if it's okay" according to a user on Quora.
- pp. Yamete (やめて)
- qq. Yappari (やっぱり)
- rr. Daijoubu (大丈夫) = good, fine ok
- ss. Ka (か) = used at the end of sentences to indicate a question
 - i. Desu ka? (is it?; is that so?)
- tt. Desu (です) = used at the end of sentences to indicate being
 - i. "Janai" (じゃない) is a casual Japanese phrase that functions as the negative form of "desu" (です), meaning "is" or "am"
 - ii. Datta / desho
- uu. Wa (は) (North Dakotan usage)
- vv. Ga (が) (from Powhatan: maangairagwatowh)
- ww. Wo (を) (from Powhatan: muttaqwohoons)
- xx. Wakaranai (わからない) = Kanyough; 'I don't know'
- yy. Kudasai (ください)
 - i. Tasukete kudasai! (help me, please!)
- zz. Masaka (まさか) = never
- aaa. Taberu yo = I'll eat
- bbb. Moshi tai nara = if [i/you/she/he/it/they/them/us] want to
- ccc. Bunshin 分身 = clone
- ddd. Iyadatta = I didn't like it
- eee. "tada" (ただ)
- fff. Damatte = I shut up
- ggg. Shijin = poet
- hhh. Sorekara = then
- iii. Soshite = then
- jjj. 人種主義, jinshushugi

kkk. 王国 okoku = kingdoms
lll. Jinsei 人生 = life
mmm. Remon nashi de (レモンなしで) = "without lemon"
nnn. kore o (これを) | kono = "this (object)"
ooo. tameshite inai (試していない) = "haven't tried"
ppp. ひとつです (hitotsu desu) = there's one, it's one
qqq. 人です (hito desu) = "It is a person"
rrr. 一人です (hitori desu) = "One person" / "Alone"
sss. 不審です (fushin desu) = "I am suspicious" / "They are acting suspiciously"
ttt. 出身 (しゅっしん / shusshin) = hometown, origin, where someone is from
uuu. 東京出身です。
 Tōkyō shusshin desu.
 → "I'm from Tokyo." vvv. どこ出身ですか？
 Doko shusshin desu ka?
 → "Where are you from?"
www. 毎日 Mainichi = every day
xxx. Mo ete = Cut it out
yyy. Yaba(i)
zzz. In Japanese, 彼 (kare) primarily means "he" or "boyfriend". It can also be used to refer to "him" or be part of the phrase "his".
aaaa. Maji! (マジ!): This is a more casual expression used to convey strong emotion, similar to "seriously?!" or "really?!"
bbbb. kudasai (ください) generally translates to "please"
cccc. 自信 (jishin) - Self-confidence: This is the more common usage of "jishin" and refers to the feeling of believing in oneself and one's abilities.
dddd. 地震 (jishin) - Earthquake: This refers to a geological event where the ground shakes.
eeee. "Shiranai" (知らない) - I don't know, I am unaware ffff. "Janai" (じゃない) is a casual Japanese phrase that functions as the negative form of "desu" (です), meaning "is" or "am"
 i. Neki janai gggg. Ichiban (一番) = number one hhhh. 怖い Kowai = scary
iiii. "Tougou" (都合) in Japanese translates to convenience, circumstances, or conditions jjjj. "Aw crap" in Japanese can be translated as "くそ" (kuso) or yauppe kkkk. "yanai" (やない) can mean "is not" or "are not" in the Kansai dialect. It can also be a surname written in various kanji like 柳井, 柳内, or 箭内. Additionally, "yanai" (やに) can refer to resin or nicotine.

i. Neko yanai

llll. "Wakatteru" (わかってる) in Japanese means "I understand" or "I know"; wakata mmmm. Kurunda 来 means "come, arrive." To Come - To arrive or come to a place nnnn. Nani wo miteru desu ka = what are [you] looking at?

oooo. Ase 汗 = Sweat

pppp. "Yamero" (やめろ) is a Japanese term that translates to "stop it!" or "quit it!"

qqqq. 味 (aji)

rrrr. Tatemono = Building

ssss. "Dare da?" (does it mean "Who are you?" or "Who is there?" or something else?)

tttt. "Kikoenai" (聞こえない) is a Japanese phrase that translates to "I can't hear [you]" or "inaudible"

uuuu. そう (sou): "雨が降りそう" (ame ga furisou) - "It looks like it's going to rain".

i. furu (降る): This verb means "to fall" or "to rain/snow".

ii. sou (そう): This suffix, when attached to a verb stem, indicates that something appears or seems likely to happen.

vvvv. よう (you): "春のようだ" (haru no you da) - "It seems like spring".

www. The most common Japanese word for "butterfly" is chou (蝶).

Another, slightly more casual, way to say it is chouchou (蝶々). Both words are used to refer to the insect.

xxxx. (To Sasuke) "I float... like a butterfly. And sting like a bee! 'Cause I'm the Eight-Tails!" (蠅...蝶のように蠅.八尾...蜂のように刺す!, Mae... chō no you ni mae. Hachibi... hachi no you ni sasu!) – Killer Bee, Naruto yyyy. "Hara Hachi Bu," which literally means "stomach 80 percent full"

zzzz. まで (made) comes after an unexpected event or object

i. "Mr. Brown loves Japanese food. He eats not only rice and fish, but even pickled plums!" In Japanese we could say, "Buraun-san wa washoku ga suki da sou desu. Gohan ya sakana wa mochiron, umeboshi made(まで) tabemasu!" (ブラウンさんは和食が好きだそうです。ご飯や魚はもちろん、梅干しまで食べます！).

ii. Or: 'katon made?' – Kakashi Hatake

iii. まで can mark the ending point that corresponds with から's starting point. To see an example of this, we can look at the sentence

“Tokyo kara Kyoto made(まで) unten shimashita” (東京から京都まで運転しました) “I drove from Tokyo to Kyoto.”

- iv. までに (made ni) can turn it into a way to mark a time limit. You could mark a deadline like “Juugatsu tsuitachi made ni” (10月一日までに) “By the First of October.”
- v. You can also say までもない (made mo nai) to mean “it is unnecessary to...” For example, saying “Iu made mo nai” (言うまでもない) “Needless to say...”

aaaaa. In Japanese, "made" (まで) is a particle that signifies an end point in time, space, or order, functioning like the English words "until" or "to".

bbbbb. Kitama = ‘here [he/she/they] come’

ccccc. Sumu = to clear

dddd. Tate = get up

eeee. Suware = sit down ffff. Miro = to look ggggg. Koi = come here

hhhhh. Mate = wait

iiii. Ose = push jjjj. Isoge = hurry kkkk. Ireru = insert llll. Erabu = choose mmmmm. Osu = press

nnnn. Toridasu = take out oooo. Akeru = open pppp. Nomu = drink

qqqq. Shimeru = close rrrr. Suteru = throw away

ssss. "ちよつと待つて" (chotto matte)

tttt. Iyo = aite bet uuuu. Senjitsu 先日 = the other day

vvvv. Konotabi = this time

www. Sakihodo = a while ago

xxxx. Nochihodo = later yyyy. Syosyo = a little bit zzzz. Taihen = very aaaaa. Taki ni utareru = i will stand under the waterfall bbbbb. 隊長 (taichō) means captain, commander, or leader

ccccc. Oboreru = to drown dddd. Hayai = fast, early eeeeee. Karai = spicy ffffff. Shoppai = salty gggggg. Amai = sweet hhhhhh. Suppai = sour iiiii. Nigai = bitter jjjjj. Ippai = many kkkkkk. Sukoshi = few lllll. Osoi = slow mmmmmm. Samui = cold nnnnnn. Tooi = far oooooo. Chikai = close pppppp. Tsukeru = put on qqqqqq. Kiku = listen rrrrrr. Hazusu = take off sssss. Shimau = put away ttttt. Mawaru = To spin uuuuuu. Tobu = to jump vvvvvv. Korogaru = to roll wwwww. Ochiru = to fall xxxxxx. Suberu = to slip yyyyyy. Suberiochiru = to slip down zzzzzz. Korogaru = to roll aaaaaaa. Korogariochiru = to roll down bbbbbbb. Futsu = normal ccccccc. Meccha hayai = very fast ddddddd. Noboru = to go up eeeeeee. Oriru = to go down ffffff. 陛下 heika = your majesty ggggggg. Kurai = dark hhhhhhh. Akarui = light iiiii. Tsumetai = cold jjjjj. Anzen = safe kkkkkkk. Kiken = dangerous lllll. Tsuyoki = confident mmmmmmm. Yowaki = timid nnnnnnn. Kenko = healthy ooooooo. Fukenko = unhealthy ppppppp. Jubun = enough qqqqqqq. Fujubun = not enough rrrrrrr. Kano = possible sssssss. Fukano = impossible tttttt. Antei = stable uuuuuuu. Fuantei = unstable vvvvvvv. Yowai = weak

wwwwwww. ii = stomach

xxxxxxx. Tara ii = should;

- i. "～たらどうですか" (～tara dō desu ka): This is a softer, more conversational way to suggest something, similar to "how about...?"
- ii. Example: 病院に行ったらどうですか (Byōin ni ittara dō desu ka), meaning "You should go to the hospital" (as a suggestion).
- iii. Find the casual past form of a verb: This is often called the "ta-form" and is made by changing the verb to its plain past tense.
- iv. Example: 勉強する (benkyou suru - to study) becomes 勉強した (benkyou shita - studied).
- v. Add 「たらいい」: Attach the phrase 「たらいい」 to the end of the verb's past form.
- vi. Example: 勉強したらいい (benkyou shitara ii).
- vii. Add polite or casual endings if needed: You can add 「ですよ」 (～desu yo) for a suggestion or 「な」 (～na) for a wish.
- viii. Example: もっと勉強したらいいですよ (Motto benkyou shitara ii desu yo) – "It would be good if you studied more".
- ix. Example: 雨が止んだらいいな (Ame ga yandara ii na) – "I hope the rain stops".
- x. Examples in context
- xi. 彼に連絡したらいいと思います (Kare ni renraku shitara ii to omoimasu) – "I think it would be good if you contacted him".
- xii. 早く元気になったらいいですね (Hayaku genki ni nattara ii desu ne) – "It would be good if you got well soon".
- xiii. どうしたらいいですか？ (Dou shitara ii desu ka?) – "What should I do?" or "How should I do it?".

yyyyyyy. ～ほうがいい (～hou ga ii) represents a strong suggestion (you should do) rather than a command (you better/must do).

- i. それをする方がいい？しない方がいい？
- ii. (Sore o suru hou ga ii? Shinai hou ga ii?)
- iii. Should I do that? Or should I not do that?

zzzzzzz. ～はず (～hazu) = must be; usually placed at the end of sentences

- i. はずだ (hazu da). Meaning: it must be; it should be (expectation).
- ii. To say the opposite, "it cannot be...", use はずがない (hazu ga nai) aaaaaaa. べき (beki)

- i. べきだ (beki da). Meaning: should do; must do ~. This is used to express something we should do or must do.
- ii. 知るべき (shiru beki) = I should know
- iii. You can also use it in the past tense with だった (datta) / でした (deshita)
 - 1. 知るべきだった (shiru beki datta) = I should have known
- iv. To say the opposite, "you must not do", use:
 - 1. べきではない (beki dewa nai).
 - 2. てはいけない (te wa ikenai).
- bbbbbbbbb. Akeru = i open the door
- cccccccc. Shimeru = i close the door
- dddddddd. Aku = the door opens
- eeeeeeee. Shimaru = the door closes
- ffffff. Matagu = get on
- gggggggg. Susumu = ride
- hhhhhhh. Tomaru = stop
- iiiiiii. Magaru = turn
- jjjjjjj. Urusen da yo kuso yaro = shut your fucking mouth
- kkkkkkk. Dattebayo だってばよ = y'know?
- lllllll. uchi (うち) translates to several different concepts in English, most commonly meaning "inside", "home," or "we"
- mmmmmmm. Hi 日 = Sun
- nnnnnnn. Kaze = wind
- oooooooo. Teru = shines
- ppppppp. Bouya ii ko dane = good boy
- qqqqqqq. Dane だね (da ne)
- rrrrrrr. Verb past tense + Kotoaru = have you ever ___?
- sssssss. Maji de = really?!
- ttttttt. Kokkuri-san こっくりさん = ouija board
- uuuuuuu. 精神 seishin = spirit
- vvvvvvv. 魂 tamashi = soul
- wwwwwww. Nani mono da = who is that?
- xxxxxxx. Namakemono 怠け者 = lazy
- yyyyyyy. Japanese does not use words ending in "ly"; instead, adverbs are formed by altering the ending of Japanese adjectives, with "i-adjectives" changing their final "-i" to "-ku" and "na-adjectives" adding "-ni". For example, hayai (easy) becomes hayaku (easily), and kirei na (beautiful, a na-adjective) becomes kirei ni (beautifully)
- zzzzzzz. Sugu ni = immediately (hayaku)
- aaaaaaaa. 本能 hon'no = instinct

bbbbbbbbb. Nigeru 逃げる = to run away ccccccccc. でしょう (deshou) is normally used to express the speaker's inference or guess from some information he or she has.

ddddddddd. Dasu 出す = to take out, publish, put out, give up; or to serve as a conjunction for phrases like "cheer up" (genki dashite) eeeeeeeee. genki (元気) = energetic, healthy, lively, or feeling fine; 'genki desu ka?' => 'are you healthy?' Or 'how are you?'; "Cheer up!": You can tell someone to cheer up by saying "Genki wo dashite! (元気を出して!)".

fffffffff. Tabete ii = Can I eat now? / Shall I eat? (from Full Metal Alchemist Brotherhood)

i. Can I eat [that/this/he/she/it/you]?

ii. I'm going to eat [that/this/he/she/it/you] ggggggggg. Kisama 貴様 = you [bitch/bastard]

i. Kisama nani mono da = who the hell are you?

hhhhhhhhh. "daisuki" (大好き) means "I really like" or "I love" something or someone a great deal, with the character 大 (dai/quath) meaning "big" or "great" and 好き (suki) meaning "to like" or "to love"

iiiiiii. Katta = box cutter jjjjjjjjj. 手に入れました (te ni iremashita) → Literally: "put into (my) hands"; Idiomatic meaning: "got it / obtained it / acquired it"

i. 入れた (ireta) → "got it"

ii. 手に入った (te ni haitta) → Literally: "it came into my hands" → "it came to me / I got it."

iii. To have (possession of something):

1. ある (aru): Used for inanimate objects.

a. Example: ペンがある (pen ga aru) - "I have a pen."

2. います (imasu): Used for living things (people, animals).

a. Example: 友達がいる (tomodachi ga iru) - "I have a friend."

3. To possess or hold (the act of holding something):

a. 持つ (motsu): Used when referring to the action of holding something.

b. Example: このバッグを持つ (kono baggu o motsu) - "To hold this bag."

4. To have (an experience or a state):

a. This often requires different verbs depending on the state, like 分かる (wakaru) for understanding or 感じる (kanjiru) for feeling.

- b. Example: 良い気分がある (yoi kibun ga aru) can imply "I feel good," but a more natural way might be 良い気分だ (yoi kibun da) or 幸せだ (shiawase da).

kkkkkkkkk. よ (YO) is used to give more weight to what is said, encourage someone to do something, emphasize a request.

lllllllll. Hajimatana = it has begun mmmmmmmmm. そうなる so naru vs narimasu nnnnnnnnn. Kuru くる = upcoming ooooooooo. 更新 (こうしん, kōshin), which means to update or renew a document, contract, or license.

ppppppppp. 再生 (さいせい, saisei): Implies rebirth, regeneration, or restoration after something has been lost, destroyed, or died.

qqqqqqqqq. "kanzen" (完全) most commonly means perfect or complete rrrrrrrrr. "moto" (moto) primarily means "origin, source, or basis" and can be written with various kanji, such as 元 (beginning, origin) or 本 (base, root). It is also used to refer to the fermentation starter in sake brewing and can function as a prefix meaning "ex-" or "previous" (e.g., moto kano for "ex-girlfriend").

- i. Yamamoto (山本): A common surname meaning "mountain base" or "mountain origin" (yama 山 meaning mountain and moto 本 meaning base or origin).
- ii. moto moto (元々): Means "from the start" or "originally".
- iii. Damemoto (ダメ元): A phrase that means "there's nothing to lose" or "might as well give it a try".

sssssssss. "for starters" can be expressed by the phrase まずは (mazume wa), which means "first of all" or "to begin with". For example, you could say まずは、コーヒーでもいかがですか？ (Mazu wa, kohī demo ikaga desu ka?), meaning "For starters, how about some coffee?".

- i. Here are a few other ways to say "for starters" depending on the nuance:
- ii. はじめに (hajime ni): Similar to 「まずは」, this means "at the beginning" or "initially".
- iii. 初めに (hajime ni): This is another way to say "in the beginning" and can also be used.
- iv. Example Phrases:
- v. まずは、この話題について話しましょう。 (Mazu wa, kono wadai ni tsuite hanashimashou.):
- vi. "For starters, let's talk about this topic."

ttttttt. "Somewhat" can be translated into Japanese as やや (yaya), ある程度 (aru teido), いくぶん (ikubun), or 多少 (tasho), depending on the context and nuance you want to convey, with ちょいと (choito) or ちょっと (chotto) being common for "a little" or "slightly" in a less formal context.

- i. "Chotto dake" (ちょっとだけ) is a Japanese phrase meaning "just a little bit" or "only a little". It's a combination of "chotto" (ちょっと), which means "a little", and "dake" (だけ), a particle that functions like "only" or "just". The phrase is commonly used to indicate a small amount, degree, or extent of something.
- ii. "Chotto dake nihongo ga hanaseru.": (ちょっとだけ日本語が話せる。) - "I speak a little bit of Japanese".
- iii. "Chotto dake oishii.": (ちょっとだけ美味しい。) - "It's just a little delicious".
- iv. "Chotto dake shiritai.": (ちょっとだけ知りたい。) - "I want to know just a little".

uuuuuuuuu. "Somewhat" can be translated to Japanese in several ways, depending on the nuance, with common options including ちょっと (\(chotto\)), やや (\(yaya\)), 多少 (\(tashou\)), and いささか (\(isaskaka\)). ちょっと is versatile and frequently used, while やや and 多少 are suitable for a slightly more formal context.

vvvvvvvvv. 電気 (denki) translates to "electricity" or "(electric) light" in English. The word is composed of two kanji: 電 (den), meaning electricity or lightning, and 気 (ki), meaning spirit or energy.

- i. Here are some examples of how denki is used:
- ii. 電気代 (denki-dai): Electricity charge or bill.
- iii. 電気屋 (denkiya): A shop selling electrical appliances.
- iv. 電気風呂 (denkifuro): An electric bath.
- v. Denki da ne: Take care of yourself; thank you!

wwwwwwwww. "Chotto matte" (ちょっと待って) is a Japanese phrase that means "wait a moment" or "wait a sec". It can be used informally among friends, but to be more polite, you can add "kudasai" to make it "chotto matte kudasai" (ちょっと待ってください), meaning "please wait a moment".

xxxxxxxxx. Iteh = Ouch

yyyyyyyyy. 「ブラウンシュガーガム持ってる」

- i. ➡ Buraun shugā gamu motteru
- ii. That's the casual, slangy way of saying "I got brown sugar gum."

zzzzzzzzz. Teme = Maldito

aaaaaaaaa. "issho ni" (一緒に) means "together", or "at the same time". It is used to indicate that an action is performed by more than one person or thing, or that something happens simultaneously.

- i. 一緒に行きましょう！ (Issho ni ikimashou!) - "Let's go together!"

- ii. 明日、一緒に映画を見よう！ (Ashita, issho ni eiga o miyou!) - "Let's watch a movie together tomorrow!"
- iii. 彼は一緒に歌い始めました。(Kare wa issho ni utai hajimemashita.) - "He started singing at the same time" (or "singing together").

bbbbbbbbbb. さすが (sasuga) can be translated as "as expected" or "truly" cccccccccc. Zenzen = never dddddddddd. Taitei = usually eeeeeeeeee. Yoku = often fffffftttt. Tokidoki = sometimes gggggggggg. Mettani = rarely hhhhhhhhhh. Amari = seldom, excess iiiiiiiiii. Tamani = once in a while jjjjjjjjjj. So da = that's right kkkkkkkkkk. ~ itadakimasu ka = Can I have ~?

- i. Fork ita ka?
- ii. Tu-chan wo 'manejar' ita ka?
- iii. Kear o manejar itadakimasu ka?

llllllllll. Nanka = something / somehow

- i. Nanka tabetai = I want to eat something
- ii. Nanka suki = I somehow like it mmmmmmmmmm. "suddenly" in Japanese are 突然 (totsuzen), いきなり (ikinari), and 急に (kyuu ni), with the best choice depending on the specific context.

- i. Here are the common options for "suddenly" in Japanese:
- ii. 突然 (totsuzen): This is a very common and versatile word for "sudden" or "abruptly".
- iii. Example: 彼女は突然私たちに向かって怒鳴り始めた (Kanojo wa totsuzen watashitachi ni mukatte donarihajimeta) - She suddenly started yelling at us.
- iv. いきなり (ikinari): This adverb means "all at once" or "abruptly" and emphasizes something unexpected or unpredicted.
- v. Example: いきなり泣き出した (Ikinari nakidashita) - All of a sudden, he started to cry.
- vi. 急に (kyuu ni): This is a very common adverb that means "suddenly" and is similar to the English phrase "suddenly" or "quickly".
- vii. Example: 急に寒くなった (Kyu ni samuku natta) - It suddenly got cold.

1. Oretachi ga samuku natta nnnnnnnnnn. 寒く (samuku) = cold (adverbial form of 寒い samui)

oooooooooo. desu です

pppppppppp. desu corresponds to "is" as in the example sentences below qqqqqqqqqq.

rrrrrrrrrr. kore wa hon desu this is a book ssssssssss. otenki ga waruii desu the weather is bad tttttttttt. watashi-no otosan wa funanori deshita my father was a sailor uuuuuuuuuu. Notice the past tense slipped into the last sentence. Desu isn't used in all tenses like most "normal" verbs but can be used as below vvvvvvvvvv. desu - to be Positive Negative

- i. Present Plain da dewa nai
- ii. Polite desu dewa arimasen
- iii. Past Plain datta dewa nakatta
- iv. Polite deshitadewa arimasen deshita
- v. Probable Plain darō dewa nai darō
- vi. Polite deshō dewa nai deshō
- vii. desu is also known as the Copula

wwwwwwwww. aru ある

- i. aru means is or exists for the location of inanimate objects
- ii. okane ga arimasuka? have you got any money?
- iii. shinbun wa, teberu ni arimasu the newspaper is on the table
- iv. aru - is, exists Positive Negative
- v. Present Plain aru nai
- vi. Polite arimasu arimasen
- vii. Past Plain atta nakatta
- viii. Polite arimashita arimasen deshita
- ix. Probable Plain aru darō nai darō
- x. Polite aru deshō nai deshō xxxxxxxxxx. iru いる

- i. iru means is or exists for the location of people or animals
- ii. neko wa doko ni imasuka? where is the cat?
- iii. kino wa London ni imashitaka? Were you in London yesterday?
- iv. iru - is, exists Positive Negative
- v. Present Plain iru inai
- vi. Polite imasu imasen
- vii. Past Plain itta inakatta
- viii. Polite imashita imasen deshita
- ix. Probable Plain iru darō inai darō
- x. Polite iru deshō inai deshō yyyyyyyyyy. Use 同じ (onaji) when things are identical. Use 似ている (niteiru) or のように (no yō ni) when they are similar or comparable.

- i. ～～ (noun or clause): The thing that is being compared.
- ii. と (to): A particle that indicates the item of comparison.
- iii. 同じ (onaji): The word for "same".
- iv. 日本語と英語は同じです。(Nihongo to eigo wa onaji desu.)
- v. Translation: Japanese and English are the same.

zzzzzzzzzz. "asa" (朝, あさ, アサ) means "morning" or "dawn". It signifies the beginning of the day and a fresh start. For example, the phrase "asa kara" (朝から) means "from morning" or "since morning".

aaaaaaaaaaa. Nande sore wa = what is that?

bbbbbbbbbbb. if you want to make "noun + -er" in Japanese, you choose:

- i. 師 (shi) = master/professional (doctor, alchemist)
 - 1. 医師 (ishi) = doctor (medicine master)
 - 2. 演奏家 (ensōka) = performer (music player, more artistic)
 - 3. 錬金術師 (renkinjutsushi) = alchemist (alchemy master)
- ii. 家 (ka) = professional/identity (musician, politician)
 - 1. 政治家 (seijika) = politician
 - 2. 音楽家 (ongakuka) = musician
 - 3. 芸術家 (geijutsuka) = artist
- iii. 者 (sha) = general person doing it (user, researcher)
 - 1. 研究者 (kenkyūsha) = researcher
 - 2. 学者 (gakusha) = scholar
 - 3. 使用者 (shiyōsha) = user

cccccccccc. the 「いて」 (ite) in 「私たちを信じていて」 (watashitachi o shinjite ite) comes from the verb いる (iru), meaning "to be / to exist" (for animate beings).

- i. Here's the breakdown:
- ii. 信じて (shinjite) → the て-form of 信じる (shinjiru) = "to believe."
- iii. When you add いる (iru) after a て-form, it expresses continuing state or ongoing action.
- iv. 信じている (shinjite iru) = "to be believing" → "to believe (and keep believing)."
- v. いて is simply the て-form of いる.
- vi. So 信じていて = "(be) believing and..." (with the sentence trailing into another clause).
- vii.  Examples for clarity:
- viii. 食べている (tabete iru) = "am eating / is eating."
- ix. 待っている (matte iru) = "am waiting."
- x. 信じていて (shinjite ite) = "be believing (and...) / keep believing."
- xi. So your phrase 「私たちを信じていて」 = "Keep believing in us" or "Be believing in us (and...)."

dddddddddd. Hatta is for emphasis eeeeeeeeeee. shima (しま or 島) primarily means "island," referring to a landmass surrounded by water. It can also mean "stripe" or "streak" (縞), and is also used as a common surname or as part of place names. When combined with another word, it sometimes changes pronunciation to jima (jima) or tō (tou), depending on the specific context and compound word.

- i. Island (島): The most common meaning, a landmass surrounded by water.
- ii. Stripe/Streak (縞): Used in words like "shima-uma" (zebra).
- iii. Territory (島): Can also refer to a "turf" or territory, such as that of a criminal organization.
- iv. Pronunciation Variations
 - 1. Shima (しま): The standalone Japanese reading for island, as in "sono shima ni ikou" (Let's go to that island).

2. Jima (じま): A common variation when the word is attached to another word or name. For example, Iwo Jima (硫黄島).
3. Tō (とう): Another possible reading of the kanji for island (島) when in a compound, such as the revised pronunciation of Iwo Jima to Iotō.

v. Examples of Usage

1. Place Names: Many Japanese islands have names ending in shima or jima, such as Oshima and Kakeroma-jima.
2. Surnames: Shima (島, 志摩) is a Japanese surname.
3. Words for Animals: Shima-uma (縞馬) means zebra.

ffffffffff. -shi (し) Comes from classical Japanese (文語 bungo). It's the attributive past form (kind of like a relative-clause marker in the past).

i. Modern equivalent would often be -ta (past tense).

ii. 👉 Example:

1. 見守りし旗 (mimamori-shi hata) = "the flag (that we) watched."

2. In modern Japanese: 見守った旗 (mimamotta hata).

iii. So -shi = an old way of saying "which (we) did ____" in the past.

ggggggggggg. -tari (たり) Also classical auxiliary verb. Indicates a perfective or completed action — similar to "was / did / has ____."

i. In modern Japanese, this is often replaced by -ta as well, or sometimes -te ita depending on nuance.

ii. 👉 Example:

1. 流れたり (nagaretari) = "(it) streamed / flowed (in full, completed sense)."

2. Modern Japanese: 流れた (nagareta).

iii. Classical Rōmaji Modern Japanese Modern Rōmaji English

1. ～し -shi ～た -ta (attributive past) → "which/that did"

2. 見守りし旗 mimamori-shi hata 見守った旗 mimamotta hata "the flag which [we] watched"

3. ～たり -tari ～た, ～ていた -ta, -te ita completed action / sometimes progressive

4. 流れたり nagare-tari 流れた nagareta "streamed" / "was flowing"

5. ～き -ki ～た -ta "(I) did / (I) remember doing"

6. 行きき iki-ki 行った itta "I went" (remembered)

7. ～けり -keri ～た, ～だつた -ta, -datta "Ah, it was..."

8. ～り -ri ～ている -te iru continuing state
9. 立てり tate-ri 立っている tatte iru “is standing”
10. ～たり -tari ～ている, ～ていた -te iru, -te ita progressive / perfect
11. 知りたり shiri-tari 知っている shitte iru “knows / is knowing”
12. ～けり -keri ～た, ～だった -ta, -datta exclamation, discovery
13. 花なりけり hana nari-keri 花だったなあ hana datta naa “Ah, it was a flower!”
14. ～なり -nari だ, である da, de aru assertion
15. 春なり haru nari 春だ haru da “It is spring.”
16. ～ぬ -nu ～た (-ta) perfective (not negation)
 - a. 死にぬ shini-nu 死んだ (shinda) “died”
17. ～む -mu ～だろう / ～しよう (-darou / -shiyō) volitional / future
 - a. 行かむ ika-mu 行こう (ikō) “let’s go / will go”
18. ～べし -beshi ～べきだ / ～だろう (-beki da / -darou) obligation / probability
 - a. 行くべし iku-beshi 行くべきだ (iku beki da) “should go / must go”

- iv. 見守る (mimamoru) = to watch over, observe, guard.
 - v. 上 (ue) = “Top / above / over.”
 - vi. 勇ましく (isamashiku)
 1. = From 勇ましい (isamashii) = brave, gallant, valiant.
 2. Adverbial form = “bravely / gallantly.”
 - vii. 流れる (nagareru) = to flow, stream, wave.
 - viii. 閃光 senkō = flash, glare, lightning-like sparkle
 - ix. 炸裂する sakuretsu suru = to explode, burst
 - x. 砲火 hōka = artillery fire, bombs, cannon fire
- hhhhhhhhhh. 証明する (shōmei suru) — “to prove” or “to demonstrate.”
- i. 証明 (shōmei) = proof, demonstration
 - ii. する (suru) = to do
 - iii. | Classical | Romanji | Modern Equivalent | English
 - iv. | ----- | ----- | ----- | ----- |
 - v. | 証明し | shōmei shi | 証明した (shōmei shita) | proved / demonstrated |
 - vi. | 証明き | shōmei ki | 証明した (shōmei shita) | proved / occurred |

vii. | 証明たり | shōmei tari | 証明していた (shōmei shite ita) | had proved / had demonstrated |

iiiiiiiiii. 星条旗 seijōki = star-spangled banner

jjjjjjjjj. 勇者 yūsha = brave person / hero kkkkkkkkkkk. 休む (yasumu) = "to rest / to take a break / to lie down."

- i. 休んで (yasunde) → て-form (connective / progressive)
- ii. 休んでいる (yasunde iru) = "is resting / is lying down / is taking a break."

iii. 休みたり (yasumitari)

1. Classical Japanese perfective / completive auxiliary
2. English: "has rested" / "rested"

iv. 休みぬ (yasuminu)

1. Classical Japanese perfective / completive auxiliary
2. English: "has completely rested" / "rested fully"

llllllllll. な (na) – adjectival particle used to turn certain nouns into na-adjectives, making them modify a noun.

mmmmmmmmmm. かくかに kasuka ni = faintly / dimly nnnnnnnnnn. 見える mieru = can be seen oooooooooooo. 岸辺 kishibe = shore / riverbank ppppppppppp. 広き (hiroki)

- i. From 広い (hiroii) = broad, wide.

qqqqqqqqqqq. "Nantoka" (なんとか or 何とか) means "somehow," "anyhow," or "manage to do," rrrrrrrrrr. "bakana" (ばかな or 馬鹿な) means "foolish," "stupid," "silly," or "idiotic" and is a shortened form of "Baka".

sssssssssss. the word "tari" is not a standalone word with a direct translation but a grammatical particle used to list examples of actions or qualities, often in the form of "V-たり V-たりする" (Verb-tari, Verb-tari suru), meaning "do things like A and B". It can also be used to describe repeated or opposite actions, like going and coming back.

- i. How to Use the ~たり ~たり Structure
- ii. Verbs: Take the verb's past tense form (the ta-form) and add たり (tari).
- iii. Example: 食べる (taberu - to eat) becomes 食べた (tabeta) and then 食べたり (tabetari).
- iv. Adjectives:
 1. i-adjectives: Add たり (tari) to the past tense form.
 2. Example: 美味しい (oishii - delicious) becomes 美味しかった (oishikatta) and then 美味しかったり (oishikattari).
 3. na-adjectives: Add だったり (dattari) to the past tense form.

- a. Example: 元気 (genki - healthy) becomes 元気だった (genki datta) and then 元気だったり (genki dattari).
4. Complete the sentence with suru (する): You can add する (suru) and conjugate it according to the tense to complete the phrase.
5. Meanings and Uses
6. Listing Examples: The most common use of the ~たり~たり form is to list a few actions or qualities as examples, with the implication that other things are also done.
7. Repeated or Opposite Actions: When the list contains opposing verbs, it can indicate repeated actions.
8. Example: 行ったり来たりする (ittari kitari suru) means "to go back and forth" or "to go and come many times".
9. Ambiguity or Uncertainty: The phrase "たりして" at the end of a sentence can express uncertainty or a joking tone, indicating something unlikely may be true.
- v. "Omae daro" (お前だろ) is a casual Japanese phrase that roughly translates to "You are, right?" or "You, huh?".
 1. Omae (お前): This is a very informal way to say "you," and can come across as rude or disrespectful to people you don't know well. However, it can be used between close male friends with a brotherly or casual tone.
 2. Daro (だろ): This is a casual way to end a sentence to seek confirmation or express a feeling of certainty. It's similar to "right?", "isn't it?", or "I guess so" in English.

tttttttttt. Yabai majide hoshii = It's crazy, I really want it uuuuuuuuuuuu. Yabai majide = it's scary, seriously vvvvvvvvvvvv. 氏族 (shizoku) for a clan or family, 一族 (ichizoku) for a related group of people or households, 氏 (uji) for ancient Japanese kin groups, and 家門 (kamon) for family or clan.

wwwwwwwwwww. 祖先 Sosen = ancestor xxxxxxxxxxxx. 王室の (ōshitsu no) for "royal family's" or "royal house," 皇族の (kōzoku no) for "imperial family member's," and 王立の (ōritsu no) for "royal" as in "royal institute."

yyyyyyyyyyyy. 含まれている (fukumerarete iru): The most common translation, meaning "to be included".

- i. Example: 朝食は含まれていますか? (Chōshoku wa fukumarete imasu ka?) which translates to "Is breakfast included?"
- ii. Example: 最新の診断テストに関する情報が含まれています。(Saishin no shindan tesuto ni kansuru jōhō ga fukumarete imasu.) which translates to "Information on the latest diagnostic tests is included."

Reverso Context.

- iii. 込み (komi): Often seen in pricing or bundled services to indicate that something is included in the price.
- iv. Example: 送料込み (sōryō komi), which means "shipping included."
- v. 付属 (fuzoku): Can also mean "included" or "attached".
- vi. Example: 付属のケーブル (fuzoku no kēburu), which means "the included cable."

zzzzzzzzzz. "Entonces" en japonés se puede traducir de varias maneras según el contexto, como じゃあ (\(jā\)) o それから (\(sorekara\)) para indicar una consecuencia o secuencia. Otras opciones incluyen それで (\(sorede\)), だから (\(dakara\)) y では (\(dewa\)). Por ejemplo: じゃあ (\(jā\)) - Se usa a menudo en conversaciones informales. それから (\(sorekara\)) - Significa "y entonces", "luego" o "después de eso". それで (\(sorede\)) - Se usa para indicar una consecuencia, como "por lo tanto" o "así". だから (\(dakara\)) - Similar a それで, indica causa o razón. では (\(dewa\)) - Es una forma más formal de "entonces".

aaaaaaaaaaaa. There is no single word for "to miss" in Japanese, as the translation depends on the context. To express missing a person, you can say 会いたい (aitai), meaning "I want to see you". To express missing a place or thing, you can use the adjective 恋しい (koishii), which means you long for it. Other phrases depend on whether you want to express loneliness (寂しい - sabishii) or a desire to meet them.

- i. For missing a person
- ii. 会いたい (Aitai): This is the most common and direct way to say "I miss you," literally translating to "I want to see you".
- iii. ~がいなくて寂しい (~ ga inakute sabishii): This literally means "I'm lonely because [person's name] isn't here." Be careful with this one, as it can sound like you're saying you have no friends, notes Renshuu.
- iv. For missing a place or thing
- v. 恋しい (Koishii): This adjective is used for things or places you long for.
- vi. うちが恋しい (Uchi ga koishii): "I miss home" or "I am homesick".
- vii. 故郷が恋しい (Kokyou ga koishii): "I miss my hometown".
- viii. 懐かしい (Natsukashii): This means "nostalgic" and can be used to describe something you fondly miss from the past. For example, 「あの頃が懐かしい」("Ano koro ga natsukashii") means "I'm nostalgic for those days."

- ix. ~があればいいのに (~ ga areba ii no ni): This phrase means "I wish I had...". For example, 「あの携帯があればいいのに」("Ano keitai ga areba ii no ni") means "I wish I still had that cell phone."
- x. Other contexts
- xi. To miss a bus or train: 乗り遅れる (norio kureru).
- xii. To miss an opportunity or make a mistake: 見逃す (minogasu) or 欠かす (kakasu).

bbbbbbbbbbbbbb. 暴利 (Bōri) = profit

- i. 暴 violence, force, outrage, cruelty
- ii. 利 interest, advantage, profit, benefit

cccccccccccc. 伝承 (\(denshō\)): This is a direct translation for "lore" and can mean tradition, folklore, or legend. 言い伝え (\(iitsutae\)): This term specifically refers to something that has been passed down through generations, similar to the English concept of lore.

ddddddddddddd. Kaminari (雷): The most common word for thunder.

- i. Raimei (雷鳴): A more specific term for "thunderclap".
- ii. Inazuma (稲妻): Specifically means "lightning" and literally translates to "rice wife".

eeeeeeeeeeeeee. "ara" (あら) is an interjection that means "oh," "ah," or "my"

fffffffffffff. "Semete" (せめて) has two main meanings in Japanese: as an adverb meaning "at least" or "at most" and as a noun meaning "method of attack" or "offense" (written as 攻め手 - semete).

ggggggggggggg. "Daga" (だが) is a Japanese conjunction that means "but" or "however," and is used to connect two contrasting ideas. It is a more formal and written way of saying "but," often appearing at the beginning of a sentence to link it to a preceding one, unlike the more casual kedo or the polite desuga.

hhhhhhhhhhhhh. "So" can mean several things in Japanese, such as "yes" or "that's right" (そう - sō), "in that way" or "seeming" (そう - sō), or "therefore" (だから - dakara). The specific meaning depends on the context, with the word sō often used in phrases like sō desu ne ("That's right, isn't it?").

iiiiiiiiiii. To say "I miss you" in Japanese, you can use 会いたい (Aitai), which literally means "I want to see you". A more direct expression of loneliness is 寂しい (Sabishii), which means "I'm lonely" or "I'm lonely without you". For a deeper, more nostalgic longing, use 恋しい (Koishii), often used for places or romantic feelings, and can be poetic or nostalgic.

- i. Casual: 会いたい (Aitai) - I miss you.
- ii. With emphasis: すごく会いたい (Sugoku aitai) - I miss you so much.

jjjjjjjjjj. "Glory" in Japanese can be translated in several ways depending on the context, with common words being 栄光 (\(eikō\)), 光栄 (\(kōei\)), and 名誉 (\(meiyō\)). 栄光 is often used for "glory" in a grand or triumphant sense, 光栄 emphasizes the honor and privilege, and 名誉 is a direct translation for "honor" or "reputation".

- i. 栄光 (\(eikō\)) Glory, a sense of triumph, or honor in a grand achievement. 光栄 (\(kōei\)) Glory as an honor or privilege; can be used when being recognized. 名誉 (\(meiyō\)) Honor, reputation, or a more general sense of praise and respect. 誉れ (\(homare\)) A more traditional or poetic way to say "glory" or "honor".

kkkkkkkkkk. "Ohio" is not a direct translation for the state, but the Japanese word "Ohayō" (おはよう) is pronounced similarly and means "good morning". For the state of Ohio, the Japanese translation is アメリカ合衆国 オハイオ州 (\(Amerika-\text{gasshūkoku}\ Ohhaio-shū\)), which literally means "United States, Ohio State". "Ohayō" (おはよう): A casual "good morning" greeting that sounds like the U.S. state. "Ohayō gozaimasu" (おはようございます): A more formal "good morning" greeting. アメリカ合衆国 オハイオ州 (\(Amerika-\text{gasshūkoku}\ Ohhaio-shū\)): The full, formal way to refer to the state itself, "United States, Ohio State".

llllllllll. "Moto" in Japanese can have multiple meanings depending on the context and kanji used, but the most common meanings are "origin" or "base" (元, 本). It can be a given name, part of a surname like Yamamoto (山 "mountain" + 元 "base"), a prefix for "former" or "ex-" (e.g., moto kare for "ex-boyfriend"), or refer to the "fermentation starter" in sake brewing.

mmmmmmmmmm. The most common Japanese word for "more" is もっと (motto). Other words and phrases include もう (mou) for "a little more" or "one more," and 以上 (ijou) for "more than" or "X or more". The best choice depends on the context, such as whether you are adding to an adjective, noun, or quantity.

nnnnnnnnnn. Nellie shouts "謳え" (Utae), which translates to "Declare" or "Praise".

oooooooooooo. "Fuku" in Japanese can have several meanings, most commonly good fortune/luck (福) or clothing (服). Other meanings include to blow (吹く), to wipe (拭く), or can be used in compound words. The correct meaning depends entirely on the context or the kanji character used to write it.

pppppppppp. The Japanese words for "forever" include 永遠 (eien), which is more poetic, and 永久 (eikyū), which is more formal. In spoken Japanese, ずっと (zutto) can mean "forever" or "always" and いつまでも

(itsumademo), meaning "until whenever," is also common and more casual

qqqqqqqqqqqq. "Yaya" in Japanese has several meanings depending on the context, including slightly or a little (written as 稍 or 漸), interjections like "oh" or "no way" (written as ややや), and a common female given name written with various kanji. It can also be part of other words like the exclamation "yatta" (meaning "I did it!" or "yay!").

rrrrrrrrrrr. Common meanings of "kyuu"

- i. Nine (九): This is the most common meaning, especially when referring to the number 9 in Japanese.
- ii. Sudden/Urgent (急): Used to describe something happening quickly or urgently, such as a sharp turn or a steep hill.
- iii. Level/Grade (級): In this case, it refers to a level or degree of proficiency, particularly in martial arts, academic tests, or games like Go.
- iv. Sphere/Ball (球): This kanji is used for the word for a sphere or as a counter for balls in games like baseball.
- v. Wage/Recompense (給): This meaning is used to refer to salary or pay.
- vi. Queue (キュー): This is a loanword from English, used in technical contexts like computer science to refer to a "queue".
- vii. The Japanese words for "crazy" depend on the context, but common translations include おかしい (\(okashii\)), meaning "strange" or "funny," やばい (\(yabai\)), meaning "crazy," "dangerous," or "amazing," and 頭がおかしい (\(atama\) ga \(okashii\)), which literally means "head is strange" and is used for people. For situations おかしい (\(okashii\)): Strange, funny, or odd. やばい (\(yabai\)): Can mean crazy, but also "dangerous" or "amazing" depending on the context.ありえない (\(arienai\)): "Unbelievable" or "impossible," often used for shocking situations. For people 頭がおかしい (\(atama\) ga \(okashii\)): "Your head is strange" or "you're out of your mind".おかしい (\(okashii\)): Can also be used to describe a person who is acting strangely.行かれてんな (\(ikaretunna\)): A more aggressive way to call someone crazy, often used in slang. To express "going crazy" 気が狂った (\(ki\) ga \(kurutta\)): "Losing one's mind" or "going crazy".頭がおかしくなりそう (\(atama\) ga \(okashiku\) \(narisou\)): "I think I'm going crazy".

ssssssssss. kirei da 綺麗だ [It] is pretty.

- i. kirei na hon 綺麗な本 The book [that] is pretty.

- ii. Basically, every time da だ is in a relative clause, it automatically becomes na な. Because one is predicative, the other is attributive.
- iii. Both na な and no の attributive copulas are only used in the affirmative non-past. In the past, datta だった is used. In negative, denai でない is used.
- iv. kirei na sora 綺麗な空 Sky [that] is pretty.
- v. kirei datta sora 綺麗だった空 Sky [that] was pretty.
- vi. kirei denai sora 綺麗でない空 Sky [that] is not pretty.
- vii. Lastly, the -ku 〜く suffix and the ni に particle are adverbial copulas. Adverbs modify verbs, while adjectives qualify nouns. So if what you have is a noun, you need na な, but if what you have is a verb, you need ni に.
- viii. yasuku naru 安くなる To become cheap.
- ix. kirei ni naru 綺麗になる To become pretty.
- x. Here, the verb naru is modified by the adverb kirei ni.
- xi. It's important to note how this na な copula interacts with the no の particle when it acts as nominalizer.
- xii. Syntactically, the nominalizer is like a noun, and it can be qualified by attributive adjectives and by relative clauses. Unlike other nouns, however, the nominalizer doesn't mean anything on its own.
- xiii. The easiest way to understand it is by its easiest function: it translates to the "one" in English, What does the "one" mean? Save for Matrix references. It doesn't mean anything. Which "one" you're talking about? You need to qualify "one" in order for it to be useful.
- xiv. yasui no ga katta
- xv. 安いのが買った
- xvi. [I] bought the one [that] is cheap. The cheap one.
- xvii. As seen above, the no の nominalizer can be used as a generic noun. It can be used in place of any other noun. For example:
- xviii. kirei na hon wo katta
- xix. 綺麗な本を買った
- xx. [I] bought the book [that] is pretty. The pretty book.
- xxi. kirei na no wo katta
- xxii. 綺麗なのを買った
- xxiii. [I] bought the one [that] is pretty. The pretty one.
- xxiv. This is the basic way the compound particle nano なの works.
- xxv. Next, another function of no の is to refer to the action of the relative clause qualifying it.
- xxvi. hashiru no ga tanoshii

- xxvii. 走るのが楽しい
- xxviii. The action [that is] "to run" is fun.
- xxix. To run is fun.
- xxx. Running is fun.
- xxxi. Above, the action is verb hashiru, "to run." So we're talking about someone running. Presumably, me running.
- xxxii. When the action is the copula na な, "to be," the action ends up being the fact something is "being" the adjective before na な.
- xxxiii. heiwa na no ga ichiban da
- xxxiv. 平和なのが一番だ
- xxxv. The fact it "is peaceful" is best.
- xxxvi. Being peaceful is best.
- xxxvii. Note that you can mark the adjective with ga が directly
- xxxviii. If you use na-no-ga なのが, you refer to the fact something is "being" the adjective, or, maybe, to the "one" that is being the adjective. If you use just ga が you simply refer to the adjective.
- xxxix. shizen ga ichiban da
- xl. 自然が一番だ
- xli. Natural is best.
- xlii. shizen na no ga ichiban da
- xlili. 自然なのが一番だ
- xliv. The one that is natural is best.
- xlv. The fact it is natural is best.
- xlvi. Being natural is best.
- xlvii. There are compound particles with no の that have secondary functions. The compound noni のに, which has the ni に particle, also means "even though." The compound node ので, which has the de で particle, also means "because."
- xlviii. tabeteiru no ni yaseru
- xliv. 食べているのに痩せる
 - i. Even though [he's] eating, [he] loses weight.
 - ii. [He's] eating, but [he] loses weight.
 - lii. yonda no de shitteiru
 - liiii. 読んだので知っている
 - liv. Because [I] read [it], [I] know.
 - lv. [I] read [it], so [I] know.
 - lvi. When you add na な to the equation, you have nanoni なのに and nanode なので.
 - lvii. kanojo ga kirei na no ni kareshi ga inai
 - lviii. 彼女が綺麗なのに彼氏がない

- lix. Even though she is pretty, [she] doesn't have a boyfriend.
Ix. kanojo ga kirei na no de moteru
Ixi. 彼女が綺麗なのでモテル
Ixi. Because she is pretty, [she] is popular with guys.
Ixi. There's one important thing to note about this.
Ixi. Remember that da だ is the predicative copula and na な is the attributive counterpart? This means that when you have nanoni, nanode, or just any nano, you can remove everything after the na な and then turn the na な into a da だ, and then you'll have the predicative form.
- Ixi. This can help you understand a complex phrase. For example:
Ixi. kanojo ga kirei na no ni kareshi ga inai
Ixi. 彼女が綺麗なのに彼氏がない
Ixi. Even though she is pretty, doesn't have boyfriend.
Ixi. kanojo ga kirei da
Ixi. 彼女が綺麗だ
Ixi. She is pretty.
Ixi. Since da だ becomes na な in a relative clause, what nano なの does is essentially turning into a noun the copula da だ. When you need da だ to become a noun, it becomes nano なの. That pretty much only happens in nanoni, nanode, and a few other cases, though.
- Ixi. Next, remember how I said that when nouns qualified other nouns the no の attributive copula was used instead of na な?
Ixi. That's the case normally, but it's not the case with the nominalizer no の. With the nominalizer, you use na な, even if what comes before na な is a noun. To have a better idea:
- Ixi. gaiken ga futsuu da
Ixi. 外見が普通だ
Ixi. The external-appearance is normal.
Ixi. futsuu no gaiken
Ixi. 普通の外見
Ixi. An external-appearance [that] is normal.
Ixi. A normal external-appearance.
Ixi. gaiken ga futsuu na no ni moteru
Ixi. 外見が普通なのにモテル
Ixi. Even though [her] appearance is normal, [she] is popular with guys.
Ixi. In the sense she doesn't look gorgeous, she looks normal, and in spite of that they're all charmed.

- lxxxvi. Next we have a weird one: structures like no-da のだ and no-desu のです.
- lxxxvii. This is the predicative copula, the plain one and the polite one, coming after the nominalizer.
- lxxxviii. Adding na な to the equation you get na-no-da なのだ and na-no-desu なのです. And yes, this is just like if you put a da だ onto another da だ, because you have a copula-nominalizer-copula pattern here.
- lxxxix. Let's ignore the fact it makes no sense for a moment. Actually go ahead and ignore it for the rest of your life, you'll be happier that way.
 - xc. When you have no-da or no-desu in a phrase, what it's expressing is that the speaker is asserting their opinion, explaining something, or giving advice. It's only a matter of nuance, and basically doesn't change the meaning of the phrase at all.
 - xcj. yaru no da
 - xcii. やるのだ
 - xciii. [We'll] do [it]. (this is what I firmly believe.)
 - xciv. kirei na no da
 - xcv. 綺麗なのだ
 - xcvi. [It] is pretty. (in my humble opinion.)
 - xcvii. futsuu na no da
 - xcviii. 普通なのだ
 - xcix. [It] is normal.
 - c. In this case, the no の nominalizer is contracted to the n ん particle.
 - ci. yarunda
 - cii. やるんだ
 - ciii. (same meaning.)
 - civ. kirei nanda
 - cv. 綺麗なんだ
 - cvi. (same meaning.)
 - cvii. Not to be confused with nanda 何だ, which means "what is?"
 - cviii. futsuu nanda
 - cix. 普通なんだ
 - cx. (same meaning.)
 - cxj. Negative Imperative
 - cxiii. As a sentence-ending particle, the na な particle can sometimes express a command to "not do" something.
 - cxiiii. This is similar to naide ないで, except naide is usually "please don't do" something, while just the na な is more like an order.

- cxiv. yameru na!
- cxv. やめるな !
- cxvi. Don't give up!
- cxvii. naku na!
- cxviii. 泣くな !
- cxix. Don't cry!
- cxx. iu na!
- cxxi. 言うな !
- cxxii. Don't say [it]!
- cxxiii. korosu na!
- cxxiv. 殺すな !
- cxxv. Don't kill [him]!
- cxxvi. nigasu na!
- cxxvii. 逃がすな !
- cxxviii. Don't let [him] escape!
- cxxix. Positive Imperative
- cxxx. As a sentence-ending particle, the na な particle can sometimes express a command to "do" something.
- cxixi. This sounds confusing at first because na な can also express negative imperatives. So the same na な that tells someone to not do something also tells them to do something? Not exactly. In this case, the na な comes after the ren'youkei 連用形 form of verbs, so it's easy to tell which one is it.
- cxixii. jigoku e iku na!
- cxixiii. 地獄へ行くな !
- cxixiv. Don't go to hell! (negative imperative.)
- cxixv. jigoku e iki na!
- cxixvi. 地獄へ行きな !
- cxixvii. Do go to hell! (positive imperative.)
- cxixviii. This na な can be thought of as an abbreviation of -nasai ~なさい.
- cxixix. benkyou suru
 - cxli. 勉強する
 - cxlii. To study.
 - cxliii. benkyou suru na
 - cxliiii. 勉強するな
 - cxliv. Don't study. (negative.)
 - cxlv. benkyou shinasai
 - cxlvi. 勉強しなさい
 - cxlvii. Do study. (positive.)
 - cxlviii. benkyou shi na

- cxlix. 勉強しな
- cl. Do study. (abbreviation.)
- cli. Agreement
- clii. As a sentence-ending particle, the na な particle can sometimes ask for agreement or confirmation on the speaker's opinion.
- cliii. This is very similar to ne ね, except ne ね tends to actually ask other people questions, while na な simply states one's thoughts and seeks agreement.
- cliv. shippai suru ne
- clv. 失敗するね
- clvi. [He] will fail, [don't you think?]
- clvii. shippai suru na
- clviii. 失敗するな
- clix. [He] will fail, [am I not right?]
- clx. Note that the translations "don't you think" and "am I not right" aren't literal. They're just me trying to the best of my ability to translate sentence-ending particles. Generally, sentence-ending particles can't be literally translated, so don't even bother translating them. They're simply there to enunciate the speaker's emotions.
- clxi. Both ne ね and na な can be repeatedly to bother people in similar fashion.
- clxii. ne? ne? ne???
- clxiii. ね? ね? ね? ? ?
- clxiv. Right? Right? RIGHT???
- clxv. na? na? na???
- clxvi. な? な? な? ? ?
- clxvii. (same meaning.)
- clxviii. One big difference between na な and ne ね is that na な can be used to express one's thoughts toward oneself.
- clxix. hoshii na...
- clxx. 欲しいな...
- clxxi. [I] want [it], [don't I...?]
- clxxii. hoshii ne?
- clxxiii. 欲しいね?
- clxxiv. [You] want [it], [don't you?]
- clxxv. Even though the phrases above don't explicitly have the words "I" or "you," it can be inferred the first one is someone telling themselves that they want something, while the second one, by contrast, is someone confirming someone else wants something.

- clxxvi. Wonder
- clxxvii. As a sentence-ending particle, the na な particle can sometimes express wonder about something. This is the same function as before.
- clxxviii. kirei na...
- clxxix. 綺麗な...
- clxxx. [It's so] pretty...
- clxxxi. hontou ni hayai na
- clxxxii. 本当に速いな
- clxxxiii. [It's] really fast, [huh!]
- clxxxiv. Doubt
- clxxxv. As a sentence-ending particle, the na な particle can sometimes express doubt about something. This is also the same function as before.
- clxxxvi. ore ni mo dekiru ka na?
- clxxxvii. 俺にも出来るかな?
- clxxxviii. [I wonder] whether I, too, can do [it]?
- clxxxix. Is it possible for me to do it too, [I wonder]?
- tttttttttt. Hondai yo = is that so
- uuuuuuuuuuu. Okoteru? = are you mad?
- vvvvvvvvvvvv. メッセージ (messēji), a direct loanword, but you can also use 伝言 (dengon) for a spoken/left message or 連絡 (renraku) for general contact/communication, with specific phrases like "send a message" being メッセージを送る (messēji o okuru) or "leave a message" as メッセージを残す (messēji o nokosu).
- wwwwwwwwwwwww. In Japanese, desu (です) itself doesn't have a separate future tense; the present tense form of desu (です) and masu-form verbs (like mimasu, shimasu) covers both present and future, with context or time words (like ashita - tomorrow) clarifying the future meaning. For nouns and na-adjectives, you just add desu for polite present/future (e.g., 明日は雨です - Ashita wa ame desu - It will rain tomorrow). For verbs, the polite masu-form (e.g., 飲みます - nomimasu - will drink) or plain form (e.g., 飲む - nomu - will drink) is used for future actions.
- i. How it works
 - ii. No Separate Future Tense: Japanese uses the same verb conjugation for present and future actions (non-past).
 - iii. Context is Key: Words like "tomorrow" (明日 - ashita), "next week," or "soon" indicate the future.
 - iv. Examples
 - v. Nouns/Na-Adjectives (with desu)

- vi. Present: 今日は雨です (Kyō wa ame desu) - It is raining today.
- vii. Future: 明日は雨です (Ashita wa ame desu) - It will rain tomorrow.
- viii. Verbs (Polite Masu-form)
- ix. Present: コーヒーを飲みます (Kōhī o nomimasu) - I drink coffee (or am drinking).
- x. Future: 明日コーヒーを飲みます (Ashita kōhī o nomimasu) - I will drink coffee tomorrow.
- xi. Verbs (Plain form)
- xii. Present/Future: パーティーをする (Pātī o suru) - (I) will/am going to have a party.
- xiii. Key takeaway
- xiv. Use the present tense forms (desu, -masu) and add time markers to signal future actions; there's no special "future desu" form.

xxxxxxxxxxxxx. Gyaru = homeless yyyyyyyyyyyyy. Moshi = if zzzzzzzzzzzzz. Datta nara = if that were the case aaaaaaaaaaaaa. "Wakatteru" (わかってる) in Japanese means "I know," "I get it," or "I understand" in a casual, ongoing sense, derived from "wakatte iru" (わかっている), showing you've already grasped something, often used among friends for "of course" or to show empathy. It's a colloquial form for "I already understand," contrasting with wakatta (I understood) and polite wakarimashita (I understood).

bbbbbbbbbbbbbb. Dattara (だったら) and datta nara (だったなら) are essentially the same, both meaning "if it was/were (so/that)," used for hypothetical situations or context-setting after nouns/na-adjectives (like "if you're a student, then..."), with dattara being more common and colloquial, a fusion of datta (past "to be") + ra (from tara), while datta nara explicitly separates the past form and the conditional nara, both conveying a similar conditional "if" nuance for states/nouns, often suggesting a change in plan or a counterfactual.

ccccccccccccc. 躲す (kawasu): To dodge, slip away, avoid (e.g., a punch, a car).

- i. 身进行かわす (mi wo kawasu): Literally "to dodge one's body," a common phrase for dodging.
- ii. さつとよける (satto yokeru): To quickly move aside/dodge.
- iii. For dodging issues/responsibilities:
- iv. 逃れる (nogareru): To escape, evade, dodge (e.g., taxes, military service).
- v. はぐらかす (hagurakasu): To dodge the question, beat around the bush.

ddddddddddddd. Naka = inside eeeeeeeeeeeeeee. Soto = outside fffffffffffff. To say "instead of" in Japanese, the most common and versatile phrase is 代わりに (kawari ni) or の代わりに (no kawari ni), meaning "in place of" or "as a substitute for," used with nouns or verbs to show one thing replaces another (e.g., "I'll go instead of Mom": 母の代わりに行きます - Haha no kawari ni ikimasu). Another important way is using ~ないで (~naide) for actions, meaning "without doing X, do Y," or ~ずに (~zu ni) for a more formal touch, conveying "instead of doing X, I did Y".

gggggggggggggg. In Japanese, the main word for "between" is 間 (あいだ - aida), used for physical gaps, time intervals, or relationships, often paired with particles like に (ni) or the conjunction と (to) (AとBの間, between A and B). For specific nuances, you might use 間に (aida ni) for "during" an event or 間 (ma) for a pause/space, but aida (間) is the core term for "between".

- i. 間 (あいだ - aida): The general term for "between," "interval," or "gap".
- ii. Example: 本と机の間 (hon to tsukue no aida) - "Between the book and the desk".
- iii. AとBの間 (A to B no aida): Specifically "between A and B" (using the particle と for 'and').
- iv. 間に (aida ni): Means "during" or "while" something is happening.
- v. Example: 夏休みの間に (natsuyasumi no aida ni) - "During summer vacation" (implying an action happened at some point during it).
- vi. 間 (ま - ma): Refers more to a specific pause, moment, or empty space.

hhhhhhhhhhhhh. "Sokka" (そっか / そうか) in Japanese is a casual expression meaning "Oh, I see!", "Is that so?", "I get it!", or "Right!"

iiiiiiiiiiiiiii. Moteru = to be popular/attracted jjjjjjjjjjjjj. "tata" (たた, or written as 多々) generally means "very much, very many, or more and more," often used to emphasize abundance or repetition, while other similar-sounding words like "tada" (ただ) mean "just/only," and "tatta" (たった) means "only a little/mere," kkkkkkkkkkkkk. "-bito" (びと / 人) usually means "person" or "people" when attached to another word, like koibito (lover) or tabibito (traveler), stemming from hito (人). While "bito" itself isn't a common standalone word, it appears in terms for supernatural "rare people" (marebito) or as a plural for "people" (hitobito), though sometimes "bito" can also refer to the English loanword "beat" or "bit" (like a computer bit).

- ||||||| "Chigau" (違う) / "chigaimasu" (違います): "that's different," "that's wrong," or "not so." Rejects correctness of content rather than answering a yes/no prompt.
- mmmmmmmmmmmmmmmm. 注文する (\(ch=umon suru\)): The literal verb "to order." (e.g., \(\korio ch=umon shimasu\) means "I will order this").
- i. 頼む (\(tanomu\)): A more casual, everyday verb for "to ask for" or "to request."
 1. "How to Order at a Restaurant" Instead of conjugating verbs, the most natural way to order is to state the item's name, the quantity, and a polite suffix.
 2. Formula: [Item Name] + [Quantity] + [Polite Suffix] Example polite suffixes (meaning "please"): ～をお願いします (\(... o onegai shimasu\)): A polite and humble way to request something.
 3. ～をください (\(... o kudasai\)): A standard, polite way to ask for an item. Common Ordering Phrases
 4. すみません (\(Sumimasen\)): "Excuse me." Use this to get the waiter's attention first.
 - a. これをお願いします (\(Koreo onegaishimasu\)): "This, please." (Best for pointing at a menu).
 - b. ラーメンをふたつください (\(Rāmenofutatsukudasai\)): "Two bowls of ramen, please."

937. Korean

- a. 가운데 gaunde = middle

938. Old Norse & Icelandic

- a. Skraelingjar

939. Old Tupi

- a. O-IO-A-IÜRI. Adjetivo: emparelhado pelo pescoço; emparejado por el cuello; paired by the neck.

940. German

- a. Gut
- b. Daten
- c. Varter
- d. Doppelgänger
- e. In
- f. Sein
- g. Waren
- h. Für
- i. Mit
- j. Die, der, den, das = the

- k. Komplette, vollständig
- l. Immer = always
- m. Auf = on
- n. Aktuell = current
- o. Bier
- p. Groß
- q. Oder = but
- r. Ohne = without
- s. Einsparung = savings (of unnecessary money spent)
- t. Sprung = jump, leap, or vault
- u. Mischling
- v. Klein/kleinen = small
- w. Ein/einen = a
- x. Sklave
- y. Rei
- z. Wo = where
- aa. Wie = how
- bb. Wann = when
- cc. Heilig = holy
- dd. Krieg = war
- ee. Pfiel = arrow
- ff. Gasse = alley, passage
- gg. Wandenreich = invisible empire
- hh. -ish words (romantic→romantisch, symbolic → symbolisch)
- ii. Schadenfreude (joy at another's misfortune)
- jj. Weltschmerz (a feeling of weariness and disillusionment with the world)
- kk. Verschlimmbesserung (making something worse by trying to improve it)
- ll. Fremdschämen (feeling embarrassed on someone else's behalf)
- mm. Waldeinsamkeit (the feeling of being alone in the woods)
- nn. Weltschmerz, or literally "world-pain" or "world-weariness," first appeared in German in 1827
- oo. Sturmfrei "When your parents are away, and you have the whole house to yourself."
- pp. Erbsenzähler "Someone who is obsessed with details and a bit of a control freak."
- qq. Dreikäsehoch "Three cheese high."
- rr. Pantoffelheld "A man who may act tough in front of his friends but can't stand up for himself against his wife."
- ss. Torschlusspanik "As one gets older, the fear that time is running out and important opportunities are slipping away."

- tt. Erklärungsnot "Having to explain yourself quickly."
- uu. Fernweh "Distance pain."
- vv. Ohrwurm "what happens when you get a song stuck in your head, and you (have to) keep singing it over and over again."
- ww. "I miss you" in German is "Ich vermisse dich".
- xx. Studinetz = headache

941. Dutch

- a. Boos = angry
- b. Boot = boat
- c. Telefoon
- d. Als = if
- e. Of = or
- f. Wanneer = when
- g. Zijn = sein (is, was, werden zijn)
- h. Can / Could (English)
- i. Bang = scared
- j. Alle
- k. Meer = more
- l. Meest = Most
- m. Minst = Least
- n. Dan = than
- o. Slechter = worse
- p. Better = beter
- q. Maar = but
- r. Elk = every
- s. Met = with
- t. Bijna = almost
- u. Door = through
- v. een van hen = any of them
- w. Een = any
- x. Van = of
- y. Hen = them
- z. Die = those
- aa. Jij = you
- bb. Politie
- cc. te = too
- dd. Veel = many
- ee. Kroon = crown
- ff. Onbekend = unknown
- gg. Bekend = known

hh. Naar = at, to
ii. Dank
jj. Traag = lazy, slow
kk. Beker = Cuppa
ll. Wijn
mm. Konijn = rabbit nn. Schijn
oo. Gordijn = curtain
pp. Woestijn = desert
qq. Mijn = mine
rr. Your = jouw
ss. Her = haar
tt. His = zijn
uu. Their = hun
vv. Laat = let
ww. Lakijn = lackey
xx. Brandewijn = Brandy
yy. Prijs = prize
zz. Zand = Sand
aaa. Warm
bbb. Bank
ccc. Glas
ddd. Apple
eee. Water
fff. Hand
ggg. Slim = clever
hhh. Kussen
iii. Roken = to smoke; roker = smoker
jjj. Dokter
kkk. College
lll. Actual = rare
mmm. Map = folder, binder
nnn. Leuk = nice, fun
ooo. Stoel = chair
ppp. Chef
qqq. Vest
rrr. Beste
sss. Dat = that, which
ttt. te doen = to do
uuu. Willen = to want

vvv. Niet = don't , not
www. Vloeiend = fluently
xxx. Nederlanse
yyy. Engels
zzz. Het = it, the aaaa. De = the bbbb. kat cccc. In dddd. Spreken = speak eeee. restaurant ffff. Computer gggg. Taxi hhhh. Hotel iiii. Shopping jjjj. Recycling kkkk. Planning llll. Camping mmmm. Banking nnnn. Opening oooo. Warning pppp. Housing qqqq. Marketing rrrr. Training ssss. Naam = name tttt. Ster uuuu. Zon = sun vvvv. Sneeuw = snow
www. Wind xxxx. Warm yyyy. Berg zzzz. zaand aaaaa. Har bbbbb. Voor = for ccccc. Bij = by dddd. Op = on, upon, in eeee. in ffff. Onder = under ggggg. uit = out hhhhh. Daar = there iiii. Hier

jjjjj. Bier kkkkk. Magie lllll. Kloppe, Kloppe = beater mmmmm. Iets = anything nnnnn. Ook = also ooooo. Dat = that ppppp. Deze = These qqqqq. Hun = their rrrrr. waar = where sssss. Hoe = how ttttt. Goed = good uuuuu. Zo = so vvvvv. Klaar = ready wwwww. Echt = real xxxxx. Nep = Fake yyyyy. Namaak, namaken = [to] counterfeit, imitation zzzzz. Feitelijk = actual aaaaaa. Gemengd = mixed bbbbbb. Ras = race cccccc. Geschiktheid = fitness dddddd. Apartheid eeeee. Doel(en) = goal(s) fffff. Eventueel gggggg. Nog hhhhhh. Willekeurig = random iiiii. Gegevens = data jjjjj. Wijze kkkkkk. Veroorloven = afford lllll. Aan mmmmmm. Boord nnnnnn. Welkom oooooo. Nooduitgang = Emergency Exit pppppp. Nood = distress qqqqqq. Uitgang = exit rrrrrr. Straks = late ssssss. Toets = test ttttt. Proef = trial uuuuuu. Midden = middle vvvvvv. Tussen = between wwwwww. Versus xxxxxx. Beide = both yyyyyy. Enkel = only zzzzzz. Druk = pressure aaaaaaa. Verschillend = separate bbbbbb. Slaaf, slaven cccccc. Nooit = never ddddddd. Wat eeeeeee. Homobar = gay bar ffffff. Woot woot ggggggg. Zonder = without hhhhhh. Ik heb: (I have)

 i. Jij hebt: (You have - informal)
 ii. Hij/zij/het heeft: (He/she/it has)
 iii. Wij hebben: (We have)
 iv. Jullie hebben: (You have - plural)
 v. Zij hebben: (They have) iiiiii. Vesting = fortress jjjjjj. Bolwerk = stronghold kkkkkk. Hier llllll. Ondertitel, ondertiteling
 i. -ing plural available for slang
 ii. ik mis je = I miss you
 iii. mis je mij?! = you miss me?!
 mmmmmm. Pak = suit nnnnnn. Geeft = give oooooo. Mij = me pppppp. Nodig = necessary qqqqqq. Hem = it rrrrrr. Laat = leave ssssss. Mar = sea tttttt. Laat maar = nevermind uuuuuu. wie how je voor de gek = who are you trying to fool vvvvvv. Je = you wwwwww. Laatse = last xxxxxx. doe dan gewoon = then just do it yyyyyy. doe dan gewoon een giveaway = then just do a giveaway zzzzzz. Nieuw = new aaaaaaa. en dan wat = and then what bbbbbb. voordat ik mag trade = before I am allowed to trade cccccc. nog 3 uur = 3 more hours ddddddddd. Hoelang = how long eeeeeeeee. nog 3 uur en 30 mins = 3 hours and 30 mins left ffffff. Vissen = fishing or fishes or pisces (the zodiac sign) ggggggggg. wil je vechten = do you want to fight?

hhhhhhhhh. heb je ooit = have you ever?

942. Mankong

- a. Mma = up
- b. Ba' = but
- c. A = and

943. Apache

- a. Tú dahskaq \(pronounced: tú desh ka\) = lake

944. Navajo

- a. Hushte ya hon na = come in and pass over the threshold into my dwelling

945. Sanskrit

- a. विवल् (vival) = "to turn away" or "to turn aside".
- b. गणेश (ganesh)
- c. देश (deśá) = country

946. High Valyrian

- 947. Dohaeris = to serve
- 948. Morghūlis = to die
- 949. Valar = all
- 950. Sonar = winter
- 951. Mazītīs, mazis = come
- 952. mastan = here
- 953. Sonar mazis = winter is coming
- 954. Sonar mastan
- 955. Ydragon = to speak
- 956. Gevī, Udrizi = You
- 957. Gīmigon = to know
- 958. Daoruni = nothing
- 959. Daor = no, not
- 960. Rytsas – Hello
- 961. Kessa – Yes
- 962. Daor – No
- 963. Kirimvose – Thank you.
- 964. Geros ilas – Goodbye.
- 965. Sōnar mastan - Winter is here.
- 966. Valar dohaeris – All [men] must serve.
- 967. Nerni ōrēs - Hold the door.
- 968. Udrizi Valyrio ŷdrā? - Do you speak Valyrian?
- 969. Źuho glaeso hūrus - Moon of my life

- 970. Merbun - I'm hungry.
- 971. Dovaogēdy – An Unsullied.
- 972. Avy jorrāelan. - I love you.
- 973. Ņuhor līr gūrēnna. - I will take what is mine.
- 974. Bantis zōbrie issa se ossyngnoti lēdys. - The night is dark and full of terrors.
- 975. Daoruni gīmī, lonos Sōnaro. - You know nothing Jon Snow.
- 976. Skorverdon dekuroti Dōros hen kesīr ilza? - How much farther is the wall?
- 977. Tubī daor. – Not today.
- 978. The High Valyrian phrase for "come forth, Vermithor" is "Naejot mǎzīs Vermitos." This is broken down as "Naejot" (forward, command for one dragon), "mǎzīs" (come, to one dragon), and "Vermitos" (the vocative, or direct address, form of Vermithor). Another Valyrian line associated with Vermithor is "Hāros Bartossi," which Daemon Targaryen sings to the dragon, though the exact translation of the song is not specified.
- 979. Nahuatl
- 980. Tlamatini = sages
- 981. Ticitl = healers
- 982. Nahaultin = transformative beings
- 983. Finnish
- 984. Kalsarikannit = to sit alone and drink naked

Powhatan Grammar

* Modern Additions (2025)

- 1. Nouns
 - a. Powhatan Dictionary
 - b. -ijn words from Dutch ("Woestijn" (desert); "Cherubijn" (cherub); "Serafijn" (seraph); "Chirurgijn" (surgeon))
 - c. -tion words from English and French (tradition, abolition)*
 - d. -ist words from English (traditionalist; abolitionist)*
 - e. English*
 - f. Latin (Spanish, French, Portuguese, Galician)*
 - g. Old Norse (Icelandic)*
 - h. Japanese*
- 2. Pronouns
 - a. Near / Ik (Dutch) / Io (Italian) / Watashi*, Ore*, Boku*
 - b. Kear / Tu (Latin) / Che (Galician) / Omae*, Kimi*, Temee*, Kisama*
 - c. Ese (Spanish) / He / Hij (Dutch)
 - d. Esa (Spanish) / She / Sie (German)
 - e. Su (from Spanish) / Tes / Ses

- f. We (English) / Vi (German) / Us (English) / Nous (French) / On (French) / Nosotros* / Wareware*
- g. Ils [sont] (French), Eux; Ze*, Hen* (Dutch)
- h. Mein (German) / Ma (French) / Mes (French) / Mi(s)
- i. Neir / mi / mois
- j. Tuah (Portuguese) / Su* (Spanish) / Tes* / Ses*
- k. Cu (from cuy@; Spanish), Tuyo*, Tuah
- l. Vosotros* (Galician)
- m. Vos* (Spanish, Portuguese)
- n. Se, Le(s), Te, Me, Nos* (Spanish, Vulgar Latin) (from utssetecuttawsew)
- o. O nos, A nosa (Galician)
- p. Te, Ti (Powhatan usage –A[mon][te] from Pocahontas' Powhatan name), Spanish usage, Vulgar Latin)

3. Prepositions

- a. Paak (derived from Spanish)
- b. Da (from Galician) / De(s) (French/Spanish) / Wa (North Dakotan usage)
 - i. Desa
 - ii. Dese
- c. Para
- d. Na (from Galician)
- e. Con* (from Spanish) / Co(s) / Coa(s)* (from Galician)
- f. Mais (French)
- g. Ni (Spanish) / Nem (Portuguese)
- h. Si (Spanish)*
- i. Ne/Non (French)

4. Adjectives

- a. Powhatan Dictionary
- b. English (expansion of Tachunk in Powhatan)
- c. Spanish (expansion of 'ascoh' in Powhatan)
- d. -er adjectives from German and English (simpler)*
- e. -tish adjectives from German, English and Dutch
 - i. Optional to spell as 'ssh'

5. Verbs

- a. Powhatan uniquely uses “to be” (English); “sein” (German); “etre” (French); “estar” and “ser” (Spanish/Portuguese/Galician). And are our only irregular verbs.
 - i. Powhatan's words for I are ik (Dutch), io (Italian), and near.
 - 1. Proper Powhatan is ik sein and not ik zijn.
 - ii. Ser (Galician; almost identical to Spanish):
 - 1. Present Indicative (Present Tense)

2. eu: son (I am)
3. ti: és (you are - informal)
4. el/ela/ti: é (he/she/formal you is)
5. nós/as: somos (we are)
6. ti: sodes (you all are - informal, in some regions)
7. eles/elas/todos eles/ti: son (they/you all are - formal)
8. Preterite (Past Definite Tense)
9. eu: era (I was/I went)
10. ti: eras (you were/you went - informal)
11. el/ela/ti: era (he/she/formal you was/went)
12. nós: eramos (we were/we went)
13. ti, vos todos: erades (you all were/you all went - informal, in some regions)
14. eles/elas/todos eles/ti: eran (they/you all were/went - formal)
15. Refer to the conjugations of this verb to see why it is censored from use, even amongst Galician Americans.
 - a. <https://www.verbix.com/webverbix/galician/ser>
 - b. However, with that said, the Galician usage of the word “co” is an important part of the Powhatan language. Especially with our animal mascot, “Co” the Canadian Goose.

iii. Sein

1. Sein (infinitive)
 - a. Bin (I) / Bist (informal you) / Ist / Sind (he/she/it/we/they)
2. Seins (past tense; Powhatan)
 - a. war (German); er/sie/es war: he/she/it was; waren (we/they/you (formal, single and plural)): were
3. Werde (future tense; Powhatan Extrapolation)
 - a. wird: (he/she/it will); werden: (we/they/you(formal, single and plural) will)
4. Ik bin, het is; ik aand het was; werde zijn

iv. Etre

1. Ils sont
 - a. Ze sind
 - i. Ze sind fireworking.
2. Est / é

v. Estar

1. Esta = Ta (Caribbean usage)
 - a. Ta con chunk

- vi. Nous Sou[gh] (which means three in Powhatan)
 - a. Nous so
 - b. lo so
 - c. Yoowah so
 - d. Esa so
- vii. To be
 - 1. Am (first person conjugation of 'to be' in English) Konning (cunning)
 - 2. Beothuk
- viii. There is one more important irregular verb: ireh.
 - 1. Ireh -> io ireh; tu-san ireh; etc. va;
- ix. -cutere (chamar -> chama)
- x. -cutese (Este -> ete; from Puerto Rico)
- b. Powhatan Dictionary
- c. Latin (Portuguese, Galician, Spanish, French)
 - i. Powhatan conjugations tend to lean more to Portuguese than Spanish.
 - 1. Hence why we don't speak more Portuguese, many conjugated Spanish verbs are mutually intelligible with Portuguese.
 - ii. Only one Spanish conjugation survives, but it takes the place of the English past participle.
- d. Old Norse (Icelandic)
- e. Japanese
- 6. Adverbs
 - a. Powhatan Dictionary
 - b. -ly words from English* (traditionally)
 - c. Latin (Spanish, French, Portuguese, Galician)*
 - d. Old Norse (Icelandic)*
 - e. Japanese*
- 7. Conjunctions
 - a. Como (Spanish)
 - b. Ke (Spanish) / Qua (Italian & French) / Che (Italian) / Qi (French, but may be pronounced with the standard Italian pronunciation in Powhatan)
 - c. And (English) / Und (German) / E,Y (Galician/Portuguese)
 - d. Para
 - e. Ni (from Spanish; from nisake in Powhatan, referring to cane juice)
 - f. Paak (derived from Spanish)
 - g. Cuanta (derived from Spanish)
- 8. Interjections

- a. Wow vs Vaugh (and how to distinguish between German 'v' and the British 'v': adamoin vs vdamoin vs Uttocais vs Vaugh vs Vndoth vs Vdapungwaren <this word looks like a Korean joke from a Nazi>)
- b. Oh
- c. Opa

9. Articles

- a. El, la (Spanish)
- b. The
 - i. Sse
- c. Li (traditional: Lia... Lio..)
- d. Le(s) (French)
- e. O(s) / A(s) (from Lia, Lio; originally from Galician/Portuguese)
- f. Un(a) / Um(a)
- g. Quoy / Yowk
- h. Ce (French), Cet, Ces*, Ça*
- i. Ese(s)/Esa(s) (Spanish)
- j. Esa/Esta (Spanish)
- k. Lo* (Spanish)
- l. Eso(s)* (Spanish)

10. Gerunds

- a. 食べる taberu eat*
- b. Near (ni-ar) wa* tabemasu に気わ食べます I'm eating
- c. Kear bist taberu cuppatoan. (Germanic)*
- d. Near wa cuppatoan tabete sein (bin is polite). (Japonic)*
- e. Cuppatoan tabete ist. (Latin/Japonic/Germanic)*
- f. Da comer cuppatoan. (Latin)
- g. -ing words from English to match Old Norse and Icelandic (elding; boiling), and gerundials*

11. Numerals

- a. English
- b. Powhatan numbers

12. Tense & Conjugation

- a. Spanish present tense (como, hablo, bebo, debo, vivo).
 - i. You may use this tense for verbs shared with Portuguese or Galician: chamo, falo, gosto, levo; podo)
 - 1. The Galician conjugation matches the Powhatan third person for 'poder'.
- b. Spanish third person (cuterre): come, hable, bebe, debe, vive, pode
- c. French 'a' perfect tense, Powhatan usage

- d. -ei past tense (from 'ma chick chamei'; can be used as third person; originates from the first person past tense in Portuguese. Think: the 'on' tense from French)
- e. -eu third person past tense (from the Powhatan word for Persimmon, pasimeneu; Powhatan for, 'he dries fruit'; contains the proto-Algonquian 'min' for berry; originally from the Portuguese/Galician third person past tense)
- f. -an as a past participle (replaces -ado,-ido in Spanish) from the Powhatan word pasimenan (Powhatan for, 'dried fruit'; contains the proto-Algonquian 'min' for berry; originally from the Spanish third person present tense)
- g. "num" + verb = future (nummeijin or numcham)
- h. -ah = again [in the future] (chamah, hablah); is identical to the Spanish third person future tense so it used interchangeably with Powhatan's 'num' case
- i. -eo, -queo = hacer una chose sin parar (from 'matchqueo' in Powhatan and 'fumateo' and 'bellaqueo' from Puerto Rico and 'teteo' from Dominican Republic)
- j. -re + noun | verb from Argentina* (renacer (reborn), rehacer (redo), recansado (very tired))
- k. verb + 'eru' to form new verbs (from macherew in Powhatan and 'Pokeru' (from noun Pokemon) in Japanese)
- l. -ere verbification (from Italian (cacutterewindg kear/yowkk/keir/neir) and their verbing convention: essere, avere, potere, volere, sapere)
- m. -[e]ar verbification from Spanish (janglear)
- n. -euse from French to intensify adjectives
- o. -ell@ diminutive from Monticello, monte + cello* (c appears after a vowel; mano → manicella; angelo → angelicello; fiore → fiorellino)
- p. -issim@ from Spanish, Italian
- q. -on@ from Italian (porta → portone; gatto → gatone; donne → donna; voce → vocione; canzone)
- r. -zione / -sione Equivalent to English -tion / -sion.
- s. -mento Equivalent to English -ment.
- t. -ezza quality, similar to English -ness / -ity.
- u. -oso / -osa Full of; similar to Portuguese -oso.
- v. -ino / -ina Small, cute. casa → casina — small house, libro → librino — little book
- w. -etto / -etta Small, gentle, or affectionate. ragazzo → ragazzetto — little guy, cena → cenetta — light/small dinner
- x. -ello / -ella, Diminutive or gentle nuance. fratello → fratellino — little brother, paese → paesello — little village

- y. –uccio / –uccia Cute, sweet, sometimes slightly mocking, caro → caruccio
— kind of cute, nonna → nonnuccia — dear grandma
- z. –accio / –accia Bad, ugly, unpleasant. tempo → tempaccio — awful weather, parola → parolaccia — curse word
- aa. –astro / –astra Bad, inferior. poeta → poetastro — bad/mediocre poet, medico → medicastro — quack doctor
- bb. –izzare (to make, to turn into) — same as English –ize. modernizzare — to modernize, organizzare — to organize
- cc. –eggiare Indicates repeated or playful action. ondeggiare — to wave / undulate, passeggiare — to stroll, viaggiare — to travel
- dd. –ista Same as English –ist. pianista — pianist socialista — socialist, ciclista — cyclist
- ee. –tore / –trice scrittore / scrittrice — writer, attore / attrice — actor / actress
- ff. –cello / –celli diminutive smaller, thinner, lighter vermicelli (“thin little worms”), monticello
- gg. –ello (root) diminutive small, cute monticello (“little mountain”)
- hh. –tone / –toni augmentative bigger, thicker, heavier spaghettoni (“big spaghetti”)
- ii. –te tense from Japanese (past tense, past participle)
- jj. –masu tense from Powhatan (present tense)
- kk. –masen tense from Japanese (negative present and past tense; censoring ‘deshita’ because it is obscene in our language)
- ll. –teiro, –eiro tense from Japanese ‘-ing’ (hanashiteiru) and Portuguese nouns (caseiro, barbeiro, ferreiro, o hanashiteiru)
- mm. –atoan (big, a lot of something weihhkippesatoan)
- nn. –go suffix from Japanese to indicate language (Powhatan-go, Nippon-go)
- oo. –o suffix from Powhatan slang to help loanwords sound more fluid (hinto, bito)
- pp. –boo suffix from Hindi-Powhatan slang (Ali-boo, or beloved Ali)
- qq. –agem from Portuguese for -ing, -tion, -age, or sometimes -ment, groups of things, a state or condition: (lavagem, atacagem, embalagem, folhagem, vantagem, postagem)
- rr. –tude from Portuguese for a state of being X, a quality or essence, an abstract condition: plenitude, virtude, negritude
- ss. –inho / –inha Diminutive (cute, small). gatinho (kitten)
- tt. casinha (small house) –zinho / –zinha soft, affectionate diminutive.
 amorzinho (sweetheart, little love)
- uu. –ão / –ona Augmentative (big, exaggerated). animal → animalão (big animal) mulher → mulherona (big/strong woman)
- vv. Modern Verb Conjugations

13. Voice (Active / Passive)

- a. Latin (Spanish, French, Portuguese, Galician)*
- b. Old Norse (Icelandic)*
- c. Japanese*

14. Mood (Indicative, Subjunctive, Imperative)

- a. Latin (Spanish, French, Portuguese, Galician)*
- b. Old Norse (Icelandic)*
- c. Japanese*

15. Declarative

- a. Latin (Spanish, French, Portuguese, Galician)*
- b. Old Norse (Icelandic)*
- c. Japanese*

16. Interrogative

- a. Sentence + ka | cua = Question*

17. Honorifics

- a. -san
- b. -khan
- c. -chan
- d. -kun
- e. -cun (general / leader)
- f. O-
- g. -don (fusion of Spanish don and Japanese -domo)

18. Idioms and Idiomatic Phrases

- a. “Es Ke” from Spanish
- b. ia (from “il y a” from French)
- c. “C’est”, “C’était” from French*
- d. Pronoun + ‘y’ +verb (from French)*
- e. Va a +verb from Spanish
- f. Como para
- g. Estar como
- h. Tener ke
- i. Tener que ver [algo]*
- j. Que tal si*
- k. A +verb (past participle) from French
- l. A +verb +conditional from Spanish
- m. A +verb from Spanish
- n. Ke man +english to make Powhatan verbs from Powhatan ‘kemantuun’
- o. A [flor] de [piel]
- p. Sa y est

- q. 'Ll' words are pronounced with the 'sh' sound in Powhatan from 'chama' which is just 'llama' in countries like Uruguay
 - i. The 'sh' sound should be enough to distinguish a Powhatan from other Spanish-speakers easily should they happen to pass as another nationality such as Dominican or Puerto Rican.
- r. Use Portuguese pronunciation when the words are mutually intelligible with Spanish.
 - i. Ritmo as an example.

19. Diminutives

- a. -ino (diminutive from Powhatan; sounds like the Italian diminutive)
 - i. Originates from the -iño diminutive from Galician

20. Particles

- a. Wa (は) (North Dakotan usage)
- b. Ga (が) (from Powhatan: maangairagwatowh)
- c. Wo (を) (from Powhatan: muttaqwohoons)
- d. No (の) (from Powhatan: maonomommaon)
- e. Desu ka (from Apache: tú dahskaq (tú desu ka))
- f. Da (だ) (from Anishenabek: Aambe bigizdaa = let's go swimming)

Rules:

1. Powhatan, Algonquian vocabulary.
2. Latin loanwords: French; Portuguese verbs; Spanish adjectives; words mutually intelligible between Spanish and Portuguese (chamar/llamar; pasame; ireh).
3. Japanese, Korean, and etc. loanwords only if they're English cognates (ssi; nyusehein).
4. Japanese Particles (Powhatan and Japanese already have particles in common like "wa" and "ga").
5. Powhatan conjugations or drop the conjugation a la Japanese.
 - 5.1. -masu = gerund (paiemasu)
 - 5.2. -ah = future (naantuc-ah)
 - 5.2.1. Amaramasu = will be eating
 - 5.2.2. Comeramasu = will be eating
 - 5.3. -ei = past (chamei)
 - 5.3.1. Amei
 - 5.3.1.1. Loved
 - 5.3.2. Comei
 - 5.3.2.1. Ate
 - 5.3.3. Ameimasu
 - 5.3.3.1. He/She/They/I/We was/were loving
 - 5.3.4. Comeimasu
 - 5.3.4.1. He/She/They/I/We was/were eating
 - 5.4. -an = past participle (pasimenan)
 - 5.4.1. Aman
 - 5.4.1.1. [it is/was] Loved

- 5.4.1.2. Ta aman = was loved
 - 5.4.2. Comen
 - 5.4.2.1. [it is/was] Eaten
 - 5.4.2.2. Ta comen = was eaten
 - 5.4.3. Amanmasu
 - 5.4.3.1. Had been loved.
 - 5.4.4. Amanamasu
 - 5.4.4.1. Will be loved
 - 5.4.5. Comanmasu
 - 5.4.5.1. Had been eaten
 - 5.4.6. Comanamasu
 - 5.4.6.1. Will be eaten.
- 5.5. Spanish/Portuguese first person present tense (comer -> como)
- 5.6. -eu for third person present tense (pasimeneu for "he dries fruit")
 - 5.6.1. Ameu
 - 5.6.1.1. He/She is loving/loves
 - 5.6.2. Comeu
 - 5.6.2.1. He/She is eating/eats
- 5.7. Spanish/Portuguese imperative
 - 5.7.1. Cante [ya]!
- 5.8. -da to verbify anything from Korean
- 5.9. -ear/iar to verbify anything from Spanish/Portuguese
- 6. Korean conjugations and suffixes
 - 6.1. Verb + ㅂ니다/습니다 (ㅂ nida/seumnida) = honorific verb, present
 - 6.2. Verb + 아요/어요 (ayo/eoyo) = polite/formal verb, present
 - 6.3. Verb + 야/이야 (ya/iya) = casual/informal verb, present
 - 6.4. Verb + 았다 or 었다 (ah-da/eosdda) = past
 - 6.5. Verb + 았어요/었어요 (asseoyo/eosseoyo) = polite/formal verb, past
 - 6.6. Verb + 았어/었어 (ah-eo/eosseoo) = casual/informal verb, past
 - 6.7. Verb + 겠어요 (gesseoyo) = polite/formal verb, future
 - 6.8. Verb + ㄹ/을 거예요 (ㄹ/eul geoyeyo) = polite/formal verb, future
 - 6.9. Verb + 겠어 (gesseo) = casual/informal verb, future
 - 6.10. Verb + ㄹ/을 거야 (ㄹ/eul geoya) = casual/informal verb, future
 - 6.11. ~기 to create a noun form of a verb or adjective
 - 6.12. ~아/어서 to give reason
 - 6.13. ~(으)시 to denote an honorific acting agent
 - 6.14. ~(으)세요 to make a command
 - 6.15. ~자 to make a suggestion
 - 6.16. ~아/어야 하다 to indicate that one must do something
 - 6.17. ~ㄴ/는다고 to quote somebody
- 7. Japanese Conjugations
 - 1. Polite (Desu/Masu) Form

The polite form is the safest and most common way to speak Japanese. [\[1, 2, 3\]](#)

 - Verbs: Drop ~masu (ます) and add ~mashita (ました).

- Example: 食べます (tabemasu - eat) => 食べました (tabemashita - ate).
- Nouns & Na-Adjectives: Add ~deshita (でした).
- Example: 学生です (gakusei desu - is a student) => 学生でした (gakusei deshita - was a student).
- I-Adjectives: Drop the final ~i (い) and add ~katta desu (～かったです).
- Example: 暑いです (atsui desu - is hot) => 暑かったです (atsukatta desu - was hot). [\[1, 2, 3, 4, 5\]](#)

2. Informal (Plain) Form

Also known as the ~ta form, this is used with friends, family, and in casual writing. [\[1, 2\]](#)

- Ru-Verbs (Verbs ending in ~eru or ~iru): Drop the ~ru and add ~ta.
- Example: 食べる (taberu - to eat) => 食べた (tabeta - ate).
- U-Verbs (Verbs ending in ~u, ~tsu, ~ru, ~mu, ~bu, ~nu, ~ku, ~gu, ~su):
Conjugation depends on the ending character:
 - Ends in う, つ, る => Replace with ~った (e.g., 買う kau => かった katta)
 - Ends in む, ぬ, ぶ => Replace with ~んだ (e.g., 読む yomu => んだ onda)
 - Ends in く => Replace with ~いた (e.g., 出向く demuku => いた ita)
 - Ends in ぐ => Replace with ~いだ (e.g., 泳ぐ oyogu => いだ oida)
 - Ends in す => Replace with ~した (e.g., 話す hanasu => した shita)
- Irregular Verbs:
 - する (suru - to do) => した (shita)
 - 来る (kuru - to come) => 来た (kita)
 - 行く (iku - to go) => 行った (itta)

8. Powhatanized Japanese conjugations

8.1. -ta past tense/past participle

8.2. -tai to want to do [verb]

8.3. Japanese does not have a dedicated future tense conjugation. Instead, it uses a non-past tense (present/future) to represent both current actions and future events, relying on context or time markers (like "tomorrow" or "next week") to indicate time. Future actions are commonly expressed using the dictionary form of verbs, the Polite -masu form, or specific structures for intention.

9. Misc Powhatanisms

9.1. 'Cutterre' to conjugate verb stems (remove the 'r' and every syllable after it')

9.2. -o for present tense verbification on nouns

9.3. -oh for past tense

9.4. -ei for past tense

9.5. Einen for plural of ein

9.6. -en for plural on adjectives (kleinen)

9.7. -te imperative from Spanish/Portuguese

9.8. -te form from Japanese (sounds very close to -ei from Powhatan past tense)

9.8.1. -te form of the verb taberu (食べる - to eat).

9.8.1.1. The -te form has no tense on its own; instead, it is a connecting form. Its tense and meaning depend on the verb or auxiliary attached to it. Mastering how to use tabete in Japanese takes just a few quick rules:

- 9.8.1.2. 1. Present Progressive / "To Be Eating" When you attach iru (or imasu in polite speech) to tabete, it creates the "-ing" tense. Informal: 食べている (tabete iru) — I am eating. (sounds like Portuguese) Formal: 食べています (tabete imasu) — I am eating.
- 9.8.1.3. 2. Connecting Actions / "Then..." Use tabete to link sequential actions in a sentence. The final verb dictates the overall tense of the sentence. Example: パンを食べて、コーヒーを飲みました。(Pan wo tabete, koohii wo nomimashita.) Translation: I ate the bread and then drank the coffee.
 - 9.8.1.3.1. Pan wo tabete, coffee wo nonda.
- 9.8.1.4. 3. Making Requests Combine tabete with kudasai to politely ask someone to eat. Example: 食べてください (tabete kudasai) Translation: Please eat.

- 9.9. -te + -eiro (-teiro) for gerund from Japanese/Portuguese
 - 9.10. -masu conjugation from Japanese
 - 9.11. Num + verb for future tense
 - 9.12. -a for future tense from Spanish futuro simple tense
 - 9.13. -nai for negative any tense from Japanese
 - 9.14. -da to verbify nouns or adjectives from Korean
 - 9.15. -ar/-er/-ir to verbify nouns or adjectives from Spanish/Portuguese
 - 9.16. -eru to verbify nouns or adjectives from Japanese, inspired by 'macherew' from Powhatan
 - 9.17. Japanese does not have a dedicated future tense conjugation. Instead, the non-past form (present tense) is used for future events, determined by context, time markers (e.g., 明日 ashita - tomorrow), or intention structures. The dictionary form or -masu form (polite) generally covers both present and future.
10. Irregular Powhatan verbs
- 10.1. Ser
 - 10.1.1. Seran, sont
 - 10.2. Estar
 - 10.2.1. Ta (Slang from Esta)
 - 10.3. Ir
 - 10.3.1. Ireh, va
 - 10.4. Sein
 - 10.4.1. Seins (plural)
 - 10.5. Essere
 - 10.5.1. Che
 - 10.6. Stare
 - 10.6.1. Sta
 - 10.7. Être
 - 10.7.1. Sont

- 11. "To be"
 - 11.1. Dahs from Arape
 - 11.2. Dahskaa from Arape
 - 11.3. Desu, aru, iru from Japanese
 - 11.3.1. Desu functions the same as 'dahs and dahskaa' from Arape.
 - 11.3.2. Aru refers to inanimate objects.
 - 11.3.3. Iru refers to people.
 - 11.4. Sein from German
 - 11.5. Zijn from Dutch
 - 11.5.1. The Dutch and German versions of Sein and Zijn are interchangeable.
 - 11.6. Ser, Estar from Spanish, Portuguese, Galician
 - 11.6.1. Ser describes permanent identities, defining characteristics, and origin.
 - 11.6.2. Estar describes temporary states, emotions, and locations.
 - 11.7. Essere, Stare from Italian
 - 11.7.1. Essere defines identity and essence (who/what you are)
 - 11.7.2. Stare defines position and condition (how/where you are or stay)
 - 11.8. Être from French

Phrases

- 1. Kyo he o suru.
- 2. Kyo he ru.
- 3. Na ga les mots she.
- 4. Heil!
- 5. Ca Cuttere Windg, yowkk.
- 6. Hontoni?
- 7. Nous so chunk.
- 8. lo so chunk.
- 9. Yoowah so chunk.
- 10. Ze so chunk.
- 11. Ze sind chunk.
- 12. Esa so chunk.
- 13. lo bin chunk.
- 14. Yo was chunk.
- 15. lo war chunk.
- 16. lo sera chunk.
- 17. lo werde zijn chunk.
- 18. Yo will sein chunk.
- 19. lo mo quier.
- 20. lo mo
- 21. Ni mo.
- 22. Ama y amate intensamente.

23. Het beter be na sse news.
24. Ti wa.
25. Ka te mo.
26. Ti mo.
27. A ti mismo.
28. A toi meme.
29. C'est la meme chose.
30. Moshi moshi!
31. Ama wo she ne?
32. Tu-san wa kemantuun.
33. loquemeh wath.
34. Cuppa?
35. Coa, she ne ai.
36. Co no jutsu wa.
37. Yoo wa deviled eggs o suru.
38. Sse meest important weisksis is Powhatan.
39. Ese wo shimasen deshita.
40. Yoowh wo shimasen!
41. O suru.
42. Yo o shimasu.
43. Oh sa ka?
44. On wa hashi wo quier.
45. Fashion wa Powhatan wo shimasu.
46. Sashi no tu-san wa.
47. Keke wa new wo shimasen.
48. Hashi o tener ka?
49. Tem pokas?
50. C'nest pas difficile faire le change a parler plus français aussi mo met Japonais.
51. Mais c'est comomais de hablar tambien espanol.
52. Aand we have a tanx Nederlanse dat is close naar English.
53. Ni-san wo yume ka?
54. Koko de tabako o sutte mo ii desu ka?
55. Yama no naka de 1 ounce no taima o sutte mo mondai wa arimasu ka?
56. romantissish ni yokereba Latin wo memmowchicktagwassan.
57. Die wa kantan ni vtsseneind.
58. Nippon no grammar wa Powhatanese is de meest compatible yo cre.
59. Yo no grocery shopping ga nyuseihin wo kau.
60. Powhatan wa seed bank ga arimasen
 - a. Powhatan wa seed bank ga matath.
61. Ki t'eru?

62. Ki ko e nai ko ka?
63. Omae wa o dare ga a ki t'eru
64. Doyomo
65. Su jing nah sheen
66. Nani mono da?
67. Ke semen ga? (Cock a co es ke)
68. Ke sa men ga?
69. Yoowh no wanchan de Facebook videos ga shinjutsu wa.
70. Sono ha wa
71. Orochimaru desu yo
72. Tu-san wa Orochimaru janai ka?
73. Mi amiga chimosa que
74. Hon'no de! (It's instinct!)
75. Koko de! (right here!)
76. Tanaka-san wa deshoushi? (that might be Tanaka)
77. Corazon dashte?
78. Pa ti cua, Naruto-san.
79. Quando chegei corazon dashte yo.
- a. Llegar + cuttere = Llegar, llegei.
80. Ai wo: Ma.
- a. Chinese-style speech.
 - b. This has a mutual resonance with Mandarin.
81. Corazon wo dashte [ka]?
82. Tabete ii...?
- a. Can I eat [that/this/he/she/it/you]?
 - b. I'm going to eat [that/this/he/she/it/you]
83. Ramen ga tabetai
- a. I want to eat ramen.
84. Ramen ga mecher quier[desu]
85. Yo quie mecher ramen.
86. Plata ga hoshidesu ♡(✿'-'✿)♡
- a. I want money.
87. Tabetai desu
- a. I want to eat.
88. Correte mo ii yo!
89. Nigeru!
90. Watashi wa okane ga daisukidesu 私はお金が大好きです
- a. I love money
91. Una Hula-chan!
- a. A Hawaiian girl!

92. Hula-chan wo suru.
93. Hula-chan wo amadesu!
94. Okusan ga tem janai yo.
 a. Okusan ga hainai yo.
 i. From the Italian 'hai'.
95. Matath okusan.
96. Kuro da.
97. Ta-da.
 a. Well...
98. Ikimasu.
 a. I'm coming!
99. Sou da yo/ne.
 a. It is!
 b. General agreement.
100. Winry no apple pie wa tabetai ka na.
 a. I want to eat Winry's apple pie.
101. Tu-san wa?
 a. What about you?
102. Kawaii to nekkō-chan ne!
 a. What a cute cat.
103. Nani mono da?
 a. Que mono da?
 b. What is that thing?
104. Nani mo.
 a. Na / nada
105. Honto ka?
 a. Yeah? / Really?
106. Hasta que se derrite
 a. Until it melts
107. Ima Tokyo de!
 a. I'm in Tokyo right now!
108. ホントでしょ？
 a. Honto desho?
 b. Really?
109. Que memochicktagwassan / kemantuun da?
 a. What did you say?
110. Hier is...
111. Ik was in...
112. Ik ben in...
113. Quoy is heilig krieg

114. Tu te lo
 - a. Hey / you're it
115. Chama-te ii quois?
116. Calor dashkaa!
117. Paak tu wa Shinigami ga.
 - a. Soshte omae wa Shinigami da.
 - b. Because you're a Shinigami.
118. Doko ni ta?
 - a. Where did he go?
 - b. (in Powhatan) Where are you?
119. Ki'teru?
 - a. Are you listening?
120. Nanda sore?
 - a. What is that thing?
121. Itsumo ni = always
122. Kankokyaku ga (tourists)
 - a. Estrangere / Fulano / Foreigner / Estrangeiro / Otaku ga
123. Shibuya kitara
 - a. Shibuya caumorowath
124. Ladies ni moteru
125. Ladies o pickup utseneind tanoo chunk (tjld) no jutsu (metodo) nanka?
126. Feo ni chance wanai.
127. Feo desu ka?
128. Como pickup utseneind-masu ka?
129. Meido no fuku ni kigaete hoshī tte iu
 - a. Maid no ropa ni vestir hoshii tte iu.
130. Zenbu nuide
 - a. Tutta quita
131. Meido no fuku kita koto aru?
 - a. Maid no ropa vestir koto tem?
132. Koboshita ato kirei ni shita un?
133. Homies ni kis experiencia sein-oh?
134. Ashita, eiga, nanji? What time is the movie tomorrow?
 - a. Riapoke movie que hora?
 - b. San-ji → o'clock / time
 - i. Nousough-ji.
135. Riapoke trabalho ga paak ireh nai kamo (maybe).
136. Satoshi nara riapoke poder ireh paak a yoowah chama yo
137. Riapoke movie no ticket ga tteba.
138. Yo ireh nai paak.
139. Kawari ni itte ireh
140. Riapoke nousough ni movie theater
141. Nihon-go o kemantuun-masu ka?

142. Urusai wa nai
a. I'm not loud
143. Nande kore nandaiyo?
a. Why me?
144. Itoshii
145. Passport Japan janai/jamais
146. Watashi wa artist ga.
147. Artist wa artist wa.
148. Claro te mieru / Claro mieru te / Watashi no mieru te / Como de mirarte / De mirar te / Mirar te / A mirar te.
149. Chama ga.
150. Miske ta.
151. Sorry no tamagatchi de.
152. Ta tah.
153. Artist dewa. Satoshi ga.
154. Mona-kun taberu? / Mona-kun mecher?
155. E-ya ii. (That's enough)
156. Nanda, Manitto ka. (Oh it's Manitto)
157. Ein truck ni crash a tu casa ka?
158. Ayuda ka?
159. Hitsuyo no ayuda ka?
160. Ayuda wo necesitar?
161. Ya ii (no thanks)
162. Que [w]o utseneind?
163. Tabun (maybe)
164. Watashi no watch a mieru?
165. Artist escuela ga?
166. Sie school artiste ga?
167. Y de na? (right?)
168. Dare da?
169. Ki ta?
170. Ki sta?
171. Yoku mite yo (Look closely)
172. Ita ka?
173. Ita
174. Mona-kun wa miske ka?
175. Chotto ii
176. Doshta, Mona-kun?
177. Que quoy, Mona-chan?
178. Masaka hontonii kowareta?
179. Kono kanji nani?
180. Quoy kanji is?
181. Kono kanji mae ni?
182. Hayaku ii yo.

183. Are wa... ohawas!
184. Quoy wa... ohawas!
185. Eso mieru ka?
186. Ohawas ga? Miske de ohawas hanasu/kemantuun?
187. Mona-kun de, ohawas koto tsuki dano?
188. Mitsuketa
189. Encontrado!
190. Doshte koko ni?
191. Que miske ni?
192. Paak miske ni?
193. Que mon datta na?
194. Ki ta?
195. Ki sta?
196. Ki tu wa?
197. Kore miro
198. [Mey] ohawas ga
199. Yoku miru
200. Betsu ni
201. Yonda
202. Yo deki ya (Well done)
203. Doko da?
204. Waam ga?
205. Watashi wa onxe ga
206. So da no (no way!)
207. Kansei da (it's complete)
208. Mona-kun wa sugoi
209. Boku wa iku yo
210. Kozo
211. Bakemono
212. Shinu zo! (You'll die!)
213. "Sashiburida" (or sashiburi da) is a casual Japanese phrase meaning "It's been a long time" or "Long time no see"
214. Sashiburidana
215. "Zen zen" in Japanese, written as 全然 (ぜんぜん), is a common adverb that means "not at all" when used in negative sentences, or "completely/totally" in colloquial, positive sentences.
216. Subete mite
217. I saw everything
218. Makasete (まかせて) is a Japanese phrase that translates to "Leave it to me!" or "I've got this".
219. Domo
220. Ohawas wa ohawas
221. Onxe wa Mona-kun o taberu
222. Iya dane (They're gone)

- 223. Kieta
- 224. Urusai naa
- 225. Mona-kun tte... onda!!
- 226. Mite nai o? (Have you seen?)
- 227. Mite neh (I haven't seen)
- 228. Dekitta (I did it!)
- 229. Ii tte miyou (Let's go [see]!)
- 230. Que ga da? (What happened?)
- 231. Que mondai ga arimasu ka? (Is there a problem?)
- 232. Nanika monka demo aru ka? (Are you a disciple?)
- 233. Nande sore? (What's that?)
- 234. Ohsaioh da!
- 235. Souka (think so?)
- 236. De vrais Mona-kun nano ka? (could it really be Mona-kun?)
- 237. Mona-kun no ibasho? (Where is Mona-kun?)
- 238. Shinu nai yo, mina keshite (Don't die, my friends. Live!)
- 239. Wakarimashita (Understood)
- 240. Ta da no soda (Probably)
- 241. Okay, desu
- 242. Ita zo! (it's on it's way to you)
- 243. Weroance ni nauru (let's be Weroances)
- 244. Mōshiwake arimasen deshita (My deepest apologies)
- 245. Jitai wa ka kyuu ga (The situation is urgent)
- 246. "Hanashi dewa nai" (話ではない) generally translates to "it is not a story" or "it is not a matter/talk."
- 247. Ooki ni (Thank you)
- 248. Mona-kun no voz ga
- 249. Omae ka!
- 250. Sore wa dekinai (I can't do that)
- 251. Mona-kun wo hanase tte na?
- 252. Mona-kun wo kemantuun tte na?
- 253. iimasen (I can't say)
- 254. De, nan nanda sore yo? (And... what is that?)
- 255. Nan desu ka jane yo? (What do you mean by 'what is it'?)
- 256. 可愛子ちゃん (kawaiko-chan) is a Japanese term translating to "cutie," "sweetie," or "cute girl".
- 257. 'Casa' tte doko da? (Where is the 'House')
- 258. 'Casa' tte waam ga?
- 259. Maji de (Really?)
- 260. Ireh! Casa e
- 261. ii yo ya da ze (We're finally here)
- 262. Kimashita (He's here)
- 263. Otaku desu
- 264. Yossha (All right!)

265. The phrase "yossha suite" is a combination of two common, informal Japanese expressions, often used together to express a feeling of satisfaction or readiness after a task is completed, or upon hearing good news.
266. Ki ga ii eru da*
267. Who's doing this?
268. Ki ga ii utseneind ga?
269. "Hidoi ka da ne" (ひどいかだね) is a conversational Japanese phrase that translates to "It's terrible/cruel, isn't it?". (You look awful)
270. Sumimasen deshita (I'm so sorry)
271. ii yo watashi wa ne. (Don't worry about me)
272. Nani mo dekita nashi (I wasn't able to do anything)
273. Soto wa do nate masu ka? (How are things outside?)
274. Meccha da ne* / hachamecha* (Chaotic)
275. Mona-kun ka, watashi ni? (Mona-kun, for me?)
276. Mata ka (Not again)
277. "Honkidesu ka" (本気ですか) in Japanese means "Are you serious?", "Are you in earnest?", or "Do you mean it?".
278. Nakama wa?
a. Your crew?
279. Pocahontas aru desu
a. It's Pocahontas.
280. Nan tte koto
a. Not good 281. Are?
a. What?
282. Sore ga watashi da
a. Asi soy yo
b. Quoy ga watashi ga
c. Yo so yo
d. That's how I am
283. Wakateru
a. I got it 284. Daijobu
a. It'll be ok!
b. Sera bon
285. sensei ga oshiete kureta
a. My teacher taught me
i. Sensei (先生): Teacher, instructor, or master.
ii. Ga (が): Subject marker particle (identifying that the teacher did the action).
iii. Oshiete (教えて): The -te form of oshieru (教える), meaning to teach, inform, or tell.
iv. Kureta (くれた): Past tense of kureru, indicating someone did something for me (a beneficiary).

1. Ageru is used when you give to someone else, or someone gives to a third party
- v. Benefactive Expression: Using kureta adds a feeling of appreciation, implying the teacher took the time to teach you.
- vi. Vs. Plain Past (Oshieta): While Oshieta (教えた) is simply "taught," Oshiete kureta (教えてくれた) specifies that you were the recipient of the favor.
- vii. Similar Phrases:
- viii. Sensei ga oshiete kuremashita (polite): The teacher taught me.
- ix. Oshiete kudasai: Please teach/tell me.
286. Common Ways to Say "Don't Cry"
287. Nakanaide (泣かないで)
288. Nakuna (泣くな)
289. Chichi wa ikite desu
290. My father is alive.
291. だから 猫 でしょ (dakara neko desho)?
292. So it's a cat, right?
293. It's probably the cat
294. Kaette kita (かえってきた / 帰ってきた) is a Japanese phrase meaning "came back," "returned," or "have returned home".
295. "Ara" (あら/アラ) is a common Japanese interjection used primarily by women to express mild surprise, amusement, or confusion, similar to "oh," "oh dear," or "wow" in English.
296. Fune (船 or 舟, ふね) is the Japanese word for boat, ship, or watercraft
297. Fune o
298. I need a boat
299. Fune dato?
300. You need a what [a boat]?
301. Hidoi janai?
302. That wasn't very nice!
303. Hafu nani?
304. What's a half-breed?
305. Nigeta
306. He left
307. Insulting context (Anime/Historical): あま (ama) or similar, often used to reflect rude English subtitling choices.
308. "Kono ama"
309. Mona-kun... nano?
310. Mona-kun is that you?
311. Betsu ni (別に / べつに) most commonly means "not particularly," "nothing much," or "not really"
312. (reiryoku) spiritual power, energy and/or strength.
313. さっき (Sakki): Means "just now" or "a short while ago"
314. (e.g., Sakki no koto - Back in the other room).

315. Uso (嘘/うそ/ウソ) is a common Japanese word meaning "a lie," "falsehood," or "untruth". Beyond just lying, it is frequently exclaimed as "Uso!" to mean "No way!", "Unbelievable!", or "You're kidding!".
316. Uso da – I was lying
317. 俺 和 フインした お な Ore wa fuin shita o na
318. I had a great time
319. Yume ga
320. It was a dream
321. Chotto nani o
322. Wait a minute
323. Mezame (目覚め/めざめ) means "awakening" or "waking up" in Japanese. It refers to both the physical act of waking from sleep and the metaphorical awakening (e.g., to a new awareness or ability).
324. Mezame o Kicke o yo – Arise Kicke! Come to me!
325. Kowai (怖い / こわい) is a Japanese adjective meaning "scary," "frightening," or "fearful".
326. Yappari
327. I was wrong!
328. Yoku wakari de
329. Remarkable intuition
330. Ne, dakara?
331. What do you say?
332. Taskuete kore
333. Help me
334. Sumi no ame
335. The sky is raining black ink
336. Naruhodo (なるほど) is a common Japanese phrase meaning "I see," "that makes sense," or "indeed".
337. Omoshiroi (面白い / おもしろい) is a common Japanese
338. -adjective meaning "interesting," "funny," "amusing," or "fascinating".
339. Mona-kun to moushimasu
340. Arigatou yo
341. Thanks for your help
342. Mona-kun ga arigatou nante?
343. Mona-kun is thanking me?
344. Mona-kun-sama ga, inai!
345. Mona-kun is gone!
346. Mitsuketa (見つけた) is the past tense of the Japanese verb mitsukeru, meaning "found," "discovered," or "spotted".
347. They found me
348. I found it
349. Mona-kun da na?
350. You're Mona-kun, aren't you?
351. O itsu ga, Mona-kun ka?

352. Mona-kun... It's him.
353. Dare
354. Let's see
355. Gomen ne
356. Sorry
357. A miko (巫女) is a Japanese shrine maiden or priestess who serves at Shinto shrines, acting as an intermediary between human and divine realms.
358. Mona-kun na kita ka
359. Mona-kun has arrived
360. Mona-kun no koto?
361. You mean Mona-kun?
362. Mona-kun, Watashi no ozomashii daro?
363. Mona-kun, you must find me repulsive
364. Honto? Nano ka?
365. Really?
366. Mona-kun no koe
367. Mona-kun's voice
368. "Uso wa na" (うそはな) usually appears as "Uso wa nai" (うそはない), meaning "There is no lie" or "It is not a lie" in Japanese.
369. Kaeru (かえる/カエル) in Japanese most commonly means "frog" (蛙), but it is a homophone for several other meanings depending on context, most notably the verb "to return" or "to go home" (帰る). It is also a symbol of good luck, representing a safe return home.
370. Kaeru wa
371. Kicke o nee sama?
372. Hanase, Kicke!
373. Yosh, yosh Mona-kun
374. Hello, Mona-kun
375. Mona-kun? Shinda ka?
376. Kobo
377. Factory
378. Mate yo
379. I'm on my way
380. Kisama da Mona-kun da na?
381. Are you Mona-kun?!
382. Shinde no ka?
383. Is she dead?
384. Doshe ta na, watashi wa?
385. What's wrong with me?
386. Omae!
387. It's you!
388. Komo, kiri
389. Clouds disperse
390. Chotto koi

- 391. Come here
- 392. Soshte
- 393. Mona-kun, kite!
- 394. Mona-kun ga... demo... Kohaku ha no?
- 395. "Mona-kun recognizes him, however, that can't be Kohaku!"
- 396. Kao wa misete
- 397. Let me see your face
- 398. Ureshii ka?
- 399. Are you happy?
- 400. Yamero (やめろ) is a Japanese imperative phrase meaning "stop it!" or "quit it!".
- 401. Watashi ni wa kireinai
- 402. I can't
- 403. Mo daijobu yo
- 404. It's going to be ok
- 405. Are.... nanikashira?
- 406. What is that?
- 407. Koko na ii desu
- 408. This place is best
- 409. Koko dete ii koto ka o moto doko nai no?
- 410. Haven't you ever wanted to live somewhere else?
- 411. Is it actually okay to come out here individually? Where exactly are you from?
- 412. Nanda koko wa?
- 413. Where am I?
- 414. Mona-kun! Doko da?
- 415. Mona-kun, where are you?
- 416. Oka – daijobu datta ka?
- 417. Mom, you didn't get hurt did you?
- 418. Hontoni daijobu, baba-chan?
- 419. Are you sure you'll be ok, old lady?
- 420. Mona-kun ii nai desu ka?
- 421. Someone other than Mona-kun?
- 422. The most common way to say "leave it to me" in Japanese is Makasete! (任せて!) for casual situations or Makasete kudasai (任せてください) for polite/formal situations.
- 423. Akeru
- 424. Open up!
- 425.
- 426. Hanase
- 427. Let go of me
- 428. Kicke o ni sawaru da!
- 429. Don't touch Kicke!
- 430. Demo Kicke da?
- 431. But, what about Kicke?
- 432. Kicke, kisama wa nani o kangaete owaru*?
- 433. Kicke what could you be thinking?

434. Onigumo ka? Natsukashii da na.
435. (なつかしい/懐かしい) is a Japanese adjective meaning "nostalgic," "fondly remembered," or "dear"
436. "Onigumo"? That brings back memories.
437. Koko wa?
438. Where am I?
439. Mona-kun, kieta?
440. Mona-kun, where'd you go?
441. "Buji datta na" (無事だったな) is an informal, masculine Japanese phrase meaning "You were safe," "You were okay," or "You made it back safely".
442. "Doshita" (どうした) is a common Japanese phrase meaning "what's wrong?", "what happened?", or "what did you do?".
443. Kikanai de
444. Kikanai (きかない/聞かない) is the plain negative form of the Japanese verb kiku (聞く), meaning "do not listen," "will not hear," or "do not ask."
445. Mona-kun to Kicke ga kis Aishiteta
446. "Aishiteta" (愛してた) is Japanese for "I loved you" or "I was in love with you," often used in music and drama to express past, frequently melancholic, love.
447. Mona-kun-sama ja!
448. His name is Mona-kun!
449. "Nani aitsu" (何あいつ) is an informal, often rude Japanese phrase that translates to "What [is] that guy/person?" or "Who the hell is that?". It is used to express confusion, disbelief, or contempt regarding someone's behavior, appearance, or presence.
450. Wakatta ka?
451. Can you see?
452. "Nan deshou ka" (なんでしょうか) is a polite, speculative Japanese phrase meaning "I wonder what it is?" or "What might it be?" It is a formal version of nan darou. It combines nan (what), deshou (likely/probably), and ka (question marker), often used to express uncertainty or polite curiosity
453. Mona-kun to/issou ni?
454. With Mona-kun again?
455. Doyu koto (どゆこと), a casual contraction of dou iu koto (どういうこと), means "What do you mean?", "What does that mean?", or "What is going on?".
456. Mirou!
457. Look!
458. Desho na...
459. Probably
460. Koga-kun ga atashi no koto tsuki datte do koto?
461. Did it bother you that Koga said he loved me?
462. Hontou wa itsu, nani ga atta?" (本当はいつ、何があった?), which translates to: "When did it actually happen, and what happened?"
463. Mona-kun karite/kashite?
464. Can I borrow Mona-kun?
465. Dare nano yo?

466. Who is it?
467. Tsuki na yo no
468. It must be love
469. Atashi ga?
470. I am?
471. Atashi ga e mecca o no koto?
472. Am I really?
473. Sore Mona-kun no koto?
474. Jutsu wa washi ashiteru inu no koto de sode ni koto ni jan ya
475. Do you have any experience with dogs?
476. 出て行け (Dete ike). For a more aggressive, forceful command (similar to "get lost" or "get out of my way"), you can use どけ (Doke) or 消えろ (Kiero).
477. Nande kore wa?
478. Whats all this?
479. Koga-kun chigau no!
480. Koga, you're wrong!
481. Kuro de 光の歪んでる or 光が歪んでる (Hikari ga yugan deru), meaning "The light is distorted"
482. A Kagura-den (神楽殿) is a specialized building within a Shinto shrine in Japan dedicated to performing kagura, which are sacred dances and music offered to the kami (deities). These halls serve as the stage for ritual ceremonies, traditional performances, weddings, and prayer services.
483. Key aspects of a Kagura-den include:
484. Purpose: Primarily used for kagura, meaning "god-entertainment," it is a sacred space for music and dance aimed at entertaining or appeasing the gods.
485. "Atashi wa kagura-den da" (あたしは神楽殿だ) roughly translates to "I am a Kagura Hall" or "I am a sacred dance stage".
486. Dare da
487. Name yourself
488. 早く撃て! (Hayaku ute!)
489. Hurry up and shoot
490. Yoppari Mona-kun-sama da!
491. It is you, Mona-kun!
492. Kieta
493. She vanished!
494. Saki (先) commonly translates to "point," "tip," "ahead," or "future". It is also used to indicate "previous," "earlier," or "destination".
495. Teme mata!
496. Not you again!
497. Korose (殺せ) is the imperative form of the Japanese verb korosu (殺す), meaning "kill!", "murder!", or "slay!". It is a command to cause someone to die, often heard in anime or dramatic, intense contexts.
498. Mona-kun! Doko da?
499. Mona-kun! Where are you?

500. Soredemo (それでも) is a Japanese conjunction meaning "even so," "but still," or "yet"
501. Yokata
502. I'm glad
503. Mona-kun, doshta na?
504. Mona-kun, what are you doing?
505. Nigeria!
506. Run!
507. Dare da te ne?
508. Who is it?
509. Maru da ningen da mitai da ne
510. He looks like an ordinary (perfect) human now
511. Mona-kun teme ka!
512. Mona-kun it was you!
513. Nee
514. No
515. Teme! Ore no Tenseiga nani shiageta (仕上げた)
516. Shiageta is the past tense form of shiageru (仕上げる), meaning "finished up," "completed," "polished off," or "got through" a task, project, or piece of work. It implies adding the final touches to bring something to completion.
517. What did you do to my Tenseiga (sword!)
518. Mona-kun o nioi da!
519. I can smell Mona-kun!
520. Ya to kita na, Mona-kun?
521. You've finally showed up, Mona-kun?
522. monda (もんだ) is the informal, contracted form of monoda (ものだ), a grammatical structure added to the end of sentences to convey emotion, nostalgia, or general truths. It highlights that something is natural, expected, or was a common occurrence, often translating to "used to," "should," or "of course"
523. Teme nani monda?
524. Who the hell are you?
525. Ya ta!
526. Got him!
527. He did it!
528. O suwaru!
529. Sit!
530. "Sheesh/Ugh" (ったく - ttaku): An exclamation of annoyance, short for mattaku (全く)
531. Ttaku, Mona-kun no baka!
532. I swear, Mona-kun is an idiot!
533. "hurry up and come back" in Japanese, the most natural phrases are 早く戻ってきて (Hayaku modotte kite)
534. Mona-kun, nano yo da.
535. Mona-kun, I know you're there.
536. Mada, kaeru desu ka?
537. You're leaving now?

538. Kusuri [o] motte [kita] dakara
539. I just came to bring you medicine
540. Kicke to watashi wa zenzen chigau
541. Kicke and I are nothing alike
542. Kicke janai
543. I'm not Kicke
544. Mona-kun yo, Mona-kun o kisu
545. Nanda
546. Whats wrong?
547. Gomenee
548. Sorry
549. Nigera
550. She ran away
551. Sore de ii
552. Fair enough
553. Kozo, sono katana o yokuze
554. Boy, hand over that sword
555. Okashi da!!
556. Oh no! The Chief!
557. Okashi da?
558. What has the Chief done?
559. Okashi wa?
560. Chief?
561. Ji-chan no shipai da
562. I'm worried about my grandfather
563. Nakereba (なければ) is a Japanese conditional phrase meaning "if [something] does not exist," "if [something] is not," or "unless". It is the conditional form of the negative verb nai (ない), acting as a fundamental component in expressing necessity, such as in nakereba naranai ("must do" or "have to").
564. Sore katana nantoka o watashi ga nakereba
565. I have to get that sword [and return it to him]
566. Kowaii ka, onda?
567. Are you afraid, woman?
568. Kore o sore katana ni
569. [Give] this sword to you[r friend]
570. "Henshiteru" is likely a romanization of 変してる (へんしてる), a colloquial Japanese phrase meaning "acting strange," "being weird," or "doing something strange." It combines hen (変 - strange/weird) with a shortened form of shiteiru (している - doing), creating a casual, often spoken, expression.
571. Key Breakdown
572. Hen (変): Strange, weird, odd, peculiar.
573. Shiteru (してる): Colloquial form of shiteiru (している), meaning "doing" or "is doing".
574. Sesshomaru-sama, doko ni owaru ni no de?
575. Lord Sesshomaru, where have you gone?

576. 逃げ去れ (Nigesare) is the imperative (command) form of the Japanese verb nigesaru (逃げ去る), meaning "run away," "escape," or "flee".
577. Mo yamete, Mona-kun!
578. Stop it already, Mona-kun!
579. Konaide (来ないで) is a Japanese phrase meaning "don't come" or "please don't come". It is the negative imperative (command) form of kuru (to come), often used in everyday conversation to ask someone not to approach or visit, frequently heard as kocchini konaide (don't come over here).
580. Konaide, baka!
581. Don't come over here, idiot!
582. Komatte issho ni!
583. They're in trouble!
584. Mona-kun komatte issho ni!
585. Mona-kun is in trouble!
586. "Wake up" in Japanese is most commonly okiru (起きる), which means to wake up or get out of bed. For telling someone to wake up, use the casual okite (起きて) for friends/family, or the polite okite kudasai (起きてください). For a firm command, use okiro (起きろ).
587. Key "Wake Up" Phrases:
588. Okite (起きて): Wake up! (Casual/Direct)
589. Okiro (起きろ): Wake up! (Imperative/Command)
590. Wakateru
591. I see that
592. Daijobu. Mirou dake
593. I just want to see [it]
594. Ore dewanai; Mona-kun ga
595. It wasn't me. Mona-kun [did it].
596. まだ だの Madada no
597. Not yet
598. Usage: Usually said to oneself or in response to a question about whether something is finished.
599. Mada (まだ) + Negative Verb/Adjective: Means "not yet" or "still not" (e.g., Mada tabemasen - I haven't eaten yet).
600. Mada (まだ) + Positive Verb/Adjective: Means "still" (e.g., Mada shiteiru - I am still doing it).
601. Mada da (まだだ) / Mada da yo (まだだよ): Means "Not yet!" or "Not finished yet".
602. Mada mada (まだまだ): Means "still a long way to go" or "not good enough," often used in a self-humbling or encouraging context
603. "Mada nano" (まだなの) means "Not yet" or "Is it not [ready/here] yet?" in Japanese.
604. To ask "Are you married?" in Japanese, the most common phrase is ご結婚されていますか (Gokekkon sareteimasu ka), which is polite and appropriate. A more direct way is 結婚していますか (Kekkon shiteimasu ka).
605. How to say "I'm married" (Married state):
606. 結婚しています (Kekkon shiteimasu) - "I am married".

- 607. Key Terms:
- 608. 結婚 (Kekkon): Marriage.
- 609. 夫婦 (Fūfu): Married couple.
- 610. 新婚 (Shinkon): Newlyweds.
- 611. Common Phrases:
- 612. Are you married? (Polite): ご結婚されていますか (Gokekkon sareteimasu ka).
- 613. Are you married? (Standard): 結婚していますか (Kekkon shiteimasu ka).
- 614. Just married: 新婚ほやほや (Shinkon hoyahoya).
- 615. Soremo ji-san wakari
- 616. They're all old men
- 617. Jiji da yo
- 618. You're an old man
- 619. Jiji-cha nai?
- 620. None of you are old men?
- 621. Jiji janai / jiji janai yo / jij janai dayo
- 622. I'm not an old man
- 623. Jiji janai?
- 624. You're not old?
- 625. Kieta
- 626. She disappeared
- 627. Yappari yume ka?
- 628. It was a dream
- 629. Ikou, Mona-kun
- 630. Let's go, Mona-kun
- 631. Doko ni iku?
- 632. Where are you going?
- 633. Tatsukeru
- 634. Help me!
- 635. Sonna
- 636. Come on
- 637. Ore ni nani ka yoka?
- 638. What do you want with me?
- 639. Ja ma suru o na da?
- 640. Or else what?
- 641. Are wa... nani ka shira?
- 642. Look at that... I wonder what it is?
- 643. ...Ningen!
- 644. It's a human!
- 645. Ittai nani?
- 646. What's going on here?
- 647. Koko wa?
- 648. Where are we?
- 649. Are wa?
- 650. What's that?

- 651. Itai ita
- 652. There he/she/it is
- 653. Mona-kun wa... onda wa doshta?
- 654. The Mona-kun-woman, where is she??
- 655. Nani koko?
- 656. Where am I?
- 657. Oji-san wa?
- 658. Who are you old man?
- 659. Chigau!
- 660. No such thing!
- 661. No!
- 662. Daijobu ka? Ja Mona-kun mo?
- 663. Are you ok? What about Mona-kun?
- 664. Baka yo Mona-kun wa
- 665. Mona-kun, you're an idiot
- 666. Dare ga baka ga tte?
- 667. Who are you calling an idiot?
- 668. Naite nai!
- 669. I'm not crying!
- 670. Naiteru!
- 671. Yes you are [crying]!
- 672. Shinda na
- 673. Now he's dead
- 674. Hai kore
- 675. This is for you
- 676. Mona-kun ni wa
- 677. And for Mona-kun
- 678. Kore mine o
- 679. It's mine
- 680. Mona-kun wa?
- 681. Where's Mona-kun?
- 682. Mona-kun worry na?
- 683. I'm worried about Mona-kun
- 684. Mona-kun worries a lot right?
- 685. Tu ni worry de Mona-kun?
- 686. Tadaima, tsuini [kaette kita]
- 687. I'm finally home
- 688. Tu wa para hunt riapoke?
- 689. Omae ni fuerte vita quier.
- 690. Tradition wo inherit yo ni shikonda (shikonderu).
- 691. I raised you to inherit our traditions.
- 692. Mo daijobu da yo
- 693. It's ok now
- 694. Isoide, Mona-kun

695. Hurry, Mona-kun
696. Honto da, hayaku
697. It's the truth. Hurry!
698. Osokatta ka?
699. We're too late?
700. Chigau
701. You're mistaken
702. Omae ni nani ga wakeru?
703. What do you know?
704. Ese wa quier-oh ni natte feliz.
705. He wanted you to become happy
706. Tijd aprender?
707. Ese wa tijd ireh a aprender?
708. Kicke dato?
709. Kicke, you said?
710. Dutch
711. Die poatan–hem en ze moeder
712. Da = there
713. Red tijd = red when
714. nee veel guthix bro = nah, lots of guthix bro
715. nu kan ik geen sets sellen = now I can't sell any sets
716. vad heter han = what's his name?
717. of ik met rune cold griendebeben = whether I'm with rune cold griendebeben*
718. gearr je dan = are you cold then?
719. Wie = who?
720. als tie on is berich me = message me when he's online
721. Swedish
722. Han dom var = he was there
723. Random
724. [E] のほうが好きです (E no hou ga suki desu) - I prefer E.
725. [E] のほうがいいです (E no hou ga ii desu) - I prefer E / E is better.
726. [E] のほうが好みます (E no hou ga konomi desu) - I prefer E (more subjective taste).
727. 1. Comparison ("Side")"Hou" is frequently paired with the particle no (の) to compare two things, meaning "the ... side is more...".Example: コーヒーの方がいい (kōhī no hō ga ii) = "The coffee [side] is better" or "I prefer coffee".2. Direction or AreaIt refers to a general direction, part, or area.Example: 右の方 (migi no hō) = "Toward the right".Example: 駅の方へ行く (eki no hō e iku) = "Go in the direction of the station."3. Method or Way"Hou" can also mean the manner or process of doing something.Example: やり方 (yarikata) = "Way of doing" or "how to do".Example: 方法 (hōhō) = "Method" or "process".Other Potential MeaningsDepending on the kanji, "hou" can have entirely different meanings:法 (hō): Law, method, or rule.報 (hō): News, report, or information.方 (kata): When read as kata, it can be a highly polite suffix used to mean "person" (e.g., kachō-san).

728. "Where are you going?" in Japanese is most commonly どこに行くの? (doko ni iku no?) for casual situations or どこに行きますか? (doko ni ikimasu ka?) for polite situations. "Doko" means "where," while "ni" marks the destination.
729. Waam ni ireh
730. Shiru (知る): To know/realize (verb).
731. Shitte iru/imasu (知っている/知っています): "I know" (I am currently in a state of knowing).
732. Shiranai/Shirimasen (知らない/知りません): "I don't know".
733. Wakarimasu (分かります/判ります): To understand/comprehend. Used when you know or grasp a concept
734. The most common Japanese word for rumor is 噂 (うわさ - uwasa), which refers to rumors, gossip, or hearsay. It is frequently used in daily conversation and can function as a noun, a suru verb (to gossip), or a no adjective. Another, more formal term is 風説 (ふうぜつ - fūzetsu).
735. [お知らせ] (Oshirase): Specific, often personal or organizational, bits of news (e.g., a change in schedule, a notice).
736. [報道] (Hōdō): Official news reporting via media outlets (newspapers, TV, news sites).
737. [消息] (Shōsoku): News regarding someone's current status or whereabouts, often indicating word from a person (e.g., "no word from them").
738. [発表] (Happyō): A formal announcement or release of information (e.g., new product, official statement).
739. [報告] (Hōkoku) / [告知] (Kokuchi): Notification of something. Hōkoku is a report on events, while Kokuchi is a public announcement or notification of something upcoming.
740. Subete no koto
741. Everything
742. Nante (なんて) is a common Japanese, conversational particle used to express surprise, admiration, contempt, or understatement, often meaning "such a thing as," "what," or "how". It is used to emphasize a preceding word or phrase and frequently implies a negative nuance or disbelief, though it can also be used for humble or dramatic flair.
743. Also a Korean show
744. Emphasis/Disbelief: ~ nante shinjirarenai (I can't believe [something] like...!).
745. "What a...": Nante kawaii (What a cute...!).
746. Modesty/Downplaying: Used to make light of oneself or a situation.
747. Nante ne (Just joking).
748. Informal "What": Used to mean "what" in casual questions, e.g., Ima nante itta no? (What did you just say?).
749. "Itsumo Nando Demo" (いつも何度でも), famously the ending theme to Studio Ghibli's Spirited Away, means "Always, No Matter How Many Times" or "Always, Again and Again". It highlights themes of resilience, hope, and an enduring, comforting presence, often translated as "Always With Me".
750. Ima
751. Now

752. Hottoite
753. Leave me alone
754. Ochi
755. Punchline
756. Chūshin (中心) is a Japanese word meaning center, middle, heart, or nucleus, representing the core of a physical object, location, or abstract concept. It is commonly used to describe the center of a city or the focal point of a situation, frequently used in the phrase ~o chūshin ni (centered on).
757. De?
758. Is that right?
759. Nani mo nai / nai yo / nai
760. I don't have anything
761. "Ii desu ka?" (Is it okay?)
762. "Nan da na" (なんだな) is an informal Japanese phrase meaning "it is," "it turns out to be," or "it is that," often expressing realization, surprise, or an explanatory tone. It is a contraction of na no da (なのだ), often highlighting that something is the case.
763. Misete (見せて) is the -te form of the Japanese verb miseru (見せる), meaning "show," "display," or "let me see". It is frequently used to ask someone to show something, often in the phrase misete kudasai (show me, please).
764. Shabasa (しゃばさ/シャバさ): Unsatisfactoriness, boringness, or lack of excitement. Shabai (しゃばい/シャバい): An i-adjective used to describe something or someone that is boring, uncool, pathetic, or unsatisfactory. It is sometimes used to describe an environment that lacks excitement. Shaba (娑婆/しゃば): The root word, meaning "this world" or "the real world". It originates from Buddhist terminology referring to this corrupt world of suffering. In common slang, it is used by people in prison, the military, or strict boarding schools to describe the "free world" outside.
765. "How about..." in Japanese is commonly expressed as [Topic] はどうですか (wa doudesuka). This phrase is versatile for making suggestions, offering items, or asking for opinions (e.g., 明日はどうですか - Ashita wa doudesuka / How about tomorrow?)
766. kiri (きり) most commonly translates to "fog" or "mist" (霧), or the "paulownia tree" (桐)
767. Kiri wa, aquel
768. The mist is that
769. 癒やされました (iyasaremashita): The most common, polite way to say it. Use this for general conversation, on social media, or when talking to acquaintances (e.g., "The trip was healing" or "The nature was healing"). 癒やされた (iyasareta): The casual, plain form. Use this with close friends or family. Vocabulary Breakdown: 癒やす (iyasu): To heal / to soothe / to relieve. 癒やされる (iyasareru): The passive form meaning "to be healed" or "to feel soothed".
770. Sonomichi = path
771. Michi = park
772. もしそんなことをしたら、俺はバカな奴になってしまう。(Moshi sonna koto o shitara, ore wa baka na yatsu ni natte shimau.)

773. もし (Moshi) Meaning: If / Supposing. Function: It is placed at the start of a sentence to signal that a hypothetical or conditional statement is coming. そんな
774. こと (Sonna koto) Meaning: That kind of thing / Doing that. したら
775. (Shitara) Meaning: If [I] do. Function: This is the conditional form of the verb suru (to do). Combined with moshi, it creates the "If I did..." part of your sentence. 俺は
776. (Ore wa) Meaning: I / As for me. Function: Ore is a casual, masculine pronoun for "I". Wa is the topic marker particle. バカな
777. (Baka na) Meaning: Idiot / Foolish / Stupid. Function: In this context, it modifies the following noun to mean "an idiotic person" or "a fool." 奴
778. (Yatsu) Meaning: Guy / Fellow / Thing. Function: A casual, slightly rough way to refer to a person. Combined with baka, "baka na yatsu" means "an idiot" or "a fool." になってしま
779. (Ni natte shimau) Meaning: Will end up becoming. Function: Ni naru means "to become." Te shimau is a grammatical ending that implies a negative, regretful, or unintended outcome (e.g., "unfortunately end up as").
780. "Watashi mo omae to onaji desu." (Translation: "I am the same as you.")
781. "Onaji kuruma ga hoshii." (Translation: "I want the same car.")
782. Shinu hodo dou demoii
783. I don't care
784. Karessidekita
785. Kareshidekita
786. I've got a boyfriend
787. Uso da!
788. Usoda
789. No way! You're lying!!
790. Hontodayo
791. It's true
792. Shinjirarenai
793. I can't believe it...
794. Monodatta
795. It used to be
796. Tomodachi o dameda
797. We can't be friends.
798. Dameda
799. It's no good; unable to do anything.

Philosophy

1. Pretend you're speaking to Wan himself! That is the Powhatan language. A conversation with our ancestors and a safe place for their descendants.
 - a. Wan's full name was Cuttere Windg.

- b. Wan was a linguistic pentester, able to discern a European's country of origin by spotting subtle tells—small slips revealed through certain linguistic tricks.
 - i. To test if they could speak French properly, he would say, “Que showse instead of ‘kel’ showse,” and then later, he’d say, “kelshowse.”
2. We [can] use Latin verbs and phrases from Spanish (pasameh), Galician (chamarino), and Portuguese (chamah) freely; consider that Wan would have naturally discovered, or had even already heard most of these words in his life.
 - a. It appeared he was trying to discern what Nationality the European who was writing down the Powhatan language.
 - b. Wan also left instructions for how to reconnect with the rest of the Japanese if any members of the tribe happened upon the dictionary later.
3. We [can] use Japanese verbs and phrases.
 - a. Taking liberties with modern Japanese verbs like ‘pokeru’ (from the noun ‘Pokemon’) and the Powhatan word ‘macherew’—instructions from our ancestor, Wan, to recover and re-link with the rest of the Japanese in the Confederacy.
 - b. Just like with Spanish and its -ar, -er, -ir verb endings, we can verbify anything Japanese by adding the verb stem ‘-eru’, or ‘-erew’ directly from Powhatan, to the end of it.
 - i. Janguear (from Puerto Rico) vs. Hangeru (from Japan) vs. Hangするsuru (from Japan).
 - c. Powhatan makes heavy use of the ‘masu’ tense from Japanese due to the presence of the word ‘paihmasuw’ in the Powhatan dictionary; the only gerund in the dictionary.
 - d. Powhatan [can] use Japonic grammar: SOV (Subject-Object-Verb).
 - e. Powhatan uses は, which is part of the Algonquian language.
4. Considering how much Wan used, fluently, British slang like “cuppah” and knew enough English to express phrases like “pack a second one,” written as “pacussac-an[one]” in the Powhatan Dictionary—in reference to a gun—we continue to speak and enjoy a lot of English half a century later.
 - a. English eventually became the official language of the United States of America.
5. The base vocabulary comes from what can be mined from the Powhatan dictionary compiled by William Strachey, with vocabulary from a total of 13.5 languages:
 - a. Algonquian, Old Tupi, English, German, Dutch, Danish, Old Norse, Spanish, Portuguese, Galician, Italian, French, Japanese, Korean, and Chinese.

6. We include Old Norse into our language as our Viking ancestry supersedes any modern European identity we may obtain.
 - a. At one point, even England had Old Norse as its official language. This demonstrates our unevolved, or chronologically frozen, state as descendants of the first Europeans who discovered and founded a colony in the Americas.
 - b. A Powhatan speaker could, theoretically, slip into Icelandic fluently.
7. High Valyrian is also included to demonstrate the Powhatan language's component-driven architecture's flexibility.
8. It isn't uncommon for a Powhatan to slip in and out of traditional Powhatan speech with each other, and, fluently, languages like Japanese, Icelandic, or whichever flavor of Latin they prefer.
9. Some Powhatans specialize in Latin, Japanese, and Old Norse (Icelandic) separately (haven't had any contact with each other or the other Powhatan's particular language of choice).
 - a. We all speak English.
 - b. The Powhatan dictionary is our single source of truth.

Culture

1. The Powhatans are Japanese people that developed amongst Indigenous Americans independently of the rest of the Japanese people from their island.
2. The Powhatans are the descendants of Vikings who survived the Newfoundland Colony we founded in 1021 AD.
3. Powhatans fuse Japanese, Indigenous American, West Indian, and Viking identity.
4. Our name comes from the Old Tupi word for 'stone'.
5. Our clan name, the 'Powhatan Mayos' comes from the Mayo Aztec tribe in Mexico.
6. Before European contact, we were the Kings of the West Indies and the Gulf of Mexico.
7. We spoke Mayan, and, in modern times, have recent ancestry from Tabasco, Mexico.
 - a. The Powhatan Numbers system possibly meant that language fluency was only for the upper class.
 - i. The subject of the dictionary, Wan, appears to have had his job or roles assigned to him, or inherited, at birth.
 - b. The subject of the dictionary was fluent enough in human speech in order to gain fluency in multiple other languages. OR, he was concealing his mother tongue and his degree of fluency from the interviewer while dropping obvious clues in case any of his own tribe came across the interviewer or his notes.

Goals

1. How many people can we become mutually intelligible with at once?
2. From how many people can we obscure our speech when in public?
3. How to best sanitize and censor our language to remove obscenities.
4. How can we optimize our language to give our tribe the most optimal human experience?
 - a. Document (memo) and update the rest of the tribe.
5. Polyphonic, cross-linguistic resonance: every line is simultaneously a puzzle, a poem, and a song. A listener fluent in just one language hears a coherent phrase, while someone fluent in two or three languages perceives layers of meaning, echoes, and playful puns.

Explanations

We only use loanwords for things that didn't exist during our ancestors' time. So we will not use the Powhatan, Old Norse(Icelandic) nor Japanese words, or equivalent, for "store" or "pancakes"; or for unique, untranslatable cultural experiences.

1. Sisu (Finnish) = more than courage and grit
2. Saudades (Galician) = the feeling of longing for someone you may never see or speak to again
3. いただきます Itadakimasu (Japanese) = Let's eat; used before eating a meal to express gratitude to the one who made it.
4. -eru to make new Japanese verbs. Pokeru from pokemon + -eru. Used in Japanese and Powhatan (macherew, enemy; pokeru, to do something Pokemon related)
 - a. You should be able to speak Japonified Powhatan without revealing the actual language by just doing matcheru, but Spanish verbs fit great with Japonified Powhatan.
 - b. The tenses are: -masu (present), -masen (negative present and past), -te (past tense and matches Spanish imperative tense), -teiru (gerund, is somewhat mutually intelligible with Portuguese), -nai (negative imperative).
 - c. Japanese doesn't have a dedicated future tense.
5. Desu です from Japan, if you want to sound more Japanese. Although, the correct verb to replace it with is sein or etre.
6. Ka from Japanese to form questions; can be replaced with the Powhatan Cua to give the language a more Jamaican sense.

7. -masu for present tense & gerunds (from: paihmasuwh)
8. Pancake from English, a famous example from Japanese.
9. The language itself is best spoken as though you are swimming through Germanic, Latin and Japonic style speech (grammar).
 - a. French, English, and Old Norse go together well.
 - i. Li fenetre ist open.
 - b. Japanese, Spanish/Galician/Portuguese tend to fuse well.
 - i. Cake wo comerá.

Become Fluent in Powhatan In One Day

Introduction

Powhatan is (leer: can be) mutually intelligible: met English, Japanese, aand dialects de Vulgar Latin: Spanish, Portuguese, Italian, Galician aand French.

In Powhatan we use the North Dakotan Algonquian usage of the Native American particle “wa”; desu or whichever equivalent you prefer from any of the languages in our dictionary, provided everyone can understand you; and, finally, daru—the matcheru’d (matchqueo!) version of the Japanese participle ‘da’.

Indigenous dictionaries pair well with Japonic grammar. Algonquian and Japanese share the same particle: wa; we primarily use Japonic grammar:

<https://www.japanesepod101.com/japanese-particles/>.

We use, primarily, a de-coded, and updated with modern vocabulary from its many loanwords, a sanitized and censored version of the Powhatan dictionary.

You may also enjoy the rest of the Algonquian dictionaries, but they may contain obscenities or words with obscene European etymologies.

You may also enjoy the dictionaries of our ancestors:

1. Old Tupi (from where we get the word Powhatan).
2. Mayo (from where the name of our clan originates, the Powhatan Mayos).
 - a. And, by extension, the Aztecs and their culture and languages.
3. The Arawakan language, which was the language of the Gulf of America and the Caribbean Tainos.
4. The Choctaw language, whom we have an oral history of separating from prior to European contact.

Otherwise you can just write Germanic (English, Germanic, Old Norse, Icelandic) or Latin (Spanish, French, Italian, Portuguese, Galician) grammar with the standard Powhatan transliteration.

We also use Chinese Characters, Kanji, Hiragana, and Katana alongside the Latin script and numerals.

Instructions

Japonic grammar jumps from particle to particle, like beats of 1, 2, and 3: wa, o, and desu or da. W-O-D.

Examples

Valhalla, in Norse mythology, is a majestic hall in Asgard, ruled by the god Odin. It is a place where warriors who die in battle are honored and welcomed, preparing for Ragnarok, the end of the world.

Valhalla no Norse mito ga majestic hall no Asgard deshkaa reinado por el dios Odin. Weihskies wa soldaats shinu no batalha ga honorado und velkommen – preparando para Ragnarok, el fin del mundo deshō.

Li Valhalla wa ke magnificent cua um ‘hall’ na the realm of Asgard o soldat cu tsepaih na battle llegar-sein. Weiskis wa paradise da glory and honor o soldat mecher, tomar, und combatir para deporte para Ragnarok training-daru. Norse wa mounshaqwatah o para ches cu tsepaih bravely na combat. Lis Powhatan tem blod da Finland da Tribe Beothuk da Newfoundland, Canada; la li blod Viking. Na lio dicionario Powhatan ta li mot “eik” para lis trees, um mot da Old Norse. Odin wa Asgard o kogurinn sind.

We use the participle “ka” or the Powhatan “cua” to form questions.